

BB Day Comes In New Year

As the football season dips slowly into the past with its games and fond memories, the basketball season steps forward with all of its eagerness and anticipation. Not only on the boys' side of the fence does this change, but the girls go into basketball also.

The Passerettes, Court Crashers, Beeps Beeps, Globe Trotters or Have Ball Will Travel's can be seen dribbling, dodging, passing and shooting during the afterschool sessions of the courts, Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. The Despiriters, Scorpions and Split-up's may be seen practicing and improving their skills also.

Coaches Miss Dolores Jorden and Miss Quinn Kelley point out defects and weaknesses in the games of the girls and try to help them improve to become competent basketball players.

The intramurals are working, as in the past, to the goal of a sports day. This basketball play day will be February 6 at the Coral Gables High School.

The officials are out, too, getting their knowledge of the rules in working order. They officiate at the intramural games practicing for the games of the junior high schools' playday which they will referee.

Pat's Spirit Boosts H.H.S.

Patricanne Kotsch better known as Pat is distinguished by her outstanding school spirit which she so aptly displays as a cheerleader. When asked what she thinks of Hialeah she stated, "I think Hialeah is outstanding in that it has everything that a good school should have . . . clubs, sports, plays, dances and one of the best school papers in the country."

Pat's hobbies are the hula hoop and Gene Duffy, quarterback for Curley High School. Her favorite subjects are languages and home economics.

Pat's future plans include two years in Junior College and if possible a stewardess on one of the airlines. If Pat is as successful in life as she is around Hialeah's campus, then she has a great future.

Color Day Termed "Huge Success"

Hialeah High School had its colors displayed throughout the building on Wednesday, November 27. The day was set aside as Color Day and the students made it obvious!

With homerooms competing for prizes, the classrooms were dressed for the occasion in the familiar, loyal crimson red and royal blue.

In some rooms, Hialeah High was spelled with red and blue paper on the window shades. Signs, dolls, posters, and the school song was put in show cases. Everywhere there was red and blue but it was the day for that occasion and some homerooms really played it up big for that particular reason.

The whole day was one of high spirit, beginning with the pep rally and coming to a climax with Hialeah's victory over North Miami in the Orange Bowl.

The school day was concluded with the announcement of the homerooms in the different grade levels which had done the best jobs in decorating, and stressing Hialeah High spirit. Thirty homerooms had perfect red and blue dress.

The Senior homerooms placing first were: Mr. Joseph White, 804; and Miss Alleiene Swain, 709.

In the Junior section Mr. David Maxwell's homeroom captured the honor.

The tenth graders really displayed their red and blue but Mr. H. G. Melton, 404, and Miss Quinn Kelly, 313, top the winning list.

Homerooms worthy of honorable mention were: Seniors: Mrs. Daisy Royer, 810; Mr. Albert Haft 511; and Mr. Horace Olivers, 514. Juniors: Mrs. Edna Pettit, 505; Mrs. Margaret Reese 610; and Mr. Vernon Hall, 508.

Tenth grade: Mrs. Electa Griffin, 321; Miss Ann Combs, 806; Mr. George Chapman, 327; Mr. James Crutchfield, 414; Mr. David McDavid, 319; and Mrs. Bobby Webber, 503.

"The Play Is The Thing"

The curtain drops on another act of the play in leadership class. The actors take a deep breath before diving into another drama.

The past performance consisted of the tragedy of Golf and the satire tennis.

The heroine of the tragedy, Lady Quinn Kelly, struggled valiantly to keep Sir Golf on top, but the witches and dark noblemen of that class succeeded in taking over the Count and making him their own.

The satire tennis kept the spectators rolling in the aisles, especially the scene of the tournament. The leading part was played by Madame Alleine Swain, starring her 6th period class

Because the performances took place in an open air theater, the show went on as the weather went off.

Another remembered moment was that of the bus driving scene.

The star took a red and blue bus known as the Thoroughbred bus and proceeded to drive up one bump and down the other. The grand finale came when the star brought the bus home. It was parked in a large space surrounded with a fence with a quiet small gate.

The tension was relieved when the final foot of the bus squeezed in with an inch of space betwix and between the bus and the fence.

H. H. S. Presents Friendliest Pair At Pep Session

The two friendliest people in H. H. S. were chosen by the students' vote, and crowned at the final pep rally of the football season Wednesday, Nov. 25. The gym was packed with students sporting their Color Day, red and blue, and as the band played a fan fare and the ten top finalists walked out onto the gym floor, a sudden hush fell on the spirited crowd.

Miss Quinn Kelley, sponsor of G.A.A., called out the names of the runners up which proved to be Delphine Rimbart and Ronnie Caylor. Mr. and Miss Friendship were then presented. Miss Virginia Van Kessel and Mr. Bob Tafel received the friendship title.

Carolyn Pritchard, president of G.A.A., crowned the pair and then gave them their trophies and an additional prize of red sweaters.

The big trophy which was to go to the winning school of the football game was captured for the first year by Hialeah with the slim margin of 2-0.

Pictures Snapped In Modern Dance

O-o-o-la-la. Wow! Look at the crazy positions! These will be some of the remarks heard when students get a look at the pictures being taken of the modern dance class.

Miss Dolores Jorden, the modern dance instructor, is posing the girls while Miss Quinn Kelly, physical education teacher, is taking the pictures.

There will be group and individual pictures which the girls are paying for. A girl can have as many as she wants taken, according to the amount of money she brings.

Tennis Squad Opens Season

The H.H.S. tennis team is now in full swing. The practices have increased from one day to two days on the court, and the other is devoted to getting in shape.

The court days are Wednesday and Thursday at the Municipal Court, at 3 p.m. All persons interested are asked to contact Coach Jack Kasper. A special plea is sent out concerning the girls' team. To this date only two girls have reported out. Any girl who is interested in tennis and would like to play either on the team or just for her own enjoyment, should contact either Susan Charles, or Mr. Kasper.

The team will hold matches with other Dade County schools. It is hoped that H.H.S. will have a team of which it can be proud.

Mr. Fred Valentine, coach and player on the City of Hialeah tennis team, offers his assistance to the netters.

N. H. S. Banquet Initiates Many

A candlelight ceremony combined with the annual banquet of the National Honor Society was held December 11, in the banquet room of the Park Lane Cafeteria.

The main feature of the evening was the highly honored and distinguished initiation of the recently tapped H.H.S. pledges. Preceding this symbolic ceremony, the designated N.H.S. officers: David Mower, President; Sara Parise, Vice-President; Carol Albury, Secretary; and Mary Ann Worst, Treasurer, presented expressive and diplomatic speeches, introducing the new members to the many high qualities, as well as standards of this H.H.S. honorary organization.
