

NOTES ON THE TINGLE FAMILY,

Worcester County, Md.
-----

The first settler bearing this name, in what is now Worcester County, Md., was Hugh Tingle. He was doubtless from Scotland, judging from his Scotch name, the fact that he was a Presbyterian, the names of his plantations, and other similar circumstances. He came to the Colonies while a young man and settled in what was then a part of Somerset County, near the present Delaware-Maryland line, "within a mile or two of Fenwick's Island." His name has not been found in any ship's list, neither does it appear in any list of headrights, which indicates that he had some means and was not transported at the expense of a wealthy planter, as many other immigrants at that time were.

His first appearance in the records was on December 21, 1683, when he married Elizabeth Powell, daughter of Walter and Margaret (Berry?) Powell. She was born in Virginia, about the year 1665, and taken to Maryland by her parents before the birth of their second child (Mary), which occurred at Pocomoke on Jan. 30, 1669.<sup>1</sup> The marriage

1. Walter Powell was one of the highest class of early settlers in Somerset County. He was a Quaker. His home was on the north side of the Pocomoke River, on a tract of land called "Greenfield," near Morumsco Creek. He owned several other plantations there and on the seashore. He died in 1696 and left a will naming six children, among whom was John Powell, who lived in Northampton County, Va., married a daughter of Captain Argall Yeardley, and was a noted citizen there. The Worcester County Powells are the descendants of Walter and Margaret Powell. One of their daughters (Margaret) was married to Henry Schoolfield.

was performed by "Mr. Traile, minister."<sup>1</sup>

Hugh and Elizabeth Tingle appear to have lived, at first, on part of a tract called "Powell's Inclusion." The record of its survey in the Maryland Land Office reads:

"Powell's Inclusion," 256 acres, surveyed May 2, 1686, for Walter Powell; back from the seaboard side. 128 acres possessed by Hugh Tingle in his wife's right; the residue by Walter Evans.<sup>2</sup>

Walter Evans was Hugh Tingle's brother-in-law, having married his wife's sister, Mary. Walter Powell, in his will, gave these two daughters this tract and other land.

Although the record of the death of Walter Powell's wife is said to read "Margaret Powell alias Beere," the compiler ventures to suggest that even though it may read thus (he has not himself examined it), it may be erroneous. The same records also call her Mary. One reason for suggesting such a doubt lies in the fact that there is a record of the marriage of Walter Powell and Margaret Hudson, Jan. 25, 1657, at the Church of St. Bene't and St. Peter, Paul's Wharf, London (Publications of the Harleian Society, Parish Registers of this church). Moreover, Nicholas Hudson bought part of two tracts of land called "the Exchange" and "the Middle" from Walter Powell, but died before getting a conveyance; and, on Feb. 10, 1679/80, Powell made a deed for the same to Violetta and Elizabeth Hudson, the orphans of Nicholas. Later, Wm. Powell, son of Walter, appears to have married Elizabeth Hudson, for his wife's name was Elizabeth and he had land bearing these names.

1. William Traile was a pioneer Presbyterian minister who was sent over to aid Makemie in his work. See the account of him in Bowen's Days of Makemie.

2. Md. State Land Office records, Liber I, p. 142.

A few years later, Hugh Tingle Purchased from Thomas Fenwick (for whom Fenwick's Island was named), a tract of 200 acres, called "Dumfries," lying in the north-eastern part of what is now Worcester County and near Fenwick's Island.

July 18, 1693. Deed, Thomas Fenwick and Mary, his wife, of Somerset and Province of Maryland, of ye one part, and Hugh Tingle, of ye sd County and Province of the other part; conveys 200 acres of the tract called "Dumfries." Witnesses, Robert Pirrie, Thomas Morris. 1

The following shows the tracts of land charged to Hugh Tingle on the "Debt Books" of Somerset County, so far as extant:

That Hugh Tingle was a substantial and respected citizen is shown by a number of circumstances, such as certain affidavits made by his neighbors, after his death, relative to the boundary dispute between Maryland and Delaware, quoted in Vol. 16, 2d series, Pennsylvania Archives:

1. Records of Sussex County, Del., Liber L, folio 104. The balance of this tract, 360 acres, was sold by Fenwick to Joseph Robinson, Philip Parker and Charles Parker, of Accomack County, Virginia, and conveyed to them by deed dated June 19, 1694; witnesses, Samuel Hopkins and Wm. Round; Liber L, folio 286, Sussex County records.

Depositions with reference to the settlement of the boundary line dispute between Delaware and Maryland (Penna. Archives, Vol. 16, second series, p. 669).

David Hazard, of Maryland, Planter, aged 73; and this deponent further saith, that it was rumored as long as he can remember, that there was a tree on Fenick's Island, in which there were brass nails drove, as it was said by some Dutch who landed there and claimed it as their land; and that he was told by an antient man, of good credit, named Hugh Tingle, who lived within a mile or two of Fenick's Island aforesaid, that the said nails were drove into the said tree in the form of a horse shoe, but does not remember that the said Tingle said he ever saw the said tree, etc.

Same reference, p. 672. Deposition of Brickurs (Brickhouse) Townsend, of Maryland, aged 33:

That deponent has heard his father say, that old Hugh Tingle told him, there was a tree on Fenwick's Island, which had eight brass nails drove in it, and was supposed to be the boundary of the land to take up the country, etc.

On May 10, 1709, Hugh Tingle witnessed the will of Charles Rackliff, of Somerset County.

He made his own will April 28, 1723, and it was proven, at Snow Hill, Aug. 22, <sup>1733</sup>~~1737~~, showing that he d. in the summer of the last named year. His wife survived him about ~~nine~~ THIRTEEN years. Her will was dated May 18, 1740 and proven July 19, 1746. Synopses of the provisions of these two wills follow:

HUGH<sup>2</sup> TINGLE (Hugh<sup>1</sup>), son of same, was called the eldest son, in his father's will, which probably meant that he was the eldest then living. According to a muster roll of Worcester County militia commanded by Captain Joseph Miller, March 28, 1749, he was a corporal in that company. In 1755 the following lands were charged to him on the "Debt Books" of Worcester County:

Scottish Plot - - - 100 acres
Parker's Denial - - 400 "

Nothing has been learned about his family, if he had one.

He survived his father only a short time. His will was dated Dec. 12, 1737 and proven Jan. 18, 1737/8. In his will he mentioned the children named below. The will was witnessed by

Daniel Tingle, William Richards, and Hugh Tingle. (HUGH TINGLE<sup>1</sup> DIED IN 1733)

Margaret Tingle about the year 1702 or 1703, when he was about

30. His name appears frequently on the Somerset County records. He was a large land owner. He and his wife had at least nine children. Margaret Hudson's unmarried sister, Elizabeth, appears to have lived with them; or at any rate, in 1751, she made a deed of gift to Margaret Hudson for the following effects:

1. Md State Land Office, Wills, Vol. 21, p. 833.

1 feather bed,
1 puter dish,
1 earthen pot,
1 woolen wheel,
1 pair fire tongs
1/2 of her hogs
200 pounds of pork, which was at the house of Daniel Tingle,
1 cow and calf,
2 heifers,
1 chest and contents,
1 linen wheel,
1 tankard
1 frying pan,
1 parcel of earthenware; and all her wearing apparel

This was witnessed by John Evans and Henry Hudson

On Nov. 25, 1734, Richard Hudson and Margaret, his wife, made a deed to Hugh Tingle (junior), for the tract called "Scottish Plot," in consideration of 15 pounds, "current money of the province." This appears to have been the plantation which Hugh Tingle sen. called, in his will, "Layfield's Lot," and which he divided equally between his two daughters,
Margaret Hudson, Sarah A. Collins, and Elizabeth Tingle.

Richard Hudson made his will Dec. 5, 1762 and it was proven for probate March 2, 1763, showing that he d. about February in the latter year. Margaret Hudson administered on the estate. Nothing has been found to show the time of Margaret Hudson's d. The proceedings on the estate show that she was left in comfortable circumstances.

The following shows the names of their children, but not necessarily the correct order of their ages. The exact date of birth of only one of them has been learned. The will and estate are remarkable for several circumstances, one being the earliest mention of negro slaves. The number of Bible names among the children is also remarkable, especially the singular one of Ananias.

12. Samuel,<sup>3</sup> b. 17.. m. Mary Newton, dau. of 16 Job and Comfort Newton. In 1717 he was named among the owners of land in Pann's Manor, Cedar Creek 100, Sussex County, Del. He d. in 1757, leaving a will by which he gave his estate to his granddaughters. If he left any sons, their names do not appear. His wife appears to have survived him several years. In 1759 she was living with Levin Davis, and he executed a bond to "provide her with a good house and sufficient meat, drink, clothing, washing and lodging suitable for such a person, during her natural life; also to keep her from any charges that shall accrue on her account against the parish or county wherein she now resides, according to the terms of the agreement between them dated March 16, 1759." In July of the same year, she seems to have made a change, and a similar undertaking was executed to her by Isaac Brittingham. There is no further record of her.

CHILDREN.

- I. Winifred<sup>4</sup> Hudson; m. to Mr. Mumford (James?), and had at least two children:
  - I. Mary<sup>5</sup> Mumford.
  - II. Esther<sup>5</sup>
- II. Percy<sup>4</sup> Hudson; m. Solomon Walter. He made his will Sept. 27, 1767, and it was proven March 14, 1768, at Snow Hill. Their children were:
  - I. Esther<sup>5</sup> Walter.
  - II. John<sup>5</sup> Walter; m. Comfort..... Made his will March 21, 1788, probated May 3, 1788; which contained the following curious provision:
    - "Knowing that I must shortly put off this earthly tabernicle, do make and ordain this my last will and testament.
    - "First, I humbly recommend my sole into the Hands of God that Gave it and my Body to the Earth from whence it came stedfastly Believing the Resurrection of the Body and everlastly Life to all true believers in Jesus Christ; and Everlasting Distruction to all wicked and unbelieving Sinners. My Dear wife and children, flee from the wrath to come and pray to God that he may assist you for Christ's sake," etc. Son:
    - I. Isaac<sup>6</sup> Walter.
- III. Solmon<sup>5</sup> Walter.
- IV. Rachel<sup>5</sup> "

17.

13. Solomon<sup>3</sup> Hudson, b. 17..; was taxed in Worcester Parish, as a bachelor, in 1756, showing that he was 40 or more before he m. He was a member of the Old St. Martin's Church, and owned a pew there in 1761. He m. Esther Bravard, dau. of Adam and Mary Bravard. She was a half-sister of Rachel Hudson, wife of Solomon Hudson's brother, John. Solomon Hudson was a large land owner. In 1778 his name appears in a muster of the Worcester County militia, in Capt. John Evans' company. He made his will Feb. 8, 1786, and it was probated on May 29th of the same year. His wife acted as executrix. The personal estate was appraised at over 289 pounds. Two of the children were minors at the time of his death. Their children were:

- I. Thomas<sup>4</sup> Hudson; was the head of a family, according to the first census, taken in 1790, with a wife, one child, and eight slaves. This is the only record.
- II. Benjamin<sup>4</sup> Hudson; m. Elizabeth Williams, dau. of Evan ESAU Williams; license issued at Snow Hill March 25, 1796. Probably the same Benjamin who m., 2d, Sarah Cropper; license issued, at Snow Hill, Jan. 25, 1817. The census of 1820 and 1830 shows him living in Worcester County, with several children; but their names have not been learned, and it is believed this family left the Eastern Shore, probably went West.
- III. Margaret<sup>4</sup> Hudson; perhaps the Peggy Hudson whom Henry Hudson took out a license to m., at Snow Hill May 7, 1799. No further information.
- IV. Mary<sup>4</sup> Hudson; m. to Samuel Lockwood, before 1786. He was the son of John Lockwood and Sarah Holland. They settled in Dagsborough 100, Sussex County, Del. Samuel Lockwood's will dated Jan. 21, 1802 and probated Oct. 12, 1807. Their children were:
  - I. Armwell<sup>5</sup> Lockwood
  - II. Benjamin<sup>5</sup> "
  - III. William<sup>5</sup> "
  - IV. Samuel<sup>5</sup> " (Scharff's History of Delaware states that Samuel Lockwood operated a grist and saw-mill, located at Lockwood's Mill Dam, in Dagsborough 100, in 1816. It passed to William Lockwood, who ran it until 1837.
  - V. Zipporah<sup>5</sup> Lockwood.

V. Isaac<sup>4</sup> Hudson, b. 17.., was probably the Isaac Hudson who took out a license, at Snow Hill, Nov. 27, 1804, to m. Sarah Gwan. He was also, perhaps, the same Isaac Hudson who appears as the head of a family in Little Creek 100, Sussex County, Del., in the census of 1810, as follows:

Males:	Under 10	- - -	2
	16 to 26	- - -	1
	26 to 45	- - -	$\frac{1}{2}$	4
Females:	Under 10	- - -	1
	10 to 16	- - -	1
	16 to 26	- - -	$\frac{1}{2}$	$\frac{3}{7}$

No further record of this family has been found.

VI. Adam Bravard<sup>4</sup> Hudson was a minor when his father's will was made. At the October court, 1790, Esther Hudson, guardian of Adam Bravard Hudson, presented her first account, and she was discharged at the October court, 1792. This shows that Adam was b. about 1771.

May 21, 1796, John Postly, as attorney for Adam Bravard Hudson, made a deed to Benjamin Hudson for the tract called "Addition to Middle Branch," 133 acres, "which land was devised to said Adam Bravard Hudson by the will of Adam Bravard, dated Nov. 9, 1782." There is no further information regarding Adam B. Hudson, and he had probably gone west at the time he gave John Postly this power of attorney. In fact, the whole family (i.e., the children of Solomon Hudson) appear to have emigrated.

~~14.~~ Martha<sup>3</sup> Hudson, dau. of Richard and Margaret (Tingle) Hudson, was m. to (William?) Walton. Her estate was appraised, in Worcester County, March 13, 1744, by Isaac Marshall and Matthew Purnell, at 38 pounds 16 s. 5 d. The "nearest of kin" were stated to be William Walton and Richard Hudson. It is not known whether she left any children.

19.
15. Henry<sup>3</sup> Hudson, son of same, m. Rhoda Tingle, at St. Martin's Church, May 26, 1751.

In 1761 Henry Hudson was one of the wardens of St. Martin's church, and owned pew No. 7, with his brother, John. In 1778 he was a private in Capt. John Evans' company of Worcester County militia. He lived on a plantation called "Pattey's Discovery," which he purchased from Powell Pattey in 1754. He also bought, from Moses Freeman, the tract called "Freeman's Choice." In 1790 he was the head of a family in Worcester County, consisting of four free white males of 16 years and upwards, one ditto under 16, and three white females. He also owned at that time two slaves.

Henry Hudson made his will Nov. 7, 1794 and it was probated on Feb. 13, 1795. His wife was living when the census of 1790 was taken, but was not mentioned in the will, and seems to have been d. Three of their sons (Richard, Ananias, and William Hudson) were m. and living on lands given them by their father. The youngest (Henry) was not mentioned in the will, for what reason is not known. That there was such a son is shown by the fact that at the February term of the Orphan's Court, 1795, Henry Hudson, orphan of Henry, aged about 15 years, was bound to Richard Hudson to be taught "the business and occupation of a farmer." Two other children not mentioned were John, the eldest son, who appears to have pre-deceased his father, and Leah, who apparently died young. The dates of birth given are taken from the St. Martin's records. B. DEC. 29 1754

Children of Henry and Rhoda (Tingle) Hudson

1. John<sup>4</sup> Hudson, b. Aug. 22, 1756. He m. and was the head of a family, in Worcester County, in 1790, consisting of 5 males under 5, 1 of 16 and upwards, and one female. He was a member of Capt. Dale's company of Worcester County militia, "Sinepuxent Battalion," July 25, 1780. He appears to have d. in 1792; for on Aug. 17 in that year, Nehemiah Davis, Littleton Robins, and Robert Hudson gave bond to William Hudson, orphan of John, in the sum of 250 pounds; and William Hudson, being above the age of 14 years, made choice of Nehemiah Davis for his guardian. Five or six years later the records show that Purnell Porter was his guardian, and by order of court conveyed the estate into the hands of Robert Hudson and Thomas Rigby.

At the April court, 1796, Walter Hudson, orphan of John, aged about 12 years, was bound to Levin Jarvis, to be taught common labor.

The following are supposed to have been the Children of John and ..... Hudson.

- I. William<sup>5</sup> Hudson, b. about 1778; was the head of a family in Worcester County in 1800, 1810 and 1820; but the particulars have not been learned.

His will, dated Aug. 19, 1840 and proven Jan. 24, 1842, left his entire estate to his sister, Elizabeth Layfield. The witnesses were John S. Martin, Sally C. Trehearne, and Rebecca P. Martin. So far as known, Milby Hudson was never married.

III. Walter<sup>5</sup> Hudson, b. ab. 1784; was probably the Walter Hudson who appears in the census as the head of a family in Sussex County; in 1830 in Dagsboro 100, and in 1840 in Baltimore 100. He was a farmer and had a large family, but their names have not been learned.

IV. Elizabeth<sup>5</sup> Hudson, b. April 25, 1787; she was m. to ..... Layfield. She d. March 19, 1870, according to the inscription on the monument at her grave, in the cemetery at Pocomoke City, Md.

V. Joshua<sup>5</sup> Hudson, b. about 1780-90. In 1830 he was the head of a family in the Third (Northern) District of Worcester County consisting of one male between 40 and 50 one female between 20 and 30, and one female 70 and 80. In 1850 Nancy Hudson (supposed to have been his widow), aged 45 and Joshua Hudson, aged 14 (supposed to have been her son), were living in the family of John Gray, in the same district. Child of Joshua and Nancy Hudson:

I. Joshua<sup>6</sup> Hudson, b. 1836.

II. Richard<sup>4</sup> Hudson (son of Henry and Rhoda (Tingle) Hudson), was a member of Capt. Dale's company "Sinepuxtent Battalion," Worcester County militia, July 25, 1780, of the first class. A license was issued, at Snow Hill, March 10, 1800, for his marriage to Polly Collins. He appears in the census of 1800 as the head of a family, but in 1810 Polly Hudson was the head, indicating that he was d. Besides the three sons named below, he and his wife had six daughters, whose names have not been learned.

Children of Richard and Polly (Collins) Hudson.

I. Rickards<sup>5</sup> Hudson, b. about 1805; was the head of a family of four, in the Northern District of Worcester County, in 1830. No further particulars have been learned.

II, Philip<sup>5</sup> Hudson, b. about 1795, m. 1st, Mary Marriner. On Feb. 12, 1839, he took out a license, at Snow Hill, to m. Sophia Fisher; and on Dec. 7, 1852 another to m. Matilda Fisher. He appears in the census as the head of a family in the Northern District of Worcester County from 1830 to 1870. His occupation is variously stated as Laborer, farmer, and boatman.

He had several children, among whom were:

- I. Maria<sup>6</sup> Hudson, b. 1822; was a member of the family of Stephen Fisher, near Bishopville, in 1850, aged 28, and unm.
- II. Jane<sup>6</sup> Hudson, b. 1833; was m. to Mr. Hammond and had at least one dau.:
  - I. Martha<sup>7</sup> Hammond, b. 1857.

- III. John<sup>5</sup> Hudson (son of Henry and Rhoda (Tingle) Hudson, m. Comfort... (Jones?).. He lived in the Berlin District and was a farmer and boatman. He and his wife had several children:
  - I. Rickards<sup>6</sup> Hudson, b. 1832; was a sailor in 1850; no further record.

16.

John<sup>3</sup> Hudson, son of Richard and Margaret (Tingle) Hudson, was b. Oct. 10, 1719. He m., 1st, about 1747, Elizabeth ..... She d. and he m., 2d, on Dec. 3, 1759, Rachel (Ironshire) Ayers, dau. of Isaac and Mary Ironshire. Her first husband was Harrison Ayers, to whom she was m., at St. Martin's Church, Aug. 13, 1753. They had (as shown by the St. Martin's records) the following children:

Isaac	Ayers,	b. Aug. 20, 1754.
Mary Ann	"	b. Oct. 15, 1756.
Comfort	"	b. Oct. 20, 1758.

Harrison Ayers made his will April 28, 1759, and it was proven June 6th following.

Mary Ironshire was m. a second time, to Adam Barvard; among the children of Adam and Mary (Ironshire) Barvard was Esther Bravard, who became the wife of John Hudson's brother, Solomon Hudson.

John Hudson and his family were Episcopalians and members of the old St. Martin's Church. The births of three of their children are recorded there. In 1757 he was churchwarden; in 1758 and 1759 vestryman; in 1761 owned pew No. 5, and was vestryman; in 1762 he was reelected vestryman; and on Sept. 6, 1763, he was appointed inspector for the Newport warehouse.

In 1778 he was a member of the Worcester County militia, in Capt. John Evans' company. Nothing has been found to show that he saw active service as a revolutionary soldier.

He was a farmer and lived on his plantation near the present town of Berlin. In an old document he is called a cooper.

He was a man of means and a large land owner. His father give him by his will the tracts called "Lowe's Choice," 100 acres on Indian River, and 25 acres called "Rumbly Marsh." He bought land and took up other tracts, one called "Hudson's Adventure," another called "Chance," and one called "Industry; also, with Adam Bravard, a tract called "Friendship." From James Wainwright he purchased part of "Bachelor's Hall." In 1756 he paid taxes on 71 acres, and in 1774 (the last year for which there is any record) 330½ acres.

John Hudson made his will Sept. 27, 1782 and it was admitted to probate Feb. 13, 1783; he died Jan. 6, 1783, aged 63 years, 2 months, and 26 days. He was a substantial and useful citizen. His personal estate was appraised at more than 800 pounds.

Rachel Hudson made her will Dec. 23, 1806 and it was probated Feb. 27, 1807, showing that she died in the last named month. The wills are too long to copy here.

DANIEL<sup>2</sup> (Hugh<sup>1</sup>) TINGLE, son of same, was ensign of the company of Worcester County militia commanded by Capt. John Evans, in 1748.

The name of his wife has not been learned. The names of some of his children have been gathered from his mother's will. On May 9, 1735, Daniel and Elizabeth Tingle witnessed the will of John Holland, of Somerset County. This Elizabeth might have been Daniel's wife, but was more probably his mother.

← Only Caleb and Mary are mentioned. The Daniel Tingle mentioned is the son of Hugh and Elizabeth (Powell) Tingle.

In 1761 he and his son, Caleb Tingle, owned pew No. 4 of the old St. Martin's Church. He was churchwarden there in 1753, 1754, 1755, and 1757.

- Sons, Daniel, James, Elijah, John, and William.
- Daus., Sarah Tingle and Margaret Smith.
- Grandchildren, Edward, Elizabeth, Daniel, and Caleb Dymock, children of William Dymock.
- Wife, Elizabeth.
- Son John to be executor.

His wife survived him nearly nine years. Her will was dated Nov. 12, 1806 and proven Dec. 24 in the same year. <sup>RECORDED IN LIBER MH 1804 AT SNOW HILL</sup> It mentioned:

- Daughter, Sally Covington.
- Grandson, Isaac Covington.
- Son-in-law, William Covington, to be executor.
- Granddaughters, Mahala Gray; Nancy and Polly Tingle, daus. of James Tingle, deceased; Elizabeth Dennis Tingle, dau. of her son, William Tingle; Elizabeth Rackliffe Tingle, dau. of her son, Daniel Tingle; and Betsy Powell. GRANDDAUGHTER
- Mentions Peggy Gray (kinship, if any, not stated):
- Witnesses, John Postly and James Truitt.

The first census of the United States, taken in 1790, for some reason does not show Caleb Tingle as the head of a family in Worcester County, although he was living there. But the next census, taken in 1800, shows Elizabeth Tingle as the head of a family in Poquedenorton 100, as follows:

JOHN TINGLE. A John Tingle was transported into Virginia by James Williamson (Greer's Early Virginia Immigrants). The records of the Maryland State Land Office at Annapolis show that John Tingle was one of the headrights of Edward Prince, June 15, 1670. This was probably one and the same person, but there is nothing to show whether he was related to Hugh Tingle, nor in what county he settled; but it was evident not Somerset.

ARTHUR TINGLE was one of the creditors of the estate of William Richards of Worcester County, Dec. 5, 1754.

ANNIE N. TINGLE, dau. of Elias and Margaret Tingle, of Frankford, Del. was m. to Elisha Hudson, son of Isaiah and Mary A. Hudson, Nov. 15, 1905, by Rev. G. W. Hastings. Elisha Hudson is a truck farmer near Selbyville. They have a son, Wilber Hudson, b. in 1907.

SOLOMON TINGLE was a member of the Company of Worcester County militia under the command of Capt. Joseph Miller, March 23, 1749.

MILLARD F. HUDSON

Millard F. Hudson, the chronicler of 'Notes on the Tingle Family of Worcester County, Maryland', was intensely interested in genealogy. From his letters and writings it is evident that he was a literate and well read gentleman.

Unfortunately little is known about him. In a letter to the Maryland Historical Society written by his daughter, Mrs. Alice Hudson Wittwer, shortly after his death on 27 January 1937, she stated that her father was born in 1861.

He was the son of William C. Hudson who was born about 1829 in New Mount Pleasant, Jay County, Indiana. The latter was the son of Joshua Hudson born about 1803 in Randolph County, Indiana.

His early life is a mystery. Not until June 1896 does his name appear when he wrote from 530 California Street in San Francisco. At some point, apparently, he went to Washington, D. C. and became employed with the federal government.

In a letter to my aunt, Mrs. Paul A. Seeger, written on stationery of the United States Senate in July 1911, it would seem that he was developing an interest in his family roots. What type of employment he had in the Senate is unknown. Seven years later, August 1918, he again wrote to her, this time on stationery of the Federal Trade Commission, Washington.

He was elected to membership in the Maryland Historical Society in November 1923 and thereafter pursued an active interest in the history of the coastal counties of the Delmarva Peninsula. His last correspondence with my aunt was in August 1925 when he wrote from 1115 Twelfth Street, N.W., Washington, obviously not realizing that she had died three months earlier.

Millard Hudson, then in his retirement apparently, became a prolific supplier of genealogical records to the Maryland Historical Society. He compiled cemetery records of Sussex County, Delaware, which were published in the Society's magazine, volume 32, 1937, as well as tombstone inscriptions in Worcester County, Maryland, volume 22, 1927.

In 1931 he prepared and had copyrighted, a manuscript containing a list of 'Heads of Families in Worcester County, Maryland' taken from the first federal census in 1790. It would appear that most, if not all, of his works were donated to the Society.

The letter from his daughter, Mrs. Wittwer, following the death of her father, indicates that it was written from Brookmont, Maryland which is in Montgomery County just across the line from the District of Columbia. He lived at 6104 Ridge Drive.

Compiled by J. Seeger Kerns
9 July 1986, Baltimore, Md.

P. S. Apparently a fire, perhaps in his home, destroyed many of his genealogical papers. This is mentioned on page 718 of Volume II
