Kelley Chosen to Sponsor New Sparkling Cheerleading Squad

A new sparkling cheering squad consisting of eight seniors and four juniors has been selected for the 1959-60 squad.

Seniors are Annette Beaubain, Gloria Goldberg, Pat Kotsch, Sandy Kraczyk, Gerry Noone, and Virginia Seamons. The junior leaders are Madeline Barber, Janice Fisher, Nancy Hines, and Becky Laws.

These girls were selected on the basis of scholastic ability (A's and B's one C is allowed) personality, voice, coordination, and character which are all essential to represent the proud tradition of all H.H.S. cheerleaders.

Attractive sailor-type uniforms used the past year and short easy to manage hair will be the styles for the next year.

These twelve girls were chosen by Miss Dolores Jordan, who has done a wonderful job these past years with the squads, Miss Quinn Kelley, the new sponsor for 1959-60 who states she "has quite a big job ahead of her," and the seniors who were cheerleaders this past year.

FFA Winners of Many Contests

The Hialeah chapter of the Future Farmers of America left for South Dade Florida on April 17 to compete in an all day contest and meet with other senior high school F.F.A. chapters in their area. This contest held annually, and this year it was held in the South Dade High School auditorium, which is in a rural district.

Hialeah High School's F.F.A. chapter, for the second year straight, walked away with the majority of the high contest honors. They entered four major contests and three minor contests. From these, they made a grab of three first places in three of the most sought after events in the contest, which was more than any other chapter in competition. Hialeah's honorable and worthy competitions were: Miami Edison, Jackson, North Miami, South Dade, and Pompano senior high schools.

Not only did the Hialeah F.F.A. chapter take three first places, but also made extremely high placings in all the contests that they entered.

Some of these contests were: Harmonia contest, quartet contest, parliamentary contest, tractor contest, horseshoe contest, and softball contest.

Sigrid Is Chosen Spirit of Y-Teens

At the last ICC Y-Teen meeting May 4, the one girl out of 800 Y-Teens who best fulfilled Y-Teens goals, who truly represented a Y-Teen was announced. Sigrid Tobiason, HHS senior Y-Teen and President of Dade County Y-Teens was that one girl. She was presented with a charm bracelet stating "Spirit of Y-Teens."

Thespians Busy In Dramatics

Ask any Thespian and he will tell you, "The world is a stage." But the Thespians of H.H.S. agree that their lives are more like a 3-ring circus.

Although spring is in the air this busy little club has no time for spring fever. With the Senior play over one would think Thespians would take time out to rest. But they decided to sponsor the annual one-act play contest, which was held on May 9, by the Dramatics Classes.

At a meeting on the 29, newly elected officers took over duties immediately. The new officers are Laura Likins, president; Mike Willis, vice-president; Michelle Donnelly, secretary; and Angel Simonetti, treasurer.

Quill and Scroll Installs Eleven

Hialeah High's chapter of Quill and Scroll held its second semester initiation, Monday, June first.

Six were chosen from the annual staff, which is also in charge of page six, 59ers of the newspaper. The lucky ones were: Kathie Varner, editor; Judy Frazier, Charlotte Keyes, Sandy LaTourette, Sandy Weigand, and Dave Ryan. From the paper staff, the five honored ones were: Leonard Teel, Bonnie Adkins, Robert Pellizzi, Jerry Greene, and Sandy Lee.

The formal candlelight initiation was held at President Donnie Dewhurst's home. The pledges received their membership cards and pins.

Vice-President, Brenda Wooton said, "Like most club initiations, Quill and Scroll's was no exception; it was an inspiring installation and I hope more journalists next year will work toward their 1,000 lines. Although we don't do much, it is considered mostly an honor to be in Quill and Scroll, rather than a service club."

BRAVO FOR BEATNIKS!

Not only did the Key Club Beatnik Ball provide the expected blast, but its wild publicity stunts, such as John Burnett in a hula outfit, were really in Endsville. It was a perfect chance for H.H.S. non-conformists to exhibit their best unconventional form.

NEWEST UNSUNG JOURNALISM HERO

Art Lancour deserves all the credit he hasn't been getting for taking over the tedious and unpredictable job of Record photographer near the end of this year. Rain or shine—the pictures must be taken, and Art always complies.

BITS N' TIPS

Things we can do without next year: juniors and sophomores who skip on Senior Skip Day—if we have a Senior Skip Day! It might have been an absolute riot for those underclassmen who did attend, but it might not seem so great next year to '60 Seniors.

Tri-M Sponsors Music Recital

It has been an objective of M. M.M. since its organization, to sponsor a senior music recital. This year, they were fortunate to have had the opportunity to present to the student body and the community, free of charge, a program which was performed by the students who had been requested to perform, through a survey of the senior class.

The recital was held in the H. H.S. auditorium, Sunday, at 2:30 p. m., May 24. Those participating were, Don & the Starlites, possibly the Bongo Brothers, Bill Baughn, Bobbi Sellers, and many, many others. Music ranged from Hill Billy to classical.

Also on the program was the announcement of the recipients of the Modern Music Masters scholarships. The organization offers a $100 scholarship to an outstanding member, and a $100 scholarship to an outstanding member of the music department.
