

FHA Bake Sale Provides Funds For Delegates

F.H.A. is now planning another big bake sale. There will be cookies, brownies, and other baked goods on sale. All the members will participate in the baking.

February 17, the Future Homemakers are going to have their second pot-luck supper, which will be a work meeting. The members are to bring cookies and brownies which they baked at home and then, they will be sold at school.

The money collected will be used to send delegates to the F.H.A. convention, at Clearwater, Florida. The convention will be held in April and the delegates will stay at the Hotel Harrison.

Among the club's previous functions recently held, was the F.H.A. bar-b-que slumber party, held in the latter part of January. Such goodies as bar-b-que ribs, cokes, pickles, potato chips, besides of course the necessary food for breakfast.

The affair was held at Mary Haas' home in their private bar-b-que house. Eating and sharing individual experiences made the occasion one to remember for F. H.A.

New Constitution And Officers Set Up by ICC

The Inter Club Council, which was organized by the Student Council at their third meeting, on January 27, elected new officers.

The officers elected were: Chairman, Ronnie Caylor; Co-Chairman, Sherry Dunn, and Secretary, Angel Simonetti.

At the next meeting this hard working group will try to set up a constitution so that the club will have a stronger organization.

"The attendance at the last meetings was not favorable, but with the officers and the new constitution," stated Ronnie Caylor, chairman, "we hope this problem will quickly be solved."

Aqua-Teens Sponsors Party

What's that? Sounded like room 804 was being torn apart. Oh! It's only the football team at a surprise party. What party? Why the one given by Aqua teens for the football team to show their appreciation of the hard work a football season brings, in the latter part of the first semester.

And that team was a bellowing one awful. Why? Heard tell 'cause there were two "hicks" from the sticks putting on a regular "Cat On A Hot Tin Roof" show. The characters in the skit were Rose Camus, alias Maw, and Sandra Lindsey alias Lucy Mae.

Aqua teens then served refreshments of cake and punch, for the enjoyment of everyone.

ENJOYING THEIR OWN PREVIOUSLY BAKED GOODS, are: Daviene Trowell, Sonja Karasik, Sandy Wryles, Pat Drake, and Faye Guffey, members of Future Homemakers.

N. H. S. Receive Membership Cards

A sigh of relief could be heard from many top H.H.S. students, as the word seeped out that the long-awaited National Honor Society membership cards had arrived.

Although the cards will denote officially the membership of Hialeah "top-notch" students into N. H.S., these students have previously displayed outstanding qualities of leadership, character, and service, as well.

Not only have these qualifications made it possible for these students to be added to this honorary club, but they also have given N. H.S. the distinct position it has achieved in Hialeah. Much of which credit, should likewise be given to its successful sponsor, Mr. Lester Wright.

H. H. S. Girls to Observe Nurses

This spring, two members of F.N.A. will go to Jackson Memorial Hospital and there be assigned, each to a student nurse, for a day and a night. For this length of time, the girls will accompany the nurses, observing and assisting in all of their activities.

Because only two girls will be permitted to go, the members are eager to know which ones will be selected. Qualifications for the event are dependent upon scholastic achievement and merits acquired in the club.

Quill & Scroll Initiates by Candlelight

As the first semester drew to an end, the first official initiation of 1959, was carried out by the journalism honor society of Quill & Scroll. Impressive, as well as symbolic, was the traditional candlelight ceremony which initiated each honorably chosen journalist.

Preceding this well-planned function, which took place at the home of the club's sponsor, Mrs. Alfreda Miller, new officers were chosen, with the position of President, Donnie Dewhurst, Vice-President, Brenda Wooton, Secretary, Julie Bullard, and Treasurer, Pat Curtis.

Following the business part of the evening, refreshments were served for the enjoyment of all.

HHS Famed Trio Entertain Many

Hialeah's Tri-M trio, once again has brought fame to H.H.S. as they were vocalists at the Coral Gables Musician's Club, February 7.

The trio consisting of Bobbie Sellers, Sandy Weigand, and Judie Mason, sang a madrigal, "Now Is the Month of Maying, Ora Pro Nobis, and Lift Thine Eyes."

Also, in the early part of February Tri-M were privileged to have the honor of serving as ushers for "Jose Greco", the famed Spanish dancer, who made two performances at the Dade County Auditorium.

BITS N' TIPS

A little sunshine peeps through the gloom of the celebrated "Big Bopper's" death when we think of our own "Big Bopper" — Carlton Smiley, whose "Hello, baby!" delights us all.

Imagine the look on the face of a waitress at Frank n' Bun's when eight H. H.S.'ers (female species) drove up and ordered hot fudge sundaes—at 5:30 in the morning! Not to mention any names, I wonder if Debbie Prettyman, Delphine Rimbart, and Beverly Jernigan had nuts on their sundaes?

Two of the RECORD'S unsung heroes are Sandy Lee and Robert Pellizzi of first year journalism.

Sights of Ye Hallowed Halls:

Pat Kotsch scuffling around in a waste paper basket . . . Wonder how she got there?! Barney Evers eating a double-decker potato chip sandwich. Charles LeDoyen hobbling bravely down the stairs, sporting the first black eye of spring football practice. Danny Harbolt wandering around the halls carrying a little black case—shades of Jack the Ripper! More fun than a "barrel of monkeys" is Tony Cocco being interviewed by RECORD staffer, Brenda Wooton. Seems as if all our clever sayings

FNA Welcomes Girls Eager For Nursing

Directors of student nurses at Jackson Memorial Hospital gave a talk about the entrance requirements to the Jackson School of Nursing, at a meeting of the FNC.

The future nurses recently visited a convalescent home in Hialeah, where they gave gifts to all the patients for Christmas. They plan to continue visiting the home throughout the year and will give each patient a gift on his birthday.

Any girl interested in becoming a nurse or in any field of medical work is welcome at the meetings, which are every Wednesday in room 406.

vanish when confronted by an inquisitive reporter armed with notebook and pencil. How come?

Lou Moran suddenly develops a trick knee at the most inconvenient times; Charles Chastain, alumnus, distrusts women drivers; (Maybe Sally Morris could enlighten us!) Donna Jedlicka goes crazy every other Friday?

Welcome Back:

Welcome back to one of Hialeah's "lost sons, Randy Miller. By the way, Randy, we're not crazy around here—it's the rest of the world that is!

Anchor Installs And Initiates

Anchor's traditional initiation was held Sunday, the first day of February, at the Miami Springs Methodist Church.

Among the honored guests were Mr. Everett Pease. Mrs. Thelma Damewood, from Anchor's Mother club, the Miami Pilot Club, spoke, concerning the standards of the club.

Those newly privileged to obtain membership into the club were: Sheila Bennet, Betty Bucko, Nelda Byran, Peggy Chessman, Jean Deptula, Judy Frazier, Val Fendley, Marie Godfrey, Joyce Grassman, Mary Gray, Connie Reynolds, Ruth Tate, Lyndol Touchton, Jackie Weede, and Mary Ann Gillespi.

Wearing nice dresses, with hats, and gloves, these H.H.S. girls were officially initiated into the club. Also, the new treasurer, Kathie Varner, was installed into her new office.

Each new member was given a corsage of yellow marigolds tied in green and yellow ribbon, the traditional Anchor colors. Refreshments were served by Susan Charles, president, Miss Ann Combs, sponsor, and Bill McIver, last year's shipmate.
