

B-Beeps Down 2nd Spot Girls

The girls' basketball intramural program has come to a close. The final whistle sounded as the Team of Pat Burns was on top. The team, known as the Beep-Beeps, had six wins and one loss. Other hard working team members were: Barbara Deater, Sandy Gechtman, Diane Menendez, Maureen Burns, Kay Tranthan, Jo Ann Papazian, Evelyn Roudenbush, and Gloria Killingsworth.

The Beeps team came out on top but the Scorpions were close behind. With captain Myrtle Meeker guiding them to a 5-3 record, the group placed second. The Scorpions are: Nancy Bottin, Pat Jetner, Dreda Cribb, Karen Walton, Judy Rodgers, Linda Parker, Camy Thornton, Jean Gypp, and Sandy Powell.

These intramural programs are preparing for the Basketball Sports Day coming on February 6 at Jackson High School. The girls taking the most active part in the intramurals, are allowed to try out for the team. Anyone who thinks that it is a cinch, is mistaken.

The hopefuls try out every day during the week. They run, pass, dodge, guard, shoot, rebound, make plays and learn the real skills of the game. Girls are cut, just as in the boys' games, until the best ones remain. They, in turn, battle among themselves for positions on the A and the B teams. These teams then represent Hialeah High at the sports day tournament. The tournaments last all day with schools from the district participating in the games.

In past years Hialeah has come out in a top position. With Miss Dolores Jordan as coach, the girls is are working hard to whip into shape another winning team.

Gym Unusual Place to Explore and Notice

Day in and day out students roam the halls of Hialeah High. Almost all of them at one time or another amble down gym way. It would be interesting to note how many have ever noticed the unusual things that they see all the time.

Have you ever noticed . . . The white thoroughbred painted in the center of the gym? The way the girls interested in sports always wear red and blue and attend the games regularly? The way girls interested in the basketball games(?) watch the team practice? The way all the physical education teachers are ever careful? The busy hum of business that seems always to be going on at the gym? The new type of music to which the students learn to dance?

Have you ever noticed that you feel twice as cheerful after you leave the gym?.

New Leaves to Be Turned

By Jerry Greene

When Howie first heard the little voice in study hall, he figured that five years as a senior had finally cracked him up. However, it turned out that this mysterious little voice was Howie's conscience.

"Howie, you have been goofing off much too long. In fact, you were born goofing off. Now is the time for a change!"

"Don't bug me, man!" replied Howie.

"Listen, you dope," said Howie's conscience, "The first semester exams came back, and you didn't pass one of them. You might have passed physical education, if you had spelled your name right."

"Is it my fault if I get confused easy? I could have sworn that George Washington discovered America!"

"Howie, you are in bad shape. Starting today you are turning over a new leaf. PUT THOSE LEAVES DOWN AND LISTEN TO ME! Now, you are going to spend the night at home and study your government."

"Hey, man!" said Howie. "Dig that blond cheerleader sitting over

New Jackets Useful

The cold weather is welcomed by many on the varsity football squad. This cool time gives the new letter men a chance to wear the glossy jackets while still being considerate in the realm of being sensible.

there! Nice, huh? Her boy friend is a real toad, too. He wouldn't be any competition if I was to ask for a date tonight. Howabout it, conscience ole' buddy? Do we stay home tonight and study that government jazz or do we paint the town with the doll?"

"Government? What government? First thing we do is find out if she has a conscience as cute as she is."

Gymnasts Whirl 'Snappy' Tricks

The Girls Gymnastics Team of Hialeah High is preparing a group routine to be presented between the competitive numbers of the boys. The participating members are Judy MacMillen, Judy Seeber, Joyce Whitley, Diane Curtis, Barbara Weber, Sandy Weber, Heather Andrews, and Betty Wolfe.

The little plastic hoop known to all as the hula hoop will be used for some "snappy" tricks to make an amusing program for the viewers.

The girls have been meeting after school, but they feel a lot more could be accomplished if they had a sponsor. If you know of anyone who would be interested in being a sponsor, the girls would appreciate your letting them know.

Impossible Seems Likely at H.H.S.

What's with this game of softball? It used to be a man's game. Then the ladies formed their own teams. A combination seemed impossible. But H.H.S. has done the impossible once again.

The leadership classes of Miss Quinn Kelley and Mr. Sal Susi have combined for the unit of softball. The one time jeers and shouts of ridicule have turned into cheers and encouragement. If passing the field any sixth period and you hear a shout of "you throw just like a girl," don't take it too seriously, maybe he is.

HAVE YOU LOST YOUR HEAD?

Miss Kelley reports that while she was out with her class playing softball, she kept seeing a head bobbing in the air. What in the world could this have been? Was it sun-stroke? No it was cool that day. Could it be figures of a long lost past? No. Not in Miss Kelley's. Well, then, just what was it?

Upon investigation, the physical education teacher found the bobbing heads belonging to the girls exercising on the trampoline in Miss Alliene Swain's class. Wait till they start doing flips. Watch those feet!

WHAT'S IN YOUR PAST?

The mid-semester is a breaking point, a time when the teachers find out what you have learned and what you will have to learn. The student thinks back to what he has done and evaluates himself.

A student of leadership could claim a world of new and used knowledge. Such things as party making, golf, bowling, and co-ed softball would be a list of one class while square dancing gymnastics, tennis and bowling could be acknowledged by the other. Basketball, volleyball and football were also played by both.

Talkative Soul Doubtful Fan

The night of that big game is here. The gang is picking me up at 6:30. We don't want to miss a minute of either game. Got to hurry, or we'll have to stand again. Oh, here's the gang, come on and you'll get introduced.

Here we are and I'm so excited. It is just as if I were playing the game myself. Good, just in time to see the J.V. game. Quick, there are some good seats right here, grab them. Ahh, all set for a good lively game. What? Did you say you were a little crowded? Well, you'll just have to learn that that comes with the game. Say, look over there, it's Bill and Jane. See? No? Look at the "No Smoking" sign and then come down three rows and to the right five people. No do you see them? Wonderful! Hey . . . did I tell you?

Well, what do you know? The Varsity is on the floor already? Isn't that No. 13 cute? And look at that tall one. I wonder if he goes with anyone? Look, there's . . . four bits, a dollar . . . Yea . . . Bob. Oh, my. Yes, I heard about that. Let's go out for a second; it's halftime.

Come on, I just heard the whistle. Gee, it's stuffy in here. Why don't you take off your coat? Goodness, I just dropped my purse. Would you mind crawling through the bleachers and getting it for me? It's over to the left, right under where that teacher is sitting. Thanks a lot. Hey, that's the game. Over kind of soon, isn't it? I don't think they did too well tonight. They were definitely off.

By the way, can you tell me who won?
