

Parents Invited To Confer

Parents and teachers will confer this Friday on their favorite subject, YOU. October 28 will be the first of the conference days set aside each year for parents to visit schools and teachers to discuss plans for their boys and girls.

Every teacher is sending invitations to ten of his parents to come at an appointed time for half hour conferences with him concerning future plans of that student.

Teachers are anxious to meet parents to learn the ambitions, aims, and perhaps hobbies of each student. There will be two conference days this year. Therefore, only about two thirds of the school population will have a chance to confer this year.

Since many parents attended one of the two conference days last year, they will not be invited again this time.

Students will be the happiest on that day since their parents will be going to school while the students may take an extra nap that Friday morning.

This year for the first time a nursery service will be provided for mothers and fathers who cannot leave small children at home. They will be taken care of while the conference with the parent and the teacher is in progress.

According to the Guidance Department which sponsors this program they hope to let the parents know that the school is friendly and interested in helping their children. That the school wishes to learn the student's hobbies and special interests... To understand the student's problems and difficulties from the parents' point of view. To understand the parents' dreams and ideals for their child. And to encourage parents to come to school later with both problems and suggestions.

Students Ask But Teachers Learn What Is Meant By Practicum

Many of you may be wondering what everyone is talking about concerning the practicum. This practicum is composed of various committees of which each and every teacher is a member. Students have been selected to work with the teachers on these committees.

These committees are working toward the school's accreditation which is coming up next year. The teachers are all taking a course at the University of Miami. They're studying Hialeah High School, pupils, subjects, and the physical plant. The instructor is Dr. Baker Hindman of the School of Education and the consultant is Miss Birdie McAllister, supervisor of science for the county.

This study group meets every other Tuesday from 3:30 to 5:15. The committees and their chairmen are:

Committee B: Population of School Community, chairman, Mrs. Jane McShane. Committee C: Educational Needs of Youth, chairman, Mr. Robert Mohr. Committee D: Program Studies, chairman, Mrs. Beatrice Anthony. Committee E: Pupil Activity Program, chairman, Mr. Thomas Heaps. Committee F: Library Services, chairman, Mrs. Ruth Bradley.

Committee G: Guidance Services, chairman, Miss Joyce Chick. Committee H: School Plant, chairman, Mr. Tom Barringer. Committee I: School Staff and Administration, chairman, Mrs. Angeline Skipper.

Committee J: Data for Individual Staff Members, chairman, Mr. W. S. Moore.

The members of committee D which has program studies as their project are as follows:

Chairman, Mrs. Beatrice Anthony, Mrs. Lorene Miles, Mrs. Mary Watts, Mr. Charles Earnest, Mr. Curtis Patterson, Mr. George Sirianni, Mrs. Jane McShane, Mr. Bill Ingliss, Mr. Cromer, Mrs. Lois Deerman, Mr. James Bailey, Mr. Sal Susi, Miss Dolores Jordan, Mr. Thomas MacDonnell, Miss Janie Long, Mr. Marvin Goff, Mr. A. M. Haft.

The various students who are to serve have not been officially notified as yet.

Red Cross Divided

Last year, the Red Cross was one big organization, (7, 8, 9, 10 grades). This year there will be a Junior Red Cross (7th-8th grades) and a senior Red Cross (9th, 10th, and 11th grades).

New officers for the seniors are: President, Linda Thomas; Vice-President, Judy S.; Secretary, Marion May; Treasurer, Dennis Baker.

For the juniors, officers are: President, Patricia Curtis; Vice-President, Patrick Carnevale; Secretary, Jackie Brower; Treasurer, Dennis Jones.

At the meeting, members were to select a boy from the senior group, and a girl from the juniors, to go to the Red Cross camp in Naranja, Florida. Dennis Baker and Patricia Curtis went to represent Hialeah High School, on October 21, 22, 23.

PAT LAY and EUGENE VAUGHT had solo numbers in Lions Club Minstrel.

Teachers Celebrate Happy Birthday

Teachers had their birthday party of the year last Tuesday to honor Mr. Pease whose actual birthday fell on that day. Homemaking II under the direction and inspiration of Mrs. Katherine Barnes planned the affair in which refreshments were served in the library.

Tables were decorated with birthday cakes and favors in keeping with each month. A prize was given to the group which had the most original and most pleasing decorations. Each table was planned by a committee from the homemaking classes in charge.

- Nov. 5—Football—Venice-Nokomis.
- Nov. 12—Football—Naples.

Soda Shop Song Opens Minstrel

On Friday and Saturday nights (October 14th and 15th) the Hialeah, Miami Springs Lion's Club gave their seventh annual minstrel show.

"We were very honored to have our advanced, Mixed Chorus participating in this event," said Mr. Inglis, director of the Mixed Chorus.

The theme was a soda shop. They opened the show with the "Soda Shop Song." Immediately following was "Heart" and "My Old Gang," with Patti Lay and Gene Vaught doing the solo and they closed with "Razzle Dazzle."

"The chorus, which backed up Hialeah High in one number did a wonderful job, with the dance line, in making the show a big hit," commented Mr. Inglis.

Twenty-five per cent of the ticket profits went to chorus robes for the Glee Club.

Students Fight For Rights; Don't Use Them

F. JERRY COLEMAN

Throughout the years, man has cried aloud for fair representation of his beliefs. Man has fought many battles for these beliefs. Man has lost many lives because of his beliefs. However, quite often when man has finally obtained a fair representation of his beliefs, he either knows not what to do with them, or invests the safe-keeping of his beliefs with people that he believes will guard them.

Slightly modified, this is true with our Student Council Representatives. It seems as though, for the most part, the representatives that you have elected, merely attend the meetings for the purpose of getting out of class or to have a social period. These people are not interested in the business that is conducted and their ideas are certainly not focused on improving our school.

A few meetings ago, after noting the lack of general discussion on the issues brought before the body and the extreme lack of interest, President Dennis Baker turned the meeting over to the representatives for the sole purpose of learning the views and opinions shared by the representatives that you have elected.

It may seem appalling, but what developed was not a discussion of the issues, but rather a general social event. But—let one person take one tiny step—let one member of the faculty make one criticism—or, let anyone try to take away one right of the Council, and you will have a storm of angry and indignant remonstrations from the Student Council representatives.

Yes, many things, many fine and admirable things are being done by our Student Council. Nevertheless, they are being done by an obvious minority, as anyone will testify that has attended any meeting of the Council. People like the president, his cabinet, a very few of the representatives, and Mr. Heaps—the true backbone of the Council.

Perhaps the unsung heroine is Linda Thomas. Linda, always there, always willing, and always most efficient.

However, all we can say about the bulk of the Student Council Representatives is that either you had better elect more competent and interested people to serve you, or get behind those that you have and literally shove!

As we said, the Council is doing much. At present, they are working on a "all year pep pin." This pin will be purchased by the student body, (they hope), and will be used throughout the year at all of the athletic events. This will eliminate the necessity of selling these pins at every athletic event.

The Council has now finally received the go-ahead signal to purchase the school book covers. These will be purchased as soon as possible, and will then be offered for sale.

A Junior High year book is now being compiled, and when completed, will probably sell for $2.00.

Just one word—don't let all of these money-raising projects of the Council frighten you. Please be far-sighted enough to see that the Council doesn't hoard the profits from these projects, but that it all comes back to you in a thousand innumerable ways.

Are Separate Rallies Answer To Bad Conduct

Why does Hialeah have to have separate pep rallies? Because some students find it necessary to play chase while they are supposed to be supporting their team. We do not blame this all on the lower grades, nor do we blame the upper grades. To find out who is most responsible for most of this confusion we are holding two pep rallies. This would not be necessary if we all contributed to the support of our team.

What's the matter with the students of Hialeah High. Why is it that when we get a free period to hold a pep rally, we have to spoil it by our disorderly conduct. The lower grades do not realize what cheering will do to the morale of a team. The Senior grades realize that this is an important factor in winning or losing a game.

So come on, support your team; quit fooling around. Help your team to get that "go" spirit. Then there will be no reason for separate pep rallies.

Is The Red Cross A Charity Drive?

This is a hard question to answer. Here are some facts about the Red Cross which may help you understand just what the Red Cross is.

- 1. The Red Cross is a better understanding of and responsiveness to people of other countries.
- 2. It is an improvement in health and safety.
- 3. Personal satisfaction and happiness from helping others.
- 4. Increased ability to work with others for the general welfare of school and community.
- 5. Having a Junior Red Cross program in the high school is valuable to the students, the school, and the community. Some of the values are immediate, while others are long-ranged.

6. Development of public relations.

High school students have opportunities to take a constructive place not only in the local community, but in the world community, through Junior Red Cross international activities.

Many Junior Red Cross projects are designed to promote international friendship and good-will and to further a greater understanding among the peoples of the world. Such projects are possible because the American Red Cross, through its sister societies in many countries, can direct various types of communications and gifts to the far corners of the earth.

So the Red Cross is not considered a charity drive.

Marcia Tells How To Get An A Average

If there is one way to get the love and affection of your teachers all you have to do is follow this most effective and courageous way.

Well, first come to school without books (that gives you a good reason not to have to turn your homework in). On arriving at school rush over to the drug store and get some gum (buy 3 packs, it is cheaper. You get 3 for a dime). Be a few minutes late (5 to 10 minutes) to home room. It's just enough to get the teacher peeved. Then, while explaining why you are late pull out your gum and take a piece (mustn't be rude, offer him one, too). After being sent to your seat ask him where your seat is.

Then, when the first period bell rings, run out the door (don't push, shove gently) slide down the halls and go to the water fountain (push a piece of wadded paper into it so you can get more water out at one time.)

During each class talk as loud and long as your conversation can last (but only when the teacher is talking and a test is in session) except when you have full approval of the teacher, and by all means talk when the P.A. system is giving an important announcement.

Every teacher will love you if you sit in the correct seat (that's the seat that is vacant or the one nearest to your best friend). Always remember that seating charts don't mean a thing.

If you're a girl, quickly pull out your comb, lipstick, mirror, and other makeup (this always helps to get on the better side of them). If you're a boy slip off your shoes, and put them on top of the desk or at least throw them somewhere.

Now that you are comfortable, copy someone else's homework. Don't pay any attention to what the teacher says and when he finishes raise your hand and ask "What?"

Boy, will they love you for that! After lunch smuggle in a bag of potato chips or something so you and your friends can have a real party (in the back of the room, of course). Leave the bag on the floor where it will make a real mess, and crunch beautifully when stepped upon.

Well, that's all right, you got away with chewing gum at least half of the day anyway. But next time you pass "That Man" in the hall (by the stair case) you won't make it so obvious that you've got some gum in your mouth.

Now that the school day is almost ended and there is only one more period to go you figure that it is about time to settle down and study—but how can you? Next period is Physical Education. Oh, well, maybe next time you will feel like studying sooner.

The day is done and you come staggering home, your mother asks you, "How was school today?" and you answer, "Horrible, those teachers treat me terribly."

Of course, we don't really meant it!

New Fashions Color Campus

Faye Davis, who always dresses smartly, looked especially nice in her straight black dress with different colored designs.

Lavender-Blue (diddy-diddy). A cute lavender-blue cotton outfit was sported by Aundrea Christopher, while Mert Wilson displayed a pair of lavender slacks. SNAZZY!

The fad of bib dresses is flourishing. Both Alta Whipple and Pat Clayton had darling bib dress outfits.

The teal blue blouse Mary Lee Covey wore looked real sweet with those big blue eyes of hers. What you say, Jack?

Did you notice: That Helen Cavalier wore a different outfit each day of school for about a month? She always looks neat in all her lovely clothes.

Genie Goes To Class Reunion

As Genie with the light brown hair was glancing into the crystal bowl the year 1967, he found a group of students meeting back at Hialeah High for a class reunion.

He sees something—yes, it's a little lady. Why it couldn't be anybody else but Helen Cavalier as peppy as ever with a couple of her first grade students along.

With the wave of his hand in sight came "The World's Best Weather Man," Leonard Pardue, "Ah those cumulus clouds! It's going to rain."

As the genie looked on the program for entertainment he spied the name, ROBERTA CALVERT, the great Prima Ballerina. When Bobbie appeared the sparkle from her tiara brought into focus Don Goodman. The little goatee that he sported back in the eleventh grade had grown to the magnificent length of one foot.

Don was applauding one of Sandy Harmon's jokes, and he kept applauding while she rattled on with another quip.

Carol Plourd was giving Lover-boy Wayne Molesworth advice on his latest love life, for, you see, Carol is a brilliant Marriage Consultant.

Barbara Swab had let her hair grow out to its natural brown.

Upon seeing Ed Gray with his pants at his normal waist line, the Geni decided this was too much and gave up and went back into his lamp.

The Record Suggests . . .

That the public address speaker in Room 426, the band room be repaired to receive the morning announcements.

The water fountain at the end of the 700 wing be put back into circulation.

That students attend more school activities.

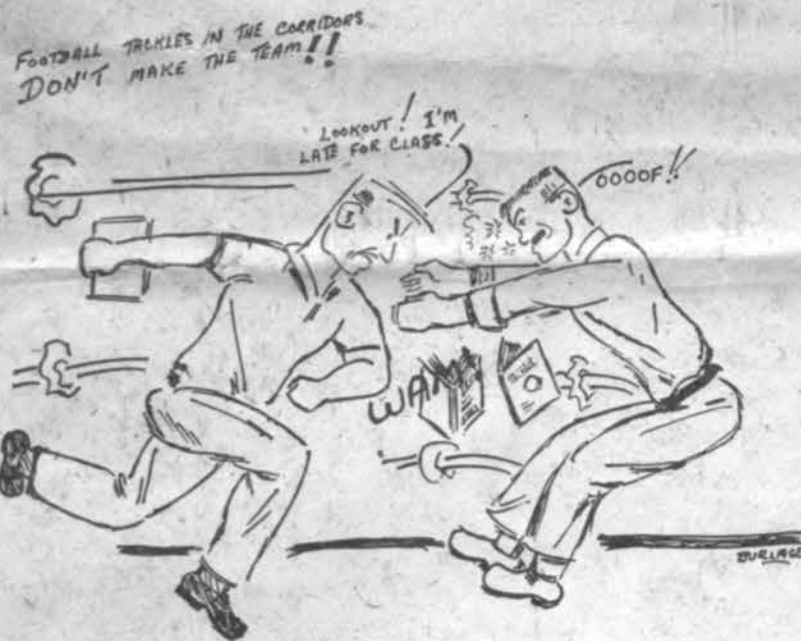

That students combine their efforts with those of the custodians in keeping the building neat and attractive.

Backbone Of America

The United Nations occupies a gigantic building in downtown New York. Every person knows, or should know, why it is there. The U.N. stands for freedom in every sense of the word. Inside, at its many meetings, world problems are ironed out.

Although the U.N. is on American soil, delegates from all nations attend its meetings. To the Communist countries, it is simply a place to spread their own lies and propaganda.

To real freedom-loving countries, it is the foundation for real and lasting peace. Here, countries like the United States, Great Britain, France, and many others try to hammer out all the problems of world affairs. To them, the U.N. is a stepping stone to the end of tyranny and dictatorship in this world and during our time.

Let's wish all the hard-working people behind this movement all the luck in the world, and hope eventually they may succeed!

Do You Play Halloween Pranks?

On November 1 many people will be out polishing cars, cleaning soap off windows and screens, hunting lawn furniture and door mats, and untying knots in garden hose. Why? Because many of the teenagers of today think that Halloween is the time for pranks, the time for forgetting respect for other people's property and just because the people may not have been very nice to them. They make an effort to get back at them by some silly Halloween prank.

How would these teenagers like to have to undo all that they do on Halloween? Would they like to scrub to get soap and lipstick off cars and store windows? It wouldn't be as much fun then.

It's hard to get soap off windows and even harder to get it off screens.

Junior gets up ready to go to

Rejected, Not Wanted

By JOE MILLER

Well, there goes the warning bell. I better get to my class. But which one is my class? I'll just go into this room and find out. Hey, what's going on here? Well, how do you like that? They threw me out. I'll go to the dean's office and tell them something.

The boy down the street is always telling me how he hates school and would like to quit but they won't let him. Yet when I want to go to school they won't let me.

There's the dean now. I'll really tell him off.

Now take your hands off me! Who do you think you are, anyway?

OW! That hurt when he threw me out the door. If I wasn't a well behaved dog, I'd go back there and bite him!

school and he can't find his bike. Where is it? On the roof.

Think about these things when you go out "Trick or Treating" this Halloween and give everybody a "treat" and just have some good clean fun.

A Fish Has A Taste Of Tea

By DIANA BURK

Late in the evening, a starry-eyed fish witnessed the most amazing sight he ever saw. In his own words he will relate this event to you exactly as he saw it. Mr. Fish now speaks:

Well, folks, it's pretty hard to recollect, 'cause it was a mighty long time ago, to be exact it was 181 years ago. You see we fish live a mighty long time. Well, to get back to our story. As I said, it was pretty late in the evening and like most small fish towns things just begin to quiet down around this time.

The usual things were happening, FeFe, the French can-can oyster, was showing her many beautiful pearls. By the way FeFe came from France about 3 years before this incident.

Carol, the clam, was bedding herself in the sand for a good night's sleep. And the rest of Fishville's prominent citizens were calmly going about their evening chores.

Suddenly, their water began to taste strange. It even tasted foreign. The water took on a brownish tint. All the fish began to swim away madly; only the very brave stayed. Those that did stay saw one of the most historic events ever, for as they swam closer to the top of the water, they could see the shadow of a ship and the strangest looking humans they had ever seen.

They were dressed as Indians but underneath you could see the trousers and the shoes of the American colonists.

So you see only this fish can say, "I witnessed the Boston Tea Party."

Believe me, kids, this is just one of those well known fish stories.

Halloween Brings Goblins Out

Have you ever seen a ghost, skeleton, or a pirate? If so, it was probably on Halloween.

Many small children marvel at this wonderful event which takes place once each year. Spooks, goblins and many other odd looking creatures gather throughout the community to celebrate this date.

Parties and various other means of entertainment are planned for this occasion. Pranks of all sort are played on people young and old.

A person can never tell when a trick will be played on him or her. Watch your step! Remember the old saying, "It's better to give than be tricked."

Jeff Sheldon Enjoys Singing

Mr. Jeff Sheldon, one of the talented new teachers of seventh graders at Hialeah High, spends his spare time singing. At present he is singing during the evening shows at the Fountainbleau, one of the famous Miami Beach hotels.

Mr. Sheldon doesn't exactly know which he prefers, singing or teaching, but because he likes to eat he does both.

He lives now in Miami Beach although he was born and educated in New Jersey. He taught for a while in Weequahic High, Newark, New Jersey, in the biology department.

He declares that the Hialeah High football team is full of promise for the future and that the modern, beautiful school at Hialeah is full of industrious, courteous students, eager to please.

His favorite song is "Autumn Leaves," his favorite television show is Jackie Gleason's and his favorite baseball team is the Yankees.

Mr. Sheldon is married to the assistant amusement editor of the "Miami Beach Sun."

Football Player Enjoys Basketball

William Niles Willingham, Jr., (Bill for short), is a popular eleventh grader. He was born in San Diego, California, in January 1939, and is now sixteen. Bill moved to North Miami two years ago, and has lived in other parts of Florida. He also lived in the Hawaiian Islands for a year when his father was stationed there while serving in the Navy.

Bill is six feet tall and weighs one hundred and seventy-five pounds. He has blue eyes and dark brown hair in the shortest crew cut imaginable.

Bill is "Right End" on our Varsity Football team, but basketball is his favorite sport. He hopes to go out for the basketball team again this year.

When asked his opinion of the school Bill said, "I like the people, but I like the sport facilities best." Bill's favorite teacher is Mr. MacQueen and his best subject is ge-of Yankee wisdom beneath a long Southern draaawl, and her personality was amazingly friendly.

Linda Trout, one of Hialeah High's happy-go-lucky majorettes, proudly attested that she likes being a majorette and a member of the student body of this school. She likes to twirl a baton, which is the reason why she started out to be a majorette in the first place.

Linda hopes to finish school at Hialeah High. It is doubtful, however, that she will have any scholastic problems. Last year, in the seventh grade, she made all A's throughout the entire year.

A career in nursing is her main objective in life. After finishing high school, Linda would like to attend the University of Miami.

The Cool Mr. "I"

Mr. William J. Inglis, instructor in room 125, usually called the Choral Room is a real "cool cat." Chorus doesn't seem to like a school subject when Mr. Inglis, a riot plus, pops into the room. Everything's all pepped up as soon as the professor sits down to the grand ol' piano. The day wouldn't be complete without a few jokes from Hialeah High's own natural born comedian.

But don't get the wrong impression. It's not all play and no work. Right now the classes are working on Christmas carols, getting a little head start on Christmas. Everyone knows that if the pupil likes the teacher and the subject fast learning and good grades are ahead. Mr. Inglis is a teacher everyone likes "neat as moose" you might say.

If there's ever an outbreak of laughter or a sweet loveable tune, you'll know right then it comes from the Choral Room.

His pet peeve is when his younger brother wears his clothes. He says his favorite food is chow mein.

Bill's main ambition at the present is to join the Navy Reserves this summer and go to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to study to become an Engineer.

Dreams Nothing But Dreams

Wouldn't you be surprised if you accidentally bumped into Marilyn Monroe, and discovered she was teaching biology? Of course you would! Just as surprised as you would be if you saw the following people making up the faculty:

- Clark Gable—Principal.
- Terry Moore—Dean of Boys.
- Jeff Hunter—Dean of Girls.
- Marjorie Main — (Ma Kettle) — History.
- James Stewart—Math.
- Basil Rathbone—Dramatics.
- George Liberace—Orchestra.
- Liberace—Band.
- Andy Devine—Drivers Ed.
- Tab Hunter—Girls phys-ed.
- Jane Russell—Boy phys-ed.
- English—Aldo Ray.
- Groucho Marx—Spanish.

Truly if we had these people on the faculty, it would be "Dreams, Nothing but Dreams." (Good or bad?)

Never A Dull Moment For H. H. S. Hello Girl

"There's never a dull moment around Hialeah High," exclaimed Mrs. Mildred Hillard. "There's always something going on!" She likes her work and her fellow workers like her.

Mrs. Hillard is Hialeah High's P.B.X. operator, but she classes herself as "General Flunky." She works the switchboard in the main office and does all kinds of odd jobs that need to be done around a school office, which are many.

"Millie," as she is often called, hails from Clarksville, Georgia.

How Do You Like Short Hair Cuts?

Hey, boys, what is your opinion of girls with short haircuts?

Jerry Askowitz says, "It's according to the type of girl. I prefer long hair."

Wesley Calvin—"I like short hair on girls, but there are girls who don't look good in short hair."

Carl Barton — "It's according to the girl, and the color of hair that she has."

Ed Barber—"I believe I like long hair better, but short hair does look best on some girls."

Richard DeLuca—"I prefer girls with long hair but some girls look neat in short. It's according to the

Loretta Likes Hialeah

"One of the best," emphatically stated Loretta Rumpot. "That's what I think of Hialeah." Pretty, blond, brown eyed Loretta is one of Hialeah's outstanding cheerleaders.

She was born in Coral Gables, and has lived in Miami all of her fourteen years. (It will be fifteen December 29.) Loretta has traveled in most of the Southern states, but being a true Miamian likes it here best of all.

Her favorite sport is cheerleading and her hobby is dancing. Her fondest dream is to go to New York and become a dancer.

She doesn't plan to go to college, although she makes very good grades in school.

When asked her favorite teacher, Loretta sweetly replied, "I love 'em all." She also added that her favorite subject was Spanish.

"Traffic jams — that's my pet peeve," said Loretta jokingly, meaning, of course, the passing problem in between classes.

She has many likes, but the one that tops the list is boys. Next to them she favors ice cream and also that new tune "You'll Never Walk Alone."

Loretta attended Gladeview elementary in the lower grades, but since she has been going to Hialeah, to her it's the best.

She likes vacation best and her pet peeve is people asking her questions when she is answering the switchboard.

Her family consists of her husband, Harry, and a son, Roy, who goes to Miami High. Roy went to Hialeah last year.

The attractive five foot three inch brunette wanted to be a secretary when she was in high school. She doesn't know what happened, but somewhere along the way she got off that line. Her ambition now is to tour the country.

Bill Polloch—"I don't like short hair!"

Butch Harvey — "They look all right if they have the right kind of head."

Charles Castulucci—"I believe it should go with the season. In summer have short hair cuts, and in winter let it grow a bit."

Leon Brooks — "Most girls look better in long hair, but it doesn't make much difference to me."

Grimes Believes Thorobreds Best

Hialeah's left tackle John Grimes believes the Thorobreds the best team in the state of Florida, and Hialeah High the best school of all.

John, a native Miamian where he was born on September 24, 1938, attended St. Mary's school and Miami Springs Elementary.

He belongs to "H" club which he declares is going to be the best club in school.

He says he enjoys reading the school paper because it helps him know what is going on in school at

Pat Curtis Liked By All

Pat is a cute little blue-eyed blond. She is an eighth grader in Miss Wilson's homeroom. Her favorite teacher is Mr. George Dolan.

Pat was born in Cleveland, Ohio, on Halloween. Her favorite song is "Love is a Many Splendored Thing" and she cried profusely when James Dean died.

When asked about the football team, Pat replied, "Wow!" About the Red Cross she thought that the boys and girls in Hialeah High should show more interest in the organization.

Pat's pet peeve is gossipers. When asked about her current dream boat, she blushed and admitted that she would keep her private life out of the papers.

Last year Pat was editor of the "Seventh Grade Review." Her dream ambition is to be an authoress, or to be a practical nurse.

Her friends say she has that C-R-A-Z-Y personality.

Kasper Displays Dancing Skills

It was a terrible day. The rain was pouring down like cats and dogs outside. The physical education department had herded all classes in the gym, the boys on one side and the girls on the other.

Mr. Bob Delaney got out the recorder and put on some lively records. Two were played without anyone moving from the lifeless lump he had slumped into.

On the third record several girls bravely got up courage and began to feebly bob on their side of the gym, while the boys on the other side just sat glumly watching.

Finally Eugene Vaught decided to break the ice. He took that long walk across the gym and asked Lillian Jensen to dance. Several boys and their partners followed.

Then—it happened. Mr. Jack Kasper, of BarBell fame, asked Martha Ann Brizzell to dance. This brought the crowd of on-lookers to attention. Several war whoops awakened the sleepers and the boys side of the gym springs into action with rhythmic clapping.

And then—of course, the bell rang, just as everyone had begun to join the fun.

Drew, Star End

Bill Drew, varsity football player, thinks Hialeah High is "wonderful." He thinks the students and teachers are just "tops."

He was born in Bristol, Virginia on November 9, 1938. He has attended schools in Bristol and has been at Hialeah since seventh and eighth grades.

He plays right-end on the varsity football team. He has been on the team for two years, and has his school letter.

His favorite subjects are English and football. When asked why he said football was a subject he said, "Well, I have it sixth period, wouldn't you call that a subject?" His favorite teacher is Mr. Eskew.

Speaking about football because that's what John talks about all the time. He says that the most exciting play he experienced was when Ed Gray ran about 96 yards for a touchdown.

Or when playing in the Miami Beach game this year he got a good downfield block to help Carl Johnson run about 65 yards for a touchdown. Football, of course, is his hobby.

His favorite teacher is Mr. Myers because he likes football and I like art, he says.

John says he would like to go to college when he finishes high school and is trying to get a scholarship in football. He doesn't care which school just so it is the University of Miami or Florida State University.

Clarinet Player Turns To Bassoon

Katherine McGee, a well known high school junior at Hialeah has decided to take up the bassoon in Concert Band. She originally played first clarinet, first chair.

Katherine is all around secretary of the advanced Band. She collects money for different activities, takes roll, and distributes music.

Kathy makes "A" grades and belongs to Honoria.

Game Characters Revealed

By VIRGINIA COLEMAN

I know that sometime or another you have been to a school football, basketball or baseball game. Have you ever noticed the spectators? They fall in many different categories. Let's take a look at this situation.

First, there's the girl that's just crazy about that six foot, one inch, 154 pound football player. "That big brute knocked him down. That bully!" This is one of the many remarks you hear from a girl like this.

Of course, some boys just go to watch the cheerleaders and the majorettes. They have a real good time.

You always have the boy or girl that is loaded down with all the latest do-dads. All the pins that are being sold around the school, the tags and those "breezy buttons" you get out of Armour's frankfurters. This character has on. He's the guy with the cow bell. The kind that sends you home with an earache. Real pleasant fellow!

Then there's the kid that hollers his head off, just so he won't have to make that speech or history report.

We have to give credit to the boy or girl that knows what the game's all about. Such a dry character!

So the next time you go to an athletic event note the spectators next to you, then ask yourself— which one am I?

THE GAY AND GLITTERING GIRLS of the Majorettes who are directed by Sandra Tierce, who is the head of the Majorettes, Sandy Smith who is Captain and Betty Harrigan who is Co-Captain plan to undertake a project this year. The money from sales within the next few weeks will purchase new uniforms.

Spooks Parade Thru School

By DEANNE FINCHER

It was Hallowe'en night and the school stood dark and desolate like a forgotten object. The silver moon was covered by an ebony cloud leaving the world below in an uncomfortable darkness.

"Dick?", came a whisper from the bookroom.

"What?"

"Do you think it's dark enough?"

"Yes, let's go."

The bookroom window slid slowly up and two murky figures climbed out.

The wind began to grow stronger and there was a definite chill in the air.

"Russ?"

"Huh?"

"Do you think we should have stayed here tonight?"

"I don't see why not," replied Russ. "It's something different for a change."

"Yes, but on Hallowe'en," came Dick's feeble argument.

"That's what makes it more intriguing."

"Listen," cautioned Russ, "do you hear something?"

"Of course not. There is nothing to hear."

"Shh! I'm sure I heard something."

The boys stood in the shadows of the corridors straining their ears, listening for even the faintest noise. Then a low banging sound is audible. Both boys jump.

"See, I told you I heard something."

"Be quiet!" retorted Dick. "What could it be and where is it coming from?"

"It is all of the ghosts and goblins waking up from their graves. Tonight is their night to haunt."

"Don't be silly," said Dick. There was a note of exasperation in his voice. "Everybody knows there are no such things as ghosts and goblins."

"Well please tell the ghosts that!" There was a lapse in conversation and the banging noise was heard again.

"Let's get out of here, Dick. The wind is getting stronger and it's cold too."

As the wind obtained greater force, the noise increased and the boys were petrified.

"Let's go down by the cafeteria and see how it looks in the dark."

"Now that's a cheerful thought if I ever heard one!" sarcastically remarked Russ.

"Okey, Russ, no wise cracks. Come on."

The two boys began to sneak down the hall like criminals. They stepped as if they were walking on raw eggs.

"Hey Dick! Look at that strange

Teams Play Jackson

An intra-mural volleyball game was held Friday, October 14 at 3:15.

The teams playing were the Volleyettes and the Namenots. Miami Jackson brought two intra-mural teams here to play two Hialeah teams.

In the race for top teams the Volleyettes won over the other teams competing and the Namenots came in second. This entitled them to play in the game against Jackson.

The G.A.A. (Girls Athletic Association) sponsored a social here after the games were over.

The girls on the Volleyettes are Janet Paasch, Penny Stanley, Sally Sargent, Jeanne Wills, Pat DeVito, Annette Laurendine, Linda Lundbloom, Mary Buchannon, Leona Higdon and Margaret Diehl.

The girls on the Namenots were Carol Johnson, Loretta Williams, Priscilla Adams, Janelda Bennett, Diana Wright, Mary Murphy, Terry Notarianni, Jean Dulin, Edna Hunt, Sally Aylett, and Annette Pritchard.

The Volleyettes lost to Jackson 28 to 21. Dianna Wright's team won over Jackson's B 27 to 26.

glow coming from the cafeteria."

"I wonder what it could be?"

As they neared the cafeteria they spotted an open window. They hesitated as if unassured whether to look or not.

The boys stared in amazement. A strange sounding music flowed from the building and glowing masses danced around.

"It's—it's ghosts!" gasped Russ. "What did I tell you about Hallowe'en?"

"Well, it was your idea to hide in the school until tonight," retorted Dick.

"I thought it would be fun at the time, but now I'm not so sure."

"I make a motion we get out of here!"

"I second the motion. Let's go!"

The boys ran through the corridor, climbed the fence, and raced down the street as though their lives depended on it. And they believed it did.

The school stood mysterious and free from the slightest sound. There is no noise or strange glow. Only the deep, dark, haunting blackness.

What was the glow the boys saw or the noise they heard?

The answer may lie in the noun "Imagination." Who knows?

Home Work Can Do Itself

Hello everyone. My name is Homework, which all of you have come in contact with at one time or other.

First, let's get some things straightened out. I'm not given to you just to cause you a lot of trouble or make you miss the good movie that's playing, but I'm supposed

7th Grades Attend Assembly

Jim Dooley of television fame congratulated the seventh graders of Hialeah High by telling them that they had been a most courteous audience.

Mr. Dooley spoke at the first assembly for seventh grade students of the year.

Many of the students present at the assembly were already members of Mr. Dooley's Fishing Club. Students who are not members now and are interested in joining were encouraged to give their names to their homeroom representatives. Homeroom representatives were asked to turn the list of names of students who would like to join into station WTVJ. The fishing club now has about 6,000 members.

"The purpose of the club," said Mr. Dooley, "is to promote good fellowship among fishermen between the ages of 6 to 17."

Mr. Dooley plans to take pictures of the students of Hialeah High to show on his program. He stated he would like to plan a special fishing trip for the members of his club from Hialeah High.

One of the highlights of Mr. Dooley's speech was when he asked Jimmy Reynolds (7-8) to tell how he caught his 204 pound shark. Although Jimmy confessed that he was not a member of the club, Mr. Dooley offered him a membership and a rod and reel.

Students learned a few secrets of television too. They learned that it takes about an hour of rehearsal for a minute commercial. A sponsor pays about $700 for a 30 minute program.

A friend of Mr. Dooley's, Chief Bill Norton of the Police Department spoke on good sportsmanship. Chief Norton and his men volunteer their free time to Mr. Dooley in assisting him with his fishing club. Chief Norton expressed the need for "good citizens, good sports, and respect for the property of others."

A sense of humor was shown by Mr. Dooley when the microphone cord was accidentally pulled out. He asked, "Don't you pay your light bill around here?"

You don't pay any attention to your teacher when he says "Do problem 5 for tomorrow." Now to get me completed all you have to do is to take your books home, (of course they're heavy) open them up, and study with some concentration.

Then you'll be through with me before you know it. That is until the next evening. Good luck, for I'll meet you soon again.

Reporters Visit Unusual Class

Do you know all of the different and unusual classes at Hialeah High School? You may answer yes. However there is a very important class going on every day in this school in room 210 under the direction of Mr. Glen Fardig.

This class deals with graphic arts and a mild case of printing. In printing the boys work with stationery, business cards, and personal cards. Mr. Fardig would like it understood that this class is not a business, but is strictly for the school.

Most of the time the class is doing graphic arts; then they rotate for about two to four weeks for some printing.

They are now working on hall passes, and expect in the near future to print tags for the games and dances.

This class has about $6,000 worth of working equipment, such as a large professional paper cutter, two printing presses, a small hand power press, small proof press, and a large professional stapler used for the stapling of book binders. They also have twenty different kinds of type.

This course was offered during the summer vacation. About 41 boys attended this class.

Three boys from Mr. Fardig's fifth period class took graphic arts during the summer and made the following comments.

Don Griffith answered, "I liked it a lot, and would like to make archi-

Senior Teams Ready; Junior Completed

The girls' volleyball teams are in full swing.

The girls are being spotted for the A and B team of the senior varsity. Senior tryouts were held October 17th through October 21st.

Practices for senior varsity are being held the following weeks with tournament coming up Thursday, October 27.

This tournament will be held at Miami Edison with schools from North Miami, Miami Beach and Tech High participating.

The junior volleyball tournament was held October 21 at Horace Mann. The schools which took part in this play day were North Miami (the ninth grade), Miami Edison, and Horace Mann.

The results of the junior tournament and the senior will be published in the next issue of the Record.

The girls who made the semi-finals were: Alice Campbell, Sharon McCracken, Nancy Lapidus, Linda Law, Myrth Meekee, Sylvia Gonzeles, Barbara Ludwig, Sara Parise, Kathryn Pierson, Alice Johnson, Cynthia Cone, Francis Faulkner, Cynthia Ruggles, Ruth Lawden, Janice Vogles, Dot Hood, Sherry Dunn, Carolyn Dann, Chris Burnside, Sue Kraft, Elaine Hitchcock, Charlotte Burdick, Barbara Foster, Betty Sarro, Theresa Sellers, and Nola Cole.

These girls didn't all make the varsity. The exact list will be published next issue.

Let's Adopt These Commandments

By MR. VIERLING

Head Custodian of Hialeah High

1. Don't let your parents down. They brought you up.

2. Stop and think before you drink.

3. Be smart, obey. You will give orders yourself someday.

4. Ditch dirty thoughts fast or they will ditch you.

5. Show off driving is juvenile. Don't act your age.

6. Pick the right friends to be picked for a friend.

7. Choose a date fit for a mate.

8. Don't go steady unless you're ready.

9. Love God and neighbor.

10. Live carefully. The soul you save may be your own.

H.H.S. Clubs Plan Work

The Art Club, dedicated to the beautification of Hialeah High, has elected its club officers for the year of 1955-1956. Voted into office by the members, were:

President, Theresa Notarianni; Vice-President, Barbara Flatten; Secretary, Charlotte Jernigan; Treasurer, Ed Barber. To date, members number approximately 38.

Only students that had made honor grades, in art, were accepted. The club plans to visit many interesting places, this year, including the Lowe Art Gallery.

"If the members participate," said Mr. Bernard Myers, sponsor, "they will also become honorary members of the Hialeah-Miami Springs Art Guild. In that way, they will be able to meet and work with professional artists."

Hi-Notes From Hialeah

By MARCIA ANN NEWTON

DID YOU KNOW? that Theresa Notarianni has a nickname. It's "Petunia." Mr. Carlucci nicknamed her that in the 7th grade. He and lots of others have been calling her that ever since. Mr. Carlucci named her that because he liked it. Hi, "Petunia!" Theresa gets sort of red each time she is called that, or at least she used to anyway. We really call her Terry.

Fashion Fads: Have you seen those shoes that Walda Smart has been wearing lately? Well, they are the cutest things since a new born puppy.

They are black suede and are sort of like an elkskin shoe. Lots of other girls have been wearing them too. They have a very unique design. Walda has been wearing another new attraction (around school anyway) it's those bracelets on her arm. They always match the colors in her clothes.

Boy! Does that Danni Jo Cagle dress beautifully! And a lot of it she makes herself. You never seem to see her in the same thing twice, everything is always different. And with that blonde hair, gorgeous figure, and blue eyes, it's no wonder that she's so popular.

News Bits: Run for your lives! Find shelter! Get off the streets! Only kidding though. We don't really mean it! Joy Green and Bobbi Jo Glick can drive very well. They have been taking a course at Hialeah ever since school started with a lot of other students instead of having a study hall. Why only the other week, when Joy had driven a car for the first time, she was told that she had done wonderfully (only, for safety, have her warn you the next time she drives). The car they drove in was one that belongs to Hialeah High School. It is a "55" Chevrolet, blue.

Dramatic Club Has Big Turnout This Year

Dramatic club of Hialeah held its second meeting at club period October 3.

Officers elected for the year will be President, Robert Page; vice-president, Joe McAllister; secretary, Ailon Hall and treasurer, Georgialea Bannister.

The total turnout for the club has been unusually overwhelming, now having 74 members.

Mrs. Angeline Skipper and Mr. Joe White are the co-sponsors.

Name..... Homeroom.... There are..... seeds in the pumpkin. Look in the case in front of room 313. This is your entry blank.

Laugh With Mr. Joe White

By JOE WHITE

(As told to his 3rd period English class)

JOE: "What did the firefly say when he backed into the wall socket?"

JANE: "I don't know."

JOE: "He said 'De-lighted, no end.'"

JOE: "What do they call potatoes in Ireland?"

JOHN: "I don't know."

JOE: "They don't call them. They dig them."

JOE: "And about your speech I think . . ."

MARCIA: (to girl in back of her) "Did you see that new dress at the 'Three Sisters'?"

JOE: "Young lady, I will not have any student talking while I am talking."

MARCIA: "I'm sorry."

JOE: "Hi, Sorry, I'm, Joe."

TRICK QUESTION

JOE: "You know that the Sandwich Islands are the Hawaiian Islands. That the Jersey Islands are off the coast of England. Now for $64,000, where are the Langerhans Islands?"

SAM: "Off the coast of South America? In the Philippines? Off the coast of the United States?"

JOE: "NO. NO. NO. NO. NO."

SAM: "Then where are they?"

JOE: "They are in your stomach." (If you don't believe it, look in the dictionary).

Top Five

By JOE MILLER

Hello, there, you jukebox cats. Did all of you vote for your favorite records?

We had a swell turn-out although it was only the first time.

Christmas Cards Sold By D.C.T. Club

Hialeah D.C.T. (Diversified Co-operative Training) Club is raising money this year by selling Christmas cards. All proceeds made in this way will go to help Hialeah High School buy much needed items such as dark curtains for movies and many other things.

All kinds of Christmas cards are included in the assortments. Many new kinds of cards are available.

Students and faculty members are urged to order their 1955 supply from the D.C.T. club. Cards are now on sale and are for immediate purchase.

D.C.T.ers have a stand in the hallway near the main entrance of the building which will be staffed each morning before school. Room 511 is D.C.T. headquarters.

One Frightful Night Comes Once A Year

"O-O-O-Oh, e-e-e-k," she walked down a wet marshy path. Her eyes were blindfolded. Her hands shook with fright; she hadn't the faintest notion where she was being led. Soon she heard violent screams and the voices of girls crying. Her voice broke out, "I don't want to go in! I want to go back!" But the door opened and an arm grabbed her. She had no chance to get away.

The blindfold was taken off; all she could see was a white figure against a black background. She was led to a table where she saw an eye looking up at her. The voice behind her said, "Touch it. It feels real good, nice and slimy." She screamed as she put her hand on it.

The next thing that came into focus was a heart, a liver, and many different kinds of bones. She let out another scream; she almost fainted.

What was she to see next? The next thing she was to see was the wide open spaces, for the party was over.

Parents Come Back To School

To the cries of "Oh, my aching feet" and "Where's the gym" the second back-to-school night of Hialeah High ended.

Back-to-school night was set aside for the parents of Hialeah High School students. This night, all the parents who wanted to come, came, met the teachers of his or her child, saw the school, found out where their fee money went, and enjoyed a "lunch" in the cafeterium.

Back-to-school night, sponsored by the Parent Teacher Association, was considered a huge success by Mrs. Evelyn Hay, president.

More Reporters For Journalism Club

Journalism Club has elected chairmen for each grade who are to be in charge of reporters from each home room. David Sams who is the seventh grade chairman has listed his reporters as:

Students Can Voice Ideas On Policies

Do you as a student have a problem or suggestion for the betterment of the school?

The Non-Administrative Committee has been organized to discuss problems of and around the school.

Composed of department heads, and a student representative as well as a parent, the sole purpose of the committee is to bring the problems out into the open.

While not having the power to act, the committee makes suggestions to those whom it thinks could help solve the problem.

Melvis Sweat, of 11-7, is the student representative on the committee. She presents the students' point of view on each subject.

The committee meets every other Thursday from 3:15 to 4:00.

A few of the accomplishments of the committee are the use of salt shakers in the cafeteria instead of the bowls filled with salt as last year. Mrs. Betty Stoinoff, the parent representative, investigated the food in the cafeteria, and suggested that there be a wider variety of meats and desserts.

Any student desiring that a problem be brought before the committee should see his student council representative who, in turn, will contact Melvis.

Kodak Stops Super XX

By DAVID RAYFIELD

This may come as a shock to those of you who haven't heard, but Super XX black and white, made by Eastman Kodak, has been discontinued. I don't have the slightest idea why, but I surely did get my feathers ruffled when I heard it was stopped.

As soon as I found out the film was stopped, I stacked up on it, so I'm not worried for a while. However, some people who didn't know about this change are all in a tizzy about what to do.

One solution is to use the film which is supposed to replace Super XX, Tri X. Plus X could also be used, although sometimes Plus X might be too low and Tri X might be too fast... This leaves one with one of two things to do—expose Plus X at 100 A.S.A. instead of 50 A.S.A. and develop the exposed film in some well-known brand of fine grained developer for either two or three minutes longer than usual or use the developer at maybe 10 degrees higher than usual. Or, expose Tri X at 100 A.S.A. instead of 200 A.S.A. and develop for a shorter period of time or use the developer at an even lower temperature than the usual 68 degrees fahrenheit.

You can get the correct exposures by setting the exposure index of your meter (if you have one) at the desired A.S.A. speed. One main thing to remember in doing this over-under exposing of film is to write down your results in future use. For further information on the above see the November 1955 issue of "U. S. CAMERAS." In this issue read the article on how to make your own film speed test. Also in this issue is information on process the new Ektachrome.

About three or four weeks ago John Marshall of homeroom section 10-16, asked what the circle of confusion of a Rolleiflex camera was. Well, I read and read and still didn't ever understand what it meant until just the other day when I asked a photo dealer about it. I learned that the circle of confusion of a Rolleiflex or any other camera, for that matter, is tied in with the depth of field of that camera.

For an example: when your camera is focused on fifteen feet and the aperture is f/11, you can see by looking on a depth of field table that the depth of field would be from 10 to 29 feet (anything between 10 and 29 feet will be in sharp focus.) However any object closer than 10 feet will be blurred, while any object farther away than 29 feet will also be blurred. All the blurred area around the sharp focus area is the circle of confusion or a confused (out of focus area around a sharp area), circle of focus. It's as simple as that!

If any other shutter-bugs have any questions try to get them to me in room 313 or 311 fifth period.

B.P.I. Passes Resolution

By DEANNE FINCHER

Remember last year when the school had the charity drive? All of the different charities, such as the heart fund or March of Dimes, were combined into one large drive.

This year the Dade County Board of Education has passed a resolution not to have these drives.

The question has arisen about the Red Cross as being a charity.

When consulted, Mrs. Jessie Edwards stated, the Red Cross is an educational organization instead of a charity as the others are.

The Red Cross deals with all kinds of people, young and old alike, to promote their happiness. That is the reason for the exception.

Marcia Newton, a tenth grade student, seemed strongly opposed to the resolution when she said, "don't like it because I think we helped those people. No one was forced to do it."

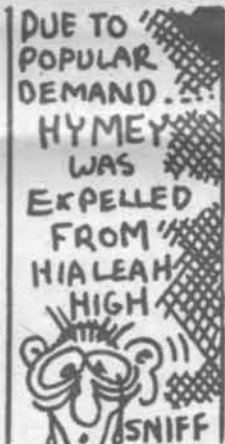

There is a difference of opinion among students as to the decision of the Board of Education. Nevertheless it was passed with object in mind of enriching the school system.

Geronimo Is Hialeah Pet

Hey! Have you met Geronimo? He goes to school with Beverly Larson almost every day except when he stays at home to keep an eye on the cat.

Geronimo is usually black but for those days when Beverly and Judy King have given him a bath. Then he's so white you can hardly see him he blinds you so.

He's very gentle, likes kids, but not teachers.

Journalists Watch Printing Process

Five to ten thousand dollars for a little printing press?

This was one of the questions asked by the members of the "Record" journalism class when they visited Mr. Glen Fardig's graphic arts class.

The journalism class also took a trip to Printcrafters of Hialeah where they saw the "Record" being printed.

Mr. Bob Murphy, manager and owner of Printcrafters, showed the class around the shop. Here they saw the linotype machines which molds the type to be used by just pressing keys like a typewriter.

They saw the presses that the paper is printed on. The future journalists also watched the front page being made up with type.

Silence Is Golden

At sixth period one rainy afternoon, a tenth grader, Aundrea Christopher was busily engaged in watching a boys' exhibition volleyball game.

When another team commenced to take over for the old one, she turned to tell a friend and excitedly said, "Look! They're putting in the refills."

While riding on a school bus one morning Mike Danzis and Linda Shipley were having a lively discussion on the speeds of different makes of cars.

"I'm not going to talk to you any more about it," exasperatedly replied Linda. "You are just talking through your head."

To this another brilliant student piped up, "People usually do!"

MacQueen On The Come Back Trail

Mr. Donald MacQueen left for about two weeks to have an operation. A speedy recovery is wished by all Home Room 810, 9-4.

Officers for 9-4 have been elected as follows:

Kaspertorium Concern of All

"The cafeteria and the way it is run is not meant to be a prison, but a place of pleasure during your lunch hour," says Mr. Jack Kasper. He also states that the C.P. means Cafeteria Patrol; not Cafeteria Police. "Enjoy your food during your lunch period. It should be a time of pleasure and we don't like to act like policemen. It is only when you do things wrong that we have to guide you in the proper way."

Here are some of the do's and don'ts of the cafeteria:

- 1.—DO use the three front entrances facing the street.
 - 2.—Eat in a tray and go out the entrances.
 - 3.—Please do not lean back in your chairs. You fall back and get hurt or you may spill someone else's tray.
 - 4.—Please don't throw silverware in the trashcans.
 - 5.—Please don't leave trays.
 - 6.—Don't throw anything on the floor.
 - 7.—If you spill food, call for a C.P. He will help you.
 - 8.—There should be no horseplay in the cafeteria.
 - 9.—Treat the cafeteria as if it were your own dining room.
 - 10.—DON'T CUT INTO THE LINES.
- It is not fair to those behind you who may be late to their next class.

The only exception to rule six, is the varsity football players who practice for three hours after school every day. They should have enough time to eat their food properly, so as to take the strain of hard practice without any intestinal disorder. The players only cut in the line at the stage side.

The main trouble is so many boys cut in other lines and call themselves football players. Even the girls cut in. Mr. Kasper now is working hard to prevent the "cutting-in-line" business.

Football players are getting the blame for this. Don't forget that the cafeteria is your dining hall. It's cleanliness and cheerfulness is what you make it to be.

Student Council Sponsors Red Cross

Hialeah High students who are members of the Red Cross organization are planning a most extensive program in Red Cross work this year through the leadership of the sponsor and president of the Student Council, Dennis Baker.

As patrons of Hialeah High each of us should work for and with the Red Cross in any project in which they may undertake to accomplish this year.

Susi Appointed Head Of P. E. Department

"We have one of the best gymnasiums in Dade County, and all students would strive to keep it looking nice at all times," says Mr. Sal Susi, head of the physical education department for Hialeah High School. Mr. Susi also said that he was very much disappointed in the participation in after school events such as intramurals. He would like to see more people come out for spots on their teams.

Some of Mr. Susi's duties take up setting up a basic yearly program for the Physical Education Department, assisting and acquainting new teachers to practices of the department, assisting Mr. Pease, principal, in carrying out the desired programs within the area under his supervision. He serves as chairman of specially called meetings in his department. He helps the teachers in carrying out their programs and goes to the principal with proposals of changes in his department. He is the one who carries out the administrative plans of the school in his department.

Before Hialeah High was built, Mr. Susi taught at Hialeah Junior High School for two years. He came down from New York state, was appointed as a substitute for ten weeks and was then appointed as a full time instructor.

Jayvees Top Tech High

Hialeah's Jayvee team played their first football game of the 1955 season on October 5 when they defeated Tech High's JV team by a 12-6 score.

Chris Pappis quarterbacked the team to victory. Other outstanding players were Jay Gould, lt, who played well on both offense and defense, Roger Harword, le, and Leon Brooks on defense played a fighting game.

Coach Charles Wychunas and Coach Brawner should be commended for their fine handling of the team.

This JV team will play most of the large High Schools in the area. This is a chance for the boys to gain football experience for the coming years.

Fame, Honor, Money Await Super Writers

Do you like to write? If so, why not put your interest to use?

There are two essay contests now open to both junior and high school students.

The Royal Typewriter Company is sponsoring a letter writing contest. The theme is "What Thanksgiving Means to me." It's open to both junior and senior high students.

First prize in this high school students Contest is a Gold Portable Royal Typewriter and $200 in cash.

Entries should be sent to Portable contest, care of Scholastic Magazines, 33 W. 42nd Street, New York, 36, New York.

Entries should not exceed 500 words and sent before November 12.

The Miami Herald is again this year sponsoring a contest in which a four-year scholarship is offered at the University of Miami.

The theme of this contest is: "Are Students Today Taking The Easy Way Out?" This should not exceed 1,500 words; however, it may be as short as you wish.

Any student in senior high school may take part.

Essays must be written or typed on one side of the papers; your name is on each entry along with the name of the school attended, your age and address. They should be sent in before Nov. 14.

Essays from this school will be read over by a committee and the best one sent to be judged in the contest.

If you are interested in one of these contests, write today and perhaps you'll be a winner.

HIALEAH SPORTLIGHT

By DAVID RYAN

This coming Friday evening at 8:15 the Hialeah football team travels to Homestead to meet the South Dade Rebels. Hialeah has looked good against teams like Punta Grda, Moore Haven, and Sts. Peter and Paul. They have played outstanding games against Gold Coast Conference teams such as Miami Beach and Archbishop Curley. South Dade is a member of the Gold Coast Conference and should give the Thorobreds quite a battle. South Dade has lost to Coral Gables, North Miami and Curley in outclassed ball games. They defeated Tech High 12-0. Hialeah's record was 3 wins and 1 loss before the Curley game.

I predict that Hialeah will defeat South Dade in a tough ball game by one touchdown if the Thorobreds are as fast a team as they have shown in their other games. If they are slow and sluggish the touchdowns will go to South Dade on breaks.

As you probably know, the Archbishop Curley game that was played on October 20 was scheduled a week before the game. When these teams decided to play each other they signed a contract for three years. That means that we will be playing Curley for the next two years and maybe more. The games will probably be played in the first week of October.

I would like to congratulate Jerry Askowitz for being the leading scorer in the City of Miami. Jerry, at the time we went to press, was leading Lenny Levy of Miami Beach by some 36 points. Jerry has 56 points and Levy has 20. Other scorers for the Hialeah team are Joe Burns with 7 points and Charlie Adams with 6 points.

The Thorobreds have been hurt by a couple of minor injuries to some starting players. Wayne Molesworth, captain of the team and Bill Drew have been down with the virus. Joe Burns has had a bruised left shoulder, and Charles Chastain pulled a muscle in his left leg and has been out of a couple of games.

Every week the Miami Springs Jaycees give out a 'Player of the Week Award.' The latest award has been given to Captain Wayne Molesworth who certainly deserved it for the way he has captained the team. Previous winners were Charles Mapples, Ig, Jerry Askowitz, lh., and John Grimes, lt.

In my first column I failed to mention anything about Hialeah's own football field here at the school. I can remember from last year how it was just a lot of black dust. I believe the men that worked on it and the groundkeepers that made it a nice looking green football field.

Before closing I would like to speak to the parents about our sports program here at Hialeah. I, myself, am no a member of the football team, but I feel as if I am helping the team if I can give them publicity. You can get the feeling of football or any other sport if you will come out and see the students play. They can make, and are making this community a name for itself in the sports world, but they need your support. Come out and see your boys play, won't you?

Report Cards Brain Teasers

By Marcia Ann Newton

Many students have been worrying about those report cards that will be coming out in the future. I know for sure that when the past ones came everyone wasn't quite as worried as they are when the second time comes around. But each time it is a brain-teaser and no one is positive exactly what they will get in each class. About one day before they come out everyone is talking about them.

Some of the remarks heard go like this: "Hey, Marge, you know what? I was just thinking—my Spanish teacher had better give me at least a "B" in subject cause I helped sell that stuff we had on sale, and I netted a lot of money."

Or, "You know yourself that the teacher will probably give me a 'C' and you, too. 'Cause it's so hard."

The student that thinks he will do great gets a big shock and finds out that he does only half as well as he thought. And the student that thinks he will do ony fair gets a big surprise, too.

Then there is the student who thinks he will do marvelously and brags on how easy that geometry is and how well he can do it. Then come the report cards, and—wow!—that gemoetry isn't so easy after all.

Then there is the student who is pretty sure that he is close to a D at least. He starts making up excuses, already. "Oh, if I pass that subject (in history) I think that I will absolutely collapse. When he gave us that test the other day it took me the whole period to do it in."

It finally comes out and the failing student finds that, much to his surprise, it isn't quite so hard after all. Anyway, he passed the impression on to the other students that he is a little smarter than they thought. And he won't fail after all.

How Students Rate Team

What do some of the girls think of the football team this year, is the question used by the inquiring reporter this week. The answers are as follows:

Alayne Feenam 10-6, answered: "I think they are a wonderful team with good players."

Jeanne Miller 10-14, said: "They are doing the best they ever did."

Marlene Petratus 1-4, said: "They have been playing terrific games this year, and I know they will keep up the good work."

Janice Collins 11-3, replied: "We have a real good team of boys who will continue to improve."

Virginia Coleman 10-2, answered: "I think the team has done a good job and will continue to do so."

Sue Leonard 10-14, replied: "It's tops in my books."

Sandra Pariseau 1-13, said: "The team is the best we've ever had. They're doing a wonderful job."

Carol Sleter 10-4, answered: "They have a winning season this year."

Thorobreds Face Strong South Dade Eleven

Golf Team Is Warming Up

Should I use a 9 iron or a wedge? How hard should I stroke this putt? To correct your slice you should . . . These are just some of the words that will be heard at the Miami Springs Country Club starting in January when George Dolan starts a small golf team, hoping that the team would acquire experience for the coming year. He had the team play a few schools that had regular golf teams. The team showed promise and Coach Dolan hopes that the team profited from these games.

Four boys will be returning this year, Harry Geissinger, Joe Miller, Bill Warf, and Ken Roberts.

Of all the boys returning Harry Geissinger, who played number one on the team last year, has the most experience. Up to date, Harry has 14 trophies and silver plates. Among these trophies is a silver golf club of which he is particularly proud.

Don't be surprised if Harry's name appears among the best golfers in the country in a few short years is the opinion of others on the team.

If any boy likes to play golf and wants to try out for the team it is not too early to contact Coach Dolan in Room 719. Every boy trying out will get an equal chance, and if he is good enough will find a place on the team.

JERRY ASKOWITZ holds the title for the highest score of any player in the county. Jerry leads his nearest opponent by more than 30 points.

Jay Vees Lose To Jackson; Wychunas Praises Team

Hialeah High Jayvees met the Jackson JV's at Curtis Park on October 13. Jackson won the game by a 26-7 score but the boys played a very good game.

Hialeah got off to a bad start and Jackson took advantage of it. They got off on two long runs and scored both times. Coach Wychunas, head coach of the JV's, said, "The boys were a little tight because of playing such a large team."

Hialeah came back in the second half strong on a 35-yard run by the fullback David Dunn, who played a brilliant game. Our boys made the extra points and the final score was 26 to 7. The boys plan a return game with Jackson because they feel they can beat them the next time. The coaches say that they will try to get another game with them.

When asked how I thought they would do against Miami Edison Jayvees the coach said he felt that they have a good chance of winning because of the experience gained in the Jackson game.

We of the Hialeah Record feel that the JV's are just as important as the Varsity, because in coming years the JV's will be out for Varsity.

Fighting Line Team's Heart

Hialeah having a strong all around team, is mostly being talked about of its great backfield. You never hear of its great work on the line.

Nobody ever seems to see the great downfield blocking done by Hialeah's hustling-line. If it were not for the great blocking done there would not be so many long runs as it was in affect against St. Peter and Paul.

In the lineup of Hialeah's first string offensive line are: Gary Bird-sall, left end, a sophomore, is doing a great job; next is John Grimes, left tackle, a junior, who has already been awarded best player by the Hialeah-Miami Springs Jaycees, left guard Charles (tank) Naples, a freshman, who has won the best player award given the first time to a freshman at Hialeah High.

Mike Malone, center, is also doing a great job for Hialeah's line. Right guard Frank Constantine is one of the best down field blockers Hialeah has; right tackle Leonard Pardue, a tough player against opposing teams, is also a great scholar in school; right en Fred Grimes, a sophomore, has improved since last year for Hialeah.

Curley Blanks H.H.S.

Hialeah High's experiment of playing a football game on its home grounds directly after school was a huge success Thursday afternoon, except for one thing—Archbishop Curley won the contest 19-0.

Otherwise, everything was just fine. A crowd of approximately 3,000 overflowed the bleachers, and the Thorobred band put on a sparkling halftime show.

Hialeah All Out For S. Dade Game

South Dade Rebels play host to the Hialeah Thorobreds on Friday, October 28, at 8:15 P.M. at South Dade High School.

The previous records of the two teams prove that it should be a good game. South Dade has had more experience because of being in the Gold Coast Conference. They have been beaten by Coral Gables, North Miami, Archbishop Curley, and Fort Lauderdale.

They defeated Tech High 12-0 for their only victory. If you will notice they are all tough teams for anyone to play.

Hialeah's record is 3 and 1. They lost to Miami Beach, the 1954 Gold Coast Conference Champions, by a 13-6 score. The Thorobreds have now won three in a row over Punta Gorda, Moore Haven, and Sts. Peter and Paul. They have also played Curley but the game was played after we went to press.

This will be a battle between South Dade's experience and Hialeah's speed and ball handling.

Grass Replaces Shifting Sands

This is the sad, sad, story of the 1954 physical education field as told by a victim of the shifting, whispering, sand.

I gallop into the locker rooms for the first day of dressing, rapidly with experience, gathered in previous years, and take full advantage of the whole three minutes to change from my street clothes to my sporting white socks and tee shirt, khaki shorts and tennis shoes.

"All right, all my class lines up outside!"

Ut-oh, and better hurry, there's the coach!

I charge out onto the field — Aghh! my eyes—I can't see—Water, give me water! Help; I'm being buried alive. Somebody, anybody—save me! Call the nurse. I'm blind as a bat!

I fall to my knees, and bury my head in my hands and learn the secret of the shifting, whispering, sands. It's not sand at all. It's dirty, black dust, black . . . Hey! I'm black!

Well, there you have it — the story of a victim of the sands of Hialeah High. Don't worry — that fellow lived. They just threw him in a nice cold shower, to prove that he was still white.

Another thing, you don't have to worry about the sands of this year. Beautiful green grass has been planted all over the field. This year it's not sand. It's grasshoppers, green ones. They're not as bad as the dust, though. They just get on your hair, nose, and ears. They fly, too . . . So—watch the skies!

GOOD LUCK, THOROUGHBREDS!

Hialeah Runs Over Saints

Revening a 26 to 7 loss, Hialeah ran over a spunky Peter & Paul team by the score of 38 to 12.

Long driving runbacks and great downfield blocking proved Hialeah's superiority over St. Peter and Paul.

Ed Gray and Jerry Askowitz did most of the runbacks by working the long runs on the kick offs and punt returns where Hialeah's great downfield blocking came in to make the runs possible. Frank Constantino and Charles Maples, two Thorobred guards, accounted for many of the key blocks in the game.

The play of the game came when Ed Gray called the 11 Rollout, with the key blocks thrown by Wayne Molesworth and Frank Constantino. Gray went over the goal-line untouched.

Joe Burns clicked with a long pass to Askowitz who snagged the pass with Saints pursuer on his tail, but he out-ran him over the end zone.

In this game Wayne Molesworth was later voted the player of the week for his great faking and blocking.
