

F. H. A. Select New Officers And Projects

H.H.S. Future Homemakers Club of America have just recently elected officers for 1958-59. The honorary position of president was bestowed upon Daviene Trowell; with Karen Eagen as Vice-President; Sandra Huff, President-elect; Pat Drake, Secretary; Barbara Hart, Treasurer; Faye Guffey, Historian; Sandy Wryals, Parliamentarian; Jane Russell, Chaplain, and Annis Lauderdale, Photographer.

Among the projects planned for this year are to take Christmas toys to the Negro children in Jackson Memorial Hospital, with Easter baskets for the children at Easter time.

Tri-M Students Cheer and Sing

"Hooray for Hialeah! Hooray for Hialeah!" Someone in the crowd was yelling, "Hooray for Hialeah!" And that "someone" was a group of enthusiastic chorus students from Hialeah High School who followed their team to the Stranahan game, via chartered bus.

Forty-eight students and Mr. Bill Inglis, choral director, boarded their bus in front of the gymnasium at 6:30 p.m. Friday night and cheered all the way to the game. Only choral students and their guests were permitted to participate, as this was a project of Modern Music Masters. Junior Rona Levine capably handled the chartering of the bus and the collection of the $1.40 charge per person.

Tri-M almost made a tragic mistake in their careful preparations; many failed to realize that the students going to the game to cheer and scream all night were the same ones that were scheduled to give a choral performance the next evening in the Hialeah High auditorium! But, being young gives a person many qualities which adults just can't fathom, the students came back as real "Thorbreds" and gave a marvelous performance.

Mr. Inglis, when asked to comment on the activities of his students, smiled, and stated emphatically, "Oh, they all had a wonderful time and everything went off just fine. But then, why shouldn't we have a successful weekend? These are students of Hialeah High!"

F. B. L. A. Installs 1958-59 Officers

Members of Future Business Leaders of America would like to thank their sponsor, Mr. Vernon Hall, for conducting the impressive installation of its newly-elected officers.

It commenced with a talk concerning the responsibilities each FBLA officer must accept with his office. Following this came a candlelighting ceremony with each officer pledging to fulfill the duties of her designated office.

Mary Haas was most honorably installed as president, with Marion Finch fulfilling the position of vice president. Ina Rutherford was elected secretary and Sandy Gechtman, treasurer.

With the installation of our officers, we hope to have started the club on the road to its most successful year," stated Sandy Gechtman with great anticipation.

Anchor Named for Their Outstanding Service

HELPFUL AND OBLIGING are Janice Moore and Myrtle Meeker, two enthusiastic Anchor members, as they are shown passing out the Anchor Cheer-Sheets at the football game.

Anchor is the symbol of "hope" and it is most admirably displayed in the Anchor Club of H.H.S. This club has been busy the first weeks of school spreading good will. They have acquired one of the highest ratings in the county for outstanding service.

Halloween was in her glory when Anchor gave a dance in her honor. Witches and goblins were here, there, and everywhere that night.

In trying to promote good school spirit they are selling voo-doo dolls and banners. Also, they have supplied the newer students of H.H.S. with cheer-sheets. But the latest and most important is the good grooming project. They feel by rewarding those who care enough to dress the best, others will soon follow their example. Also the sewing kits are now in the girls' restrooms.

A sneak preview of the projects yet to come, introduce to Hialeah many unique and outstanding ideas. Among these H.H.S. students will soon become acquainted with the new Anchor Road Signs, which will be placed in various locations of the school.

Also, Anchor proudly boasts of their presentation to the school of a sectional couch and curtains which will be placed in the Auditorium, the latter part of this year.

F. T. A. Attend State Convention

Four delegates represented Hialeah High School at the Future Teachers of America State Convention held in Daytona Beach. Mr. Victor Lozar, club sponsor, accompanied Mary Ann Worst, Eleanor Foster, Edward Walsh, and Judy Frey, as the group left for Daytona Beach during the first period Thursday morning, October 30. They arrived at the Hotel Princess Issena in the afternoon to find their rooms reserved in that hotel which was to be headquarters for the Convention.

Highlights of the convention were: a banquet Friday evening, and a workshop for the delegates; a workshop for the sponsors, and a final luncheon Saturday noon.

After having gained much information to help their F.T.A. club through for the year 1958-1959, the group left Saturday afternoon for home.

"We all had a wonderful time and are eager to start working for our club!" exclaims Mr. Lozar. Mr. David McDavid, who is also a club sponsor, had planned to attend the Convention, but his doctor advised against the trip.

Jr. Achievers Hold Meeting

City-wide Achievers Association met at the McAllister Hotel, November 2, 1958 in the Biscayne Room. The Achievers Association has several hundred members from the greater Miami area. Members meet on various different nights and learn the field of business and industry.

This meeting was held to explain what the association stands for, and to give the members a chance to meet the other members of the club. Refreshments were served expense free, afterwards a gab-session took place.

N. F. L. Seeks Student Support

National Forensic League of Hialeah High is in danger of losing its charter, because of a low membership.

Three years ago the debate club started off with a live, fast moving membership. It was fortunate in being one of 500 schools out of 14,000 to receive a charter.

N.F.L. offers students a chance to develop and use their speaking abilities. The organization holds regular debates and student congresses at various schools. This allows members to learn government workings and make many new friends.

By sending delegates to different contests and conventions throughout the state, the students not only derive experience but the school also gains honor and recognition.

Hialeah is a young school, and now is the time for it to develop tradition, in which clubs and organizations play such a great part.

"It would be a shame to lose the N.F.L., which is the only varsity academic competition in high school, but it is not necessary if enough interested and industrious people will do something," said Mr. Floyd Boice, sponsor.

Anyone interested in joining, please contact Mr. Floyd Boice, sponsor, in room 808, or any N.F.L. member.

Music Department To Attend Clinic

Each year, the many high schools of the state of Florida send delegates of their student body to represent them in the Florida Music Educators Clinic, at Tampa, Jan. 8, 9, and 10th. Members of the music department of H.H.S. are fervently working to memorize music for the mass concert given on the last night of clinic.

The positions opened to a quota of H.H.S. music students, include membership in Concert or Experimental Band, Chorus, and Orchestra. Members belonging to the Concert groups must have music memorized before leaving the county in which they reside.

Members belonging to the Experimental groups, do not see any music until they arrive at the clinic. Hialeah High students are required to know the Concert music, regardless of a position in Experimental.

If you were a paying customer at the November 8th concert sponsored by MMM, you are a contributor, helping to support one of your fellow students to represent Hialeah High.

Tri-M Serves All

Members of MMM again gave willingly of their time to help the worthy cause in the United Fund Drive, Sunday, November 2. Sandi Weigand, School Service Committee Chairman of Tri-M, served her second year as a high school coordinator for the Hialeah district.

The officials of the United Fund Drive have expressed their appreciation to the civic-minded members of Hialeah High School.

Along with its many rewarding projects and services, Tri-M have just recently tapped new pledges. Who for two weeks (from Oct. 29) will be seen singing, dancing, crawling, running, and doing many various other things, to complete their pledge period.

But as Jay Burke, a Tri-M Pledge states, "It will be worth the time, effort, and embarrassment, if I can become a member of the best Music Honorary, ever!"

CHEERLEADER SEES RED

Pat Kotsh's face was as red as her leotard at a recent J.V. game. On the words "All here for Hialeah, stand up and scream," that's exactly what she did! Looking into the bleachers, she saw a bright splash of red being waved vigorously to and fro—don't guess she'll bring her leotard to anymore games!

ONE FOR STEVERINO

I've a good answer for Steve Allen's famed "Question Man." The answer is: Doyle Peterson, Bob Hooton, a pair of garden gloves, a blindfold, and a lady's nylon stocking. The question might be: What constitutes an absolute riot?

BOYS DESERT

What's happened to the boys lately? They've joined up with us chickens, that's what! Seen executing a clever cheerleading routine were several members of the track team. Also, Honoria boosted its membership last meeting with the addition of Randy Harper, Phil Giberson, Mike Little, Bill McIver, and Bob Tafel. The

H.H.S. Organizes Speakers' Bureau

Speakers' Bureau, a new club, initiated by Hialeah High this year, has already begun to prove its merit. The club with Paul Donaldson as president is made up of people from H.H.S. who are interested in speech work.

This club has a double purpose. First it gives students a chance to better their speaking ability and secondly presents programs for various organizations. Members of the Speakers' Bureau have already presented programs on American Education for the Lions Club and the Kiwanis Club.

"girls" contributed some wonderful ideas.

SCOOP

Latest from the "main stairway sewing circle", is that Bob Ankrum has taken up magic. He amused Sandy Fitzgerald and Connie Barnes with a scarf trick until it was retrieved by owner, Judie Killough.

MISSING SOMETHING?

Missing this year from the halls of ivy, is the happy face of Joan Johnson. She's still laid-up in bed with her plaster bed jacket, so why not drop by, or send a line. Even though you don't know her, you'll acquire a worthwhile acquaintance.

COOL, MAN, COOL!

For some real cool jazz, be sure to listen to the T-Bred trio, composed of Paul Donaldson on the rocks, Richard Curwell on the toothpicks, and Jim Strickland on the milk cartons.

Mother Club Joins Honoria

One of the outstanding service clubs of H.H.S., Honoria, who is in the midst of introducing its new projects to Hialeah, has officially been joined with its highly respected Mother's Club the Hialeah-Miami Springs Auxillary J.C.'s (which stands for Junior Chamber of Commerce).

Both clubs remarked that they hoped to help or serve each other whenever needed, whether it be for a service or any necessary advice.

Honoria members, at the moment, with the help of their two industrious sponsors, Miss Shirley Jean Wright and Mrs. Jeanne Lugo, are preparing for their "Super" Car Wash, which will be held in November.
