

First Student Directories Sold Out In Seven Days

L. DENNIS BAKER, STUDENT COUNCIL PRESIDENT, hands over 25 cents to Bill Hoy, "Record" and Key Club representative, and is the proud possessor of the first Hialeah High School Student Director.

The Hialeah High Record staff and members of the Key Club, put on sale 1500 copies of the first school directory last Tuesday, February 14.

Taking almost two months to compile, the directory's 78 pages contain the names, addresses, and phone numbers of every boy, and girl in Hialeah High. Also entered on these pages are the names of all the teachers and the subjects they teach. All composition and publication work on the directories, was done by Mrs. Miller, Record advisor, and the able staff of the Hialeah Record.

To date the directory has sold all copies. At every corner and every staircase, on the first day of the sale, students were confronted with such cries as "Here's your first school directory, hot off the press," or "Get your directory NOW. I haven't many left," and "They're only a quarter." These cries brought a sales record of 800 copies on the first day of the sale.

Many comments have been heard by salesmen of these little red pamphlets. With the sale of a book one salesman heard, "You should have charged more for these. You could have asked a dollar and most people wouldn't have said a thing about it." Another heard, "There have been times when I would have gladly given a dollar bill for a girl's phone number. I'm sure glad you published a directory."

With each coming year, the Record staff will publish a newer and better directory.

Thanks Given to Hialeah Council

"Thank you, Mr. B. V. Duke, Jr., and others of the City Council, for your fine response to a request made some time ago to receive the Hialeah Municipal Auditorium from the city for the Hialeah High School on Career Day," were the words of Wayne Arnold, Hialeah sophomore, after the council granted his request by unanimous vote.

Several weeks ago on January 23, Miss Joyce Chick, Howard Gold, James Harvey, Ed Harvey and Mr. Byrd V. Duke, and Wayne, met to discuss Career Day activity this year.

The main purpose in this meeting was to talk with Mr. Duke concerning possibilities of obtaining the Hialeah Municipal Auditorium from the City of Hialeah. At this meeting Mr. Duke as Chairman of the School Committee, expressed himself highly in favor of obtaining the auditorium from the city for the Career Day activity. In explaining the proceedings in getting the auditorium from the city, Mr. Duke stated that as Chairman of the School Committee would gladly recommend to the City Council to allow the school to receive the Municipal Auditorium rent free if Key Clubbers would assist in the cleaning of the auditorium after the Ca-

Orchestra Suffers Growing Pains

With the change of semesters many students changed their schedules for various reasons. With these changes the Hialeah High School orchestra grew from a few violins, basses, and trumpets, to a full and well balanced musical organization.

Transfer students from the band make up the bulk of the brass and woodwind sections. Other students attend band first period and, with Mr. Pease's permission, play in the orchestra second period. These students use only brass and woodwind instruments.

Started three years ago, Mr. S. J. Conn's orchestra has slowly grown from a small group of strings, meeting in a cold portable at Hialeah Junior High, to a class of almost 60. These pupils gather each day in the school cafeteria during second period for an hour of music making. Under Mr. Conn's direction they play such arrangements as: Blue Tango, by Leroy Anderson; Street Scene, Waltz of the Flower, Linda Myer, and many other famous arrangements.

For the past two years the orchestra has been meeting in the cafeteria, but next year they will have their own orchestra room. The room will be part of the auditorium to be built on the west end of the school. The room will be adjacent to the stage and whenever possible the orchestra will hold practices on the stage.

Hialeah Chapter Fully Organized

Amidst lighted candles, words of wisdom, ovations, and prayer, the newly organized Hialeah High Chapter of the National Honor Society was installed by the Miami High Chapter of the N.H.S.

The National Honor Society spells the most honored name in the school societies and clubs, and adds the final feather-in-the-cap of Hialeah High.

Under the fraternal auspices of Lester E. Wright, social studies instructor, the Chapter has been fully organized. The plans for the National Honor Society go back to the first period of the first semester this year. At that time, the twenty-five members of the Honor Society were chosen.

To become a member of the Society, one must have had a B average in scholarship, and an A average in citizenship for the preceding year. The names of those who fulfilled these requisites were then thoroughly screened by the faculty. The virtues of scholarship, citizenship, service, and leadership were considered as the prime requisites for admission.

After the members had met, officers were elected. The president was, Mary Buchanan; vice-president, James Killough; secretary, Sue Fickling; and Anita Rawlerson, treasurer.

Speedily, the chapter drew up its constitution, had it passed by the National Chapter of the National Honor Society, and made plans on the forthcoming installation.

This installation, which took place during the first period on February the 13th, was witnessed by the tenth grade.

Those charter members installed were:

John Grimes First Anchor Club Admiral

Then First Annual Nautical Ball sponsored by the Anchor Club was a big success.

John Grimes was selected as Anchor Club's admiral, with Ray Charles and John Cavalier as his shipmates.

Mrs. Loretta Powell presented John with an Anchor Club pin. As anchor man of the year he is being asked to attend as many social functions as possible for the remainder of this year.

The Anchor Club hopes that the choosing of an admiral will become a yearly tradition.

From the Horse's Mouth

By BONNIE CLARK

A sweet old lady was being complimented for her good works in the church and had been given the honor of selecting the hymns for the service. She stood up, looked about the congregation, and pointed saying, "I'll take him, and him and him."

Rosie Vail was riding to school with her brother when she happened to pass Real Desjarins. She turned to the window and exclaimed, "There's Real." With a puzzled look on his face the brother replied, "Is that for real?" Also Rosie related she had a message for Real during school time. As she entered the room the teacher asked, "Is this for real?"

Have you ever felt like throwing money away? Maybe not, but Marcia Newton sure had the urge. It happened one morning on the way to school. She had sneaked a donut on the school bus and when she was through out the window went the wrapper and one of her precious nickels inside. Does anyone have an extra nickel around? Marcia seems still upset from the loss of her fortune.

Mr. White sent Mike Chaplin and me on an errand but before leaving he teased about how we should behave while we were gone. As we left from 806 we happened to see the entire class rush to the window to watch us walk across the bridge. Mike suggested that we go the opposite way and fool them. It was a sight for sore eyes to see an entire class hanging halfway out the window with the teacher as the leader. They had the most foolish looks on their faces when they saw us standing in back of them laughing our heads off.

Leroy Goes to School

By "ANDI"

I'd been promising LeRoy all week long that I'd take him to school and last night he asked me in such a sweet little voice, I agreed today would be the day. He was so happy he just wiggled his feelers some more.

Then he went outside and washed up in a mud puddle, but personally I don't think it helped too much. He went to bed so early that he didn't even get to watch the Lone Ranger, and when Leroy doesn't watch the Lone Ranger, you know something's wrong.

Monday morning finally rolled around and Leroy was so excited that he could hardly eat. But it's lucky he's a smart little cockroach and he realized that it's necessary to start off the day with a good breakfast.

We left extra early for the bus because Leroy doesn't walk very fast, but I still ended up carrying him. After all I didn't want the poor dear to get all tired out right at the beginning of the day.

When we arrived at school, everything was about the same except that where we went there was usually a lot of commotion. Leroy just didn't understand why. He made quite a few friends that he'll never forget and I know they won't forget him.

In Spanish Leroy did pretty good as I told you before he came from South America, so that helped a lot.

In History, Leroy didn't have too much to say. I fact he spent most of his time listening. He explained to me later that he was trying to find out all he could about this country so that when he took the test for his citizenship papers he'd be sure and get a good grade.

Biology was where Leroy really made a hit. But he got his feelings hurt simply terrible, because those

Over a Counselors door was a sign which read:

We expell every third student that wants a new schedule or an unimportant gripe. We might add the second student just left.

My father was preaching to me when he said the best thing to do behind a person's back, is to pat it.

The other night as I was in bed sleeping my cat crawled up under the covers with his head draped over the pillow. I didn't seem to mind that so much, for he did leave me a little room for my noggin, but when he began to snore, I almost croaked! Just think of it. A snoring cat! He really did snore because my sister, who was sleeping across the room, raised up and shouted, "quit snoring, Bonnie!" When I tried to tell her that it was the cat, she said I was crazy and hit me in the head with her pillow. We started talking and the snoring continued. I thought she would split with laughter when she found out it was really the cat making all that noise. As soon as I plugged my ears up with cotton to close out the snoring of my cat I fell asleep.

Next morning as we were waking up, there was the cat lying in the same position as the night before, snoring louder than ever. We had to shake him like mad to even make him yawn. When he finally managed to open one eye he looked up as if to meow, ahem say, "Can't a cool cat have a little shut-eye?" (It was very cold that morning). For all I know he is still lying there in bed snoring to his little heart's content.

Dictatorship Best?

This country would progress more, financially, culturally, and scientifically, if there were a dictatorship.

Pause and reflect before you make some hasty decision. In order to have the most perfect form of government, dictatorship, the dictator must be a "Solomon." Sadly, however, there are far too few "Solomon's" and entirely too many "Hitlers", "Perons", and Mussolinis", who assume the reigns of leadership.

If there were a "Solomon" ruling, who would have all of his dogmas fulfilled; the nation would progress as the first Solomon's country did Charlamagne is another example of a "Solomon" which proves that there have been some perfect dictatorships.

Under a dictatorship, so much time and money would be saved and would eliminate so many of the governmental bureaucracies.

Dictatorship is the paragon of perfect government; however, until there is a modern-day "Solomon" a democracy is the best alternative.

Biology teachers were chasing him all over the place with a butterfly net.

At lunch time we went to the cafeteria, but we didn't stay very long because Leroy had the feeling that Mr. Casper was trying to pick a fight with him.

We then went to the rest of my classes, which were by now tiring to Leroy. Although he didn't complain, I could tell he was worn out.

Finally the long day came to an end, and after the bumpy bus ride home with Leroy bouncing from floor to ceiling, we arrived home, and do you know, I, for some reason, just don't think Leroy will ever ask me to take him to school again.

Hialeah Students Have Nicknames

By AILON HALL

We went peeking into a few closets and came up with some pretty snazzy nicknames. It seems as though everyone has one.

For instance George Reynolds has the nickname "Lum". How did he get it? It seems that he got mad at a friend of his and smeared limberger cheese all over his car.

Dick Van Luit answers to "Skip." Andy Lopicola is better known as "Sonny."

Betty Jean Marcum has been called "B.J." for years but she's now called "Bee Bee."

"Willie" is what Wilda Brooks answers to.

James Harvey is called "Butch" and his twin, Ed, is called "Slug". Vincent Spiaggia is called "Shades."

When Fred Steele got his glasses, friends started calling him "Four Eyes" and it stuck.

Larry Wood has two nicknames—"Dumby" and "Pin Point."

Mary Ann McMenamy is "Daddy-O."

Jo Elaine Wagner is sometimes called "Pekinese."

Jim Dorminey is another one who has two nicknames. They are "Bo Didley" and "Frog Eyes."

Don Barwick is often called "Big Don."

Barbara Hedrick is called "Cookie."

Sondra Dondanville was nicknamed "Louie" last year by Mr. Paul Plotts, and it stuck.

Gary O'Brien is called "O.B."

Linda Ogden got the nickname "Hopalong" when she had her foot operated on and came to school on crutches.

Comical Course

Did you ever notice your English teacher laughing when he's grading your themes? He's just laughing at the very little mistakes that are made when the students are in a hurry.

1. While I was shaving my aunt, Mary walked in.
2. While Bill was eating his friend, Johnny arrived.
3. Mildred, the Fuller Brush man, is here.
4. It's fourth down and we'll have to kick Jim, the quarterback said.
5. We drove through Indiana and Illinois spent a night in Chicago, and continued west.

Mean To Me (Why Are You?)

After report cards had been taken home this scene could have occurred. You were trying to be the Great Pretender, saying to your parents that you did your Sixteen Tons of homework, but Gee Whitakers, your report card sure was Adorable.

As your Daddy O opened it Only You (and you alone were Guilty). But gee, Dad, I'm just Growing Up, you said.

Mike Makes Modern Mystery

It was a balmy, murky day when we did it. We knew it had to be done. It was something that couldn't be put off any longer. Tom had his "rod" already. I had the box. We had to carry the stuff in the box. There wasn't any other way to do it.

It was January 20 at 4:00 a. m. We ate a hasty and nervous breakfast and we were as ready as we'd ever be. We turned up our collars against the icy January winds, and struck out for the car. I drove because Tom was so nervous. This was the first time he'd ever done anything like this.

Do You Pay Attention to the Most Important Things

If you were asked this question you would probably quickly answer it by saying, "Why, yes, of course I do. But to the not-so-important things, I don't."

Well, then, do you classify praying, reading the Bible and reciting the Pledge of Allegiance to the American flag the unimportant things? And do you think that conversation is the most important thing?

An ordinary answer, and a quick one, to their question, would be "No, of course not, and I don't know anyone who does." Just to prove yourselves wrong in your answers, which you are 75% of the time, look around the room one day, early in the morning when the services are held, and you will see how wrong you are and how others classify the important and unimportant things.

One student is staring out of the window; another is doing home work; the girls across the room are giggling over some silly event. Some are signaling across the room to their best friend about that good-looking girl. The rest may be talking among themselves or not paying any attention at all to what is happening or said. Do you fit this category?

Even when the P.A. announcements are given there are, as some of the teachers have said, "students that are P.A. deaf." They don't pay any heed to what is said. If they would only realize that these announcements and ceremonies are provided for their benefit and that they should take advantage of it.

Does it really take that much time and strain to stop for ten minutes and have a few moments of meditation and silence? Certainly not.

Your Club's Membership Offers Many Opportunities

By WAYNE ARNOLD

You will receive from your membership in various clubs over the school values directly in proportion to the amount of energy you put into your work. Clubs have many social functions and good times, but their main purpose is service through hard work. You can only hope to fully obtain the organization's benefits by assuming your part of the effort.

If you take every opportunity to express your views wisely, you will be preparing yourself for broader fields in business. If you know and use parliamentary procedure correctly in your club, you will be acquiring an ability that too few men have today. If you learn the meaning of full cooperation in school, you will be sought after when you take your place in business.

You will waste no time if you follow the correct course of study suggested by a complete vocational guidance clinic. You will be preparing yourself for complete leadership by unselfishly serving others. Be an active part of an active committee of your club. Think of the other fellow; help him through your club work.

These are your opportunities through the Club, but it is your responsibility to make the most of them. Your Club can't help you if you do not enter its activities wholeheartedly. You can only help your club do its job for the school by being an active member with all that your membership implies.

Brotherhood Week Celebrated

The week of February 19 through 25 is celebrated all over the world as Brotherhood Week. The start of this date is determined by the Sunday nearest this day.

Brotherhood Week is sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, which prepare special material to aid in the observance of this day.

Its object is "justice, amity, understanding, and cooperation among Protestants, Catholics, and Jews. Members of these groups in this country have found it possible to respect other people's traditions and their religious views without being in the least disloyal to their own. They champion the American idea that folks of different culture groups and religions can get along together in unity and without intolerance."

Everyone is asked to make this week successful in every respect, by respecting the true feelings of others no matter what they may be.

Dad wasn't quite as agreeable as you had hoped would be.

"Young Abe Lincoln used to study at night, and you can do the same, said your father. "It's Almost Tomorrow now, and beginning now I want you to study 24 Hours a Day."

"I'm sure going to have Moments to Remember."

How right you are, and Memories Are Made of This.

The Lord is a Busy Man, but you still told him a Teenage Prayer.

A Coronet model trainee appeared at the "Kick-off" dinner Wednesday night and displayed the clothes similar to what will be awarded the winner of the contest.

Three of these eight Hialeah High girls have a fine chance of winning honors with the help of their school chums.

'Habla Espanol?' Type It Please! Asks Al Perez

Alfred Perez, a boy from Cuba, who doesn't know how to speak English, is going to attend an American school. He got his first view of American high school systems from Hialeah High.

He is passing through Florida, and plans to go to New York. He was doing nothing at his domicile, so Manuel Lao, also from Cuba, who has lived in America for 10 years, invited him to spend a week in our beautiful new school.

Alfred was marveled, he stated that public schools are not so enormous in Cuba. He also liked the friendly attitude of the teachers.

He has attended the classes of Mrs. Keyes, Mr. Meyers, Mr. MacDonald, Mr. Melton, Mr. Bright, Mr. Sampson. He has also made many friends in Hialeah High.

He liked it so well, that "Al," as he is called by his friends, said that when he returns from New York, he will attend this school.

By DIANA BURK

"Here, Kay, type this." Kay, please hurry, I've got to meet that deadline."

To the ears of Kay Anderson these words sound more than familiar, you see Kay is the Journalism Class's favorite typist.

Kay was born in Florence, Alabama, January 10, 1939. She's 5 feet 3 inches tall and weighs 101 pounds. Her eyes are big and brown. She also has light brown hair.

For the last 7 1/2 years Kay has been a member of the 4-H Club, and last tap day, she was tapped for Honoria. Since then she has been an active member.

Kay's only hobby is sewing, and, of course, she makes her own clothes.

When asked what her pet peeves were, she said, "teachers who give homework." Kay's favorite record is "The Great Pretender," and her favorite singers are the McGuire Sisters, and the "Crew-Cuts."

Her favorite subject is biology. She has no favorite teacher.

Kay's opinion of Hialeah is "The best ever."

The only plans Kay has for the future is to attend College and to study for a religious education.

"Wow, What A Girl!"

By WAYNE ARNOLD

Angela Anderson, eighth grader of Hialeah, was born in Atlanta, Georgia, in 1942, and is 13 years of age.

Angela's father is in the Air Force and has a very active career because of his busy activity of assignments that takes him and his family over the country. This keeps Angela on the go from one school to the next which as Angela explains, is a way to make new friends.

Angela is one of the upcoming and popular students of Hialeah High. She stated that the students of Hialeah High are really friendly and the boys are real neat.

As far as her favorites are concerned, Angela says they are all her favorites, but she does show partiality to one of her subjects, which is history.

After Angela leaves college she plans to become a private secretary.

The Deadline Must Be Met

By JAMES F. RICHLAND

"A school paper is easier said than done." No student realizes this more than the student who has had journalism and I think the other students would agree if they could see how much work goes into one edition of this paper.

The day before the paper goes to press is the most confusing day of all. By the time the tardy bell rings the class is in full-swing, everybody is jumping about; proof is being handed out; papers are being set; three typewriters are going full blast; last minute adjustments to ads are being made, and to the onlooker everything seems to be chaos.

But if the sightseer were part of this efficient machine, he would not wonder at the rushing reporter, the maddened typists pounding furiously upon their outdated machines; the checking of spelling of misused words; the censoring of articles to find what the readers like; the troublesome searching for a headline to attract the attention of the public; plus the hardest part of all, placing the articles on the dummy sheet.

These things are just a few that face the class, not to mention the constant threat of meeting a deadline.

But even with this work the journalism class strives for a better paper. They enthusiastically labor for improvements to please their public.

Georgie Has Momentous Party

By TISH and DEE

Do you remember good ol' G.W.? Not many people knew him like I did. Last week I went to his annual slam-bang, beat-'em-up, knock-'em-down, drag-'em-out birthday party. Everyone gathered on the green lawn of his fabulous estate. One boy attempted to throw a Ben Franklin 50 cent piece across the Potomac. (No one could find a silver dollar). Naturally, he didn't make it because he didn't know the secret that Georgie revealed to me long ago. Here are his exact words, "Hermie, my boy, do you know why that silver dollar went across the river? It so happened that that silver dollar had an eagle on the back and when that eagle saw the dark, swirling waters of the Rappahannock below him he flapped his wings as they never had flapped before, until he reached the other side."

At the party they handed out hatchets at the door. Consequently the Mount Vernon estate is bare of all cherry trees. (The main course of the meal was cherry pie.)

After the refreshments were served, games were played. They had a contest to see who could tell the biggest lie. Georgie won, hands down.

A couple of pranksters got into the mansion and started playing Tarzan on the chandeliers. Since the house was off limits, ol' G.W. went in to get them out. It was quite a sight to see Georgie chasing Thomas Jefferson and Abe Lincoln around and around on the chandeliers.

There were many celebrities there, such as: Benard, the bartender; Irving, the undertaker; and Harry, the headhunter. Of course, there were a few who were not so well known, such as: Patrick Henry, John Adams and a guy named Henry Ford, who claimed he invented a horseless carriage.

G. W. who is an accomplished dancer, was teaching everyone the latest rage, the minuet.

The climax of the tremendous event came when the Lone Ranger arrived on his famous horse. (G. W. has always been an ardent admirer of the Lone Ranger. He hasn't missed a T.V. show yet). Georgie then proceeded to saddle his best charger and they commenced to drag.

In all, it was a very enjoyable day. Even though 90% of the guests caught pneumonia from swimming in the Potomac.

Has not God borne with you these many years? Be ye tolerant to others.—Hosea Ballou.

Worms Wanted in Room 117

By JOE MILLER

"Hey, Sam. Where're you headed?" said Jingles.

"I'm going to answer that ad that was in the Worms' Gazette this morning," replied Sam.

"You mean that ad that said worms wanted, good pay, good food, room, and complete freedom. Apply Mr. Tom Barringer, Biology Department, Hialeah High?"

"Yes."

"Is it all right if I go with you? It sounds like a pretty good deal," said Jingles.

"Sure, come on. We ought to have an awful good time together. It's only down the street."

"Well, here we are," said Sam.

"I'll ring the bell," replied Jingles.

"What bell? Even if there were one, you couldn't reach it," said Sam.

"That's right. I forgot."

"Here comes someone to the door now," said Jingles.

"Mr. Barringer, we came in answer to your ad in the paper!"

"Oh, yes. Come in."

"I have some references here if . . ." said Sam.

"You're both hired," quickly answered Mr. Barringer.

"Oh thank you, sir," said Jingles.

"Step right this way, gentlemen, and I'll show you to your quarters."

"Say, this is real classy," said Jingles.

"Why don't you go in, and make yourselves comfortable?"

"Thank you, we will," replied Jingles.

"Boy, this dirt is real soft and cozy."

"Hey wait, don't lose the lid."

"I'm sorry, but I have to or the chloroform will escape."

"What! What are you doing with chloroform," screamed Jingles.

"I wouldn't want you to feel anything when we dissect you today," said Mr. Barringer.

Just before he passed out, Jingles thought, "We really stumbled into this one. We're going to be cut up in Mr. Barringer's Biology Classes. To think I was going to take this job to soothe my nerves. The doctor said my nerves were going to pieces."

Students Tell Views of Brotherhood Week

Since Brotherhood Week starts on the 19th of February, the Inquiring Reporters this time decided to ask the following question. What does Brotherhood Week mean to you?

Larry Deets, 10-3, answered, "To me it means a week in which we should help one another."

Janice Collins, 11-3, said, "A time to practice the Golden Rule, 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you'."

Benji Lebow, 10-4, replied, "Brotherhood Week means the friendly relationship between people of the world."

Donna Gibson, 10-8, said, "To me it means a time to be kind and do things for one another."

James Rome, 10-7, answered, "A time that is not supposed to be just practiced one week but every day. To treat everyone as you would yourself."

Dottie King, 10-6, replied, "Brotherhood Week means to me a time to help the less fortunate."

Kenneth Eklund, 11-1, "To me it is a time to help people who need help."

Evette Badia, 10-2, said, "I think it means a time when everyone should help one another."

James F. Richland, 10-8, said, "A time to practice what our great country stands for: freedom and democracy. The week that makes the statement, 'All men are created equal' stand out."

Diana Burk, 10-4, said, "It is to be a time to be kind to your neighbor."

Ailon Hall, 11-10, "Brotherhood to me means a time to have more respect to my fellow man and a time to think of others instead of myself."

Jerry Coleman, 11-3, "To me the 'Brotherhood Week' is somewhat hypocritical. Can a week actually be set aside for such emotions as love, hate, desire, or even brotherhood? The trouble with people is that they designate a certain week in which they endeavor to carry out some trait which should not be limited to one week, but rather should permeate throughout the entire year."

Wayne Arnold, 10-15, "Over the course of years brotherhood has expressed its meaning in the lives of so many people and for this reason I feel that brotherhood will bring together a better mutual relationship between all mankind. On the contrary of the belief of some people it is not hypocritical."

David Ryan, 11-2, "I think it is a week to be friendlier with your neighbors and fellow man (women too). But this should not be limited to one week but year around."

Betty Jessee, 10-13, "To me, Brotherhood Week means as much as any other week which is set aside for a special reason. It is a time of love and being friendly to our friends, relatives and even our enemies. We should make every week of the year a 'Brotherhood Week' so, this Brotherhood Week let's see if you and I can maintain it the rest of the year."

Marcia Newton, 10-7, "I think that Brotherhood Week is a good thing and should be recognized as a special week of the year. I also believe it makes everybody realize that even one week of the year we can be kind and considerate to others. I believe that it should be habit forming."

Janice Beauceage, 10-13, "Brotherhood Week to me means a time when you think of your friends, neighbors, relatives and you seeing them the same and as equal as you. In God's sight we're all the same. We shouldn't have Brotherhood Week but Brotherhood all the time. I'm sure if there was more brotherly love we wouldn't always be on a brink of a war or have the segregation problems."

Wayne Arnold Will Run for Presidency

Wayne Arnold, President of the Key Club, has announced that he will run for the Key Club International Presidency this year.

Wayne's purpose in attempting to attain this high honor is that he might devote more service to Key Clubs than they have been receiving over the nation. He plans to run under certain conditions. First, if he receives the Florida delegation's backing before attending the convention this year.

"Buz" Allen, State Key Club Governor, remarked that it was possible for Wayne to go to the International Convention this year and run without the nominating committee of the State Key Clubs' backing. But at the convention it is possible to have the Florida State Delegation to call a caucus and issue its support to a candidate.

At the State Key Convention this year Wayne rated high in the Oratorical Contest. Also at the Convention he was the campaign manager for Former President of the Hialeah High School Key Club in his election for Lieutenant-governorship of Division II in Dade County.

Wayne hopes to carry the support of some of the U. S. leaders in Key Club, especially Klein Wiggington, ex-Governor of the Florida Key Clubs.

This Convention will be held in Dallas, Texas. Key Clubbers over the World will be present at this convention hoping to establish the growth of Key Clubs over the land.

There will be invitations sent out to the outstanding leaders of the Dade County Key Clubs. It is expected that only the presidents of such clubs will be invited because of the desire to house the attendance as comfortably as possible.

It is hoped that one of the outstanding leaders of Florida's government will be present to speak at the dinner.

The primary purpose of this dinner is to promote more mutual relations with the county Key Clubs and the State Key Clubs.

Hi-Notes From Hialeah

By MARCIA ANN NEWTON

News Bits: Mrs. Hallman, a school bus driver for the students of Hialeah High, is unanimously elected the favorite bus driver of this school. Most of the students who ride with her every day agree that she is the school bus driver that they would most like to have through the high school years. Mrs. Hallman has done many favors for the school not only this year but previous years, such as driving the students to plays whenever one is given at another school, and anyway, I sincerely believe that most students prefer to have her along.

Fashion Fads: Bonnie Clark is now on a sewing spree. She has a new boyfriend, who is in college (a freshman), and in the meantime she has decided to enlarge her wardrobe. In doing so Bonnie will make a dress every weekend that her beau is gone, that will give her about 8 weeks.

MARCIA

Joyce Hatch, a very ambitious student council member, wore a cute outfit the other day. Its pencil slim skirt with straps go across the front and back. Joyce always manages to look nice.

Lynda Herold, that adorable brunette who's in the tenth grade, who, by the way, was a Band Stand Matinee Queen, just always looks lovely. The other day she bought an awfully cute pair of shoes that are white with an artificial flower on the front. Lynda was one of the girls in the running for our school sweetheart.

Francis Pollard, a tenth grader at H.H.S., has a habit of wearing the smartest clothes, one would never know that she makes most of them. It's pretty neat to be so handy at the sewing machine.

Now that's what I call a well-dressed student. Steve Cohen has really been noticed around school lately because of how handsome he looked the other day when he wore that stunning outfit. It was a plaid shirt (very pretty) with light blue pants, the belt matched the plaid shirt. It was certainly one of the nicest looking outfits that he has worn.

WILLY HARTACK, the million dollar jockey, placed the crown of the Hialeah High Sweetheart on the head of Judy King, junior. Mr. Hartack was assisted in the coronation by Charlotte Zeletes, last year's sweetheart.

Key Honors "Buz" Allen

Wayne Arnold, President of the Hialeah High School Key Club, announced recently that the Key Club is making arrangements for a Testimonial Dinner honoring the Florida State Governor of Key Clubs.

Wayne stated that the reason in selecting "Buz" Allen for the Testimonial Dinner was his outstanding service in Florida Key Clubs. Also "Buz" has been very active in the Florida Key of which he is the former Editor. Through his service to the Florida Key he developed much for all Key Clubs in Florida, aiding his own division which happens to be Dade County.

At the state Key Club convention this year "Buz" ran for the Key Club's Governorship. He won, and through his victory Key Clubs in Florida are receiving the greatest amount of aid.

His speech will concern mainly the progress of Key Clubs this year since he has taken office. Also he will talk of his program in carrying Florida forward through the rest of his administration.

This will be the first such dinner given by Key Club since its organization last year. Tickets for the dinner will be $.....

Cookie Sale Given

By WAYNE ARNOLD

Indian Club members are at present sponsoring a cookie sale to buy new outfits for new members being brought into the club this semester. This is another of the projects undertaken by the club over the previous year. Since the school is no longer purchasing outfits for the girls who are members of the Indian Club, the members of the Indian Club did not sit down on the job but they had a cookie sale which has brought much attention to the student body near the Key Club refreshment stand.

By WAYNE ARNOLD

M. E. Goff, sponsor of the H.H.S. Sr. High Photography Club, and the club's President C.T.M. are making Hialeah High's Photography Club another of the fine features of the school's program.

As far as activity is concerned the club has an enlisted membership of high standing who are learning through the excellent leadership of Mr. Goff many of the principles and facts which concern the making of good photographs.

Students interested in becoming members of the Photography Club are suggested to get in contact with Mr. Goff or the Activity Department, which is headed by Mr. Heaps. It is also suggested that only those who are willing to contribute their part toward the success of the Club as well as their own individual learning, should join.

Student Council Tag Day Proves Tremendous Success

Thanks to the students of Hialeah High, the local businessmen, and the entire communities of Hialeah and Miami Springs, the Student Council Tag Day was a tremendous success. The Council made close to $500. This more than fulfilled the Council's hopes for raising money for the ensuing projects which the Council has planned.

Since the Student Council is more or less the "father" or patron of all school clubs and societies, the Student Council magnanimously paid for the flowers and other paraphenalia used during the recent installation of the National Honor Society. This was an expression of the Council's appreciation for having the newest of school societies.

The Student Council is approving the newly revised and edited constitution. This, being a major step in school procedures, is being passed with the greatest of care. The Council is sending three members to the National Christian-

Jew Conference. President Dennis Baker, Francis Rushing, and Mary Buchanan, will enjoy a banquet as well as informative talks on the Christian-Jew relations.

The Student Council would like to thank all of the Student Council members who helped in making the recent Tag Day a success. The representatives are taking a more active interest in the school as well as Council activities.

Hedge Hop Helps H. Cats

A Hedge Hop was held in the cafeteria February 17th, to help in beautifying the grounds of the school. The dance was held from 3:05 to 5:00. The price of admission was 10 cents. This money was given to the making of gardens for the school. The latest records were spun and everyone had a good time. This dance for the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades was sponsored by Home Room 810.

Directories Have Names of Many Famous People

Have you ever walked down the hall and heard someone talking about a famous person. They could be talking about someone in this very school. Many students have names the same as famous people.

This very minute you may be thumbing through your Student Directory and happen to notice a name similar to a movie star such as Rock Hudson, Jane Russell, or Eddie Cantor. Now is the time to cash in on these people. Look through your Student Directory and pick out as many famous names as you can. Write the names and the persons' room numbers along with your name and room number on a slip of paper and bring it to room 311 before or after school or during 5th period.

The names will be checked in the Student Directory, and if true you will receive two passes to the Essex Theater, two passes to the Circle Theater, and a slip good for two milk shakes at the new Dairy Queen on 43rd Street and 4th Avenue.

If, in case of a tie, the first ones in will be the winner.

Start looking in your Student Directory. If you don't have one, buy one, and turn in your famous names.

86 Honored At First Banquet

Each of these boys, over the previous football season have shown the initiative and service of boys interested in service of school as well as sports.

The introduction of the guest speaker was made after the final word that WKAT had tuned in for the public to hear the address made by the Hon. Estes Kefauver.

Senator Kefauver's speech was mainly concerned with the youth of today and its activity as a whole explaining that the youth of today is not the worst but, possibly and surely that of the most interest in the betterment of the community as a whole and the school. Kefauver brought out some interesting material concerning juvenile delinquency. Of this material Kefauver gave the impression that the youth of today is that of the best with a future of great service for their country. Kefauver stated that in summing up juvenile delinquency as a whole, the cause is that of poor training in youth concerns perhaps. Kefauver remarked that the real concern and most likely way of aiding in the fight against juvenile delinquency is from the home, the church, and the school.

After the Senator's speech the public showed much interest in making acquaintance with the Senator and obtaining autographs.

Of all the public present, the general agreement was that the dinner had been a success and surely had established a better Hialeah School as well as a community of outstanding leaders-of-tomorrow developed from the training that Hialeah High offers the students.

Thanks Given to Hialeah Council

reer Day Activity.

Mr. Duke did just as he had stated he would do concerning the Municipal Auditorium. And at the meeting of February 16, the City Council voted unanimously to allow the schools to use the auditorium rent free. Through the move by the Hialeah City Council the school will have space to house the different grades of the school for the Career Day Activity.

This is another step forward in the mutual agreement of the City and the school. If attempts are made to continue to work for new and better things for the youth of the school, it is probable that the high school will always be assured of of Miami and major in some branch city officials.

Artists Start Projects

Some of Mr. Barney Myers art students are doing work on oil paintings in relationship to a school project.

Each student has completed a series of studies and sketches for his final oil painting.

Mr. James Bally is cooperating with the students in the making of a frame for this painting.

The Parent-Teachers Association and the school have paid for the material that the frames will be made of.

These paintings are hoped to be completed this year.

Below is a list of the students who will make the paintings, and also the subject of the drawing, and the name of the teachers who will have the paintings in their room.

Miamian May Win Trip to Europe

Some talented, young non-professional entertainer from Miami will be enjoying a 17-week all-expenses paid entertainment tour through Alaska, Hawaii, the Far East, England, France, Germany any Italy this summer, thanks to a Storer Talent Search, now being conducted by WGBS-Radio in cooperation with the Department of Defense.

Miami's winner will have an opportunity to join the Storer Nanigans, a group of 22 young people, selected through similar contests on Storer Broadcasting Company radio stations in Miami, Atlanta, Birmingham, Wheeling, Cleveland, Toledo and Detroit. The Nanigans will leave on or about June 1st from the West Coast and will give performances at U. S. Army installations around the world, before returning the last of September.

This will be fourth tour for the Nanigans and the first worldwide trip. The three previous routes have been through Europe, where servicemen voted the Nanigans the Number One overseas entertainment group.

The contest is open to single and double non-professional acts, age 13 to 23. Contestants must be United States citizens, must meet Army requirements for participation and must have permission from parents or guardians.

The contest is being conducted through 13 weekly half-hour programs. The series begins on WGBS Sunday, February 5th, 5:30 to 6:00 p. m. Two winners are selected each week to appear on a fourth week, or semi-final program. Two winners from each of the three semi-final programs will appear on the 13th, or final program, scheduled for April 29th.

Winners are selected by Judges chosen by WGBS, and judging will be based on personality, appearance and talent.

Entrants are being given these tips. Instrumentalists should be able to carry their instruments. This rules out strictly piano acts, because pianos are not always available at Army installations. The unit uses no scenery or major props because of transportation problems. While all expenses are paid, no allowance is made for souvenirs, or gifts.

Contestants must provide their own accompaniment and musical arrangements.

Contest End Near

The United Nations Contest deadline is March 13, said Mr. C. R. Earnest, history teacher. All the necessary study material has been received and may be obtained by requesting it from Mr. Earnest in room 707. There are only two entrants at this time, Carol Binns, and William E. Hoy.

An examination will be given on Tuesday morning, March 13. The examination will cover the various activities, purposes, and structure of the United Nations.

The local and state winners will be announced April 30. All national winners will be announced no later than June 1.

The first national prize is a trip to Europe or $500; the second national prize is a trip to Mexico or $250. Various state and local prizes will also be awarded.

Mr. Earnest requests that anyone interested should see him in room 707 as soon as possible.

Hurry! Contest Closes Soon Girls Reveal Their Ideal Boy

By RAY FIELD

Hey You All,

You better get to work fast! Next month the Eastman Kodak, High School Photographic Awards Contest closes. If you would like to see the entries of last year's winners, look in the showcases in the hall and library. Then run up to Room 507 and pick up a couple of entry blanks from Mrs. Anthony, Curriculum advisor. It's well worth entering!

***

Last year, in my column in the "Record," I outlined the method for processing films and papers. A couple of months ago Kodak sent me the Kodak Pamphlet number J-19, printed in August of '55. This pamphlet contained the modern processing methods. If you wish to see it contact me in Room 811.

***

Below is a letter sent to the "Record" from Kodak advising everyone to enter the contest. Read it carefully.

Students at Hialeah High still have time to get in on the opportunities to win fame and fortune in this year's National High School Photographic Awards, contest headquarters has announced.

Closing date is March 31, 1956.

From the Newsfront

Science Lesson: When the first-grade teacher asked her class for the names of the four seasons, one little boy came up with this answer: "Duck season, rabbit season, pheasant season, and deer season."

Preschool Patterns: A nursery in a Wichita church segregates its young charges into three groups: "Sleepers," "Creeper," and "Leap-ers."

Paying Through The Nose: Have you had a cold yet this winter? If not, you may be one of the lucky 10 per cent who will go through the season without a sniffle or a cough. It is estimated that the nation's annual toll of five hundred million colds costs more than five billion dollars (counting medical expenses and time lost from work), or ten dollars a cold.

Wanted: More Scholarships: Each year 200,000 of the country's most able high school graduates do not attend college, the College Entrance Examination Board reports. A nation-wide sample of high school boys with high ability shows that of those not planning to go to college three out of four would go if adequate scholarship help were available.

New Contest on Ads

Would you like to win $500? If you would, enter the National Advertising Convention Essay Contest. The topic for the essay, which is of great interest, is "An America without Advertising."

Think of the opportunity that title offers for full play of your imagination. No advertising in all America. No advertising in the newspapers, magazines, or periodicals. No sponsors for radio or television programs. No sales letters or promotion folders. No spectaculars on Broadway, or outdoor signs or posters. What would that mean to American industry and business, to your city, to your family, to you? Would it be good? Bad?

Answer these questions in an original and enlightening manner, in 1,000 words or less, and you may win $500.

and entries mailed up to midnight of that date will be accepted. Winners will be announced in May when a total of 256 cash prizes, amounting to $5,000, will be awarded.

You don't have to be an expert to enter and win prizes, either, headquarters points out. In past years some of the top awards have gone to boys and girls who have used just the simplest "box" cameras to snap prize-winning photos.

The entries will be judged in four classes: (1) School Activities; (2) People; (3) Pictorials, and (4) Animals and Pets. The first award in each class will be $300, second will be $200, third $100, and there also will be a $50 special award in each class. In addition 240 honorable mention awards of $10 each also will be given.

Any student in the 9th through the 12th grades may submit any number of photos taken since April 1, 1955. Each entry must have been taken by the contestant without professional help, but it is not necessary for the entrant to do the developing and printing.

Additional details on how to enter your photos in the contest, which is sponsored by the Eastman Kodak Company, are available from Eastman dealers, or can be obtained by writing to National High School Photographic Awards, 343 State St., Rochester 4, New York.

For any questions on the above text send to David Rayfield in Room 311 or 313.

Seniors Can Earn Money for College

Help for seniors who need additional funds in order to enter college is the purpose of a plan just announced by Time Inc., publisher of Time and Life.

The Time-Life Earned Scholarship Plan, as explained in a letter sent to high school principals throughout the U. S. and Canada, makes it possible for qualified seniors to earn amounts up to $300 or more in a few hours of spare-time work each week during their final semester.

Seniors who earn $150 or more in the plan will receive grants from Time Inc., matching their earnings. All earnings and matching funds will be paid in a lump sum at graduation, so that the student can pay entrance fees or buy books for college.

Only a limited number of seniors in each school will be admitted to the Earned Scholarship Plan upon nomination by their Principal. Those admitted will be authorized to act as Time-Life Subscription Representatives.

Seniors who want to enter the program should see the Principal immediately.

Club Gets Active

The Sports Club after not being very active has jumped on the bandwagon to come through and really start going.

They made about fifty dollars on the Junior Valentine Dance and plan to spend the money on athletic uniforms, for the girls varsity.

In the near future they are going on a camping trip, providing they made enough money on this tag dance.

The officers of the club are: Nola Cole, president; Sherry Dunn, vice-president; Dot Hood, secretary; Pat Deese, treasurer; Nancy Lapidus, social chairman; and Myrtle Meeker, point recorder.

Do You Know Him?

By BARBARA HEDRICK

Get the formaldehyde! Get the scalp! It's time for all good worms to come to the aid of young biologists.

The biology classes are now starting to dissect the slimy creatures. In some of the classes, the students are naming those cute little things. Bonnie Clark calls hers Holman the Wolman. Marilyn Jones' worm answers by the name of Daddy-O.

Bill Smith named his after a classmate, "Barbara." Barbara Hedrick calls her oozy-gooy Bill for obvious reasons.

Aundrea Christopher has a very affectionate name for her worm. She calls him lambie-pie. Maybe you don't know it but lambie-pie and Leroy (her cockroach) are sweethearts.

They are just human.

Variety of Subjects Good for Students

You many think that there is no sense in taking so many different subjects in school. Perhaps you believe that you need only subjects that connect directly with your "intended" life's work. You might even look down on the school board for having these different subjects. But, although they seem silly and widely different, they are all created for your benefit and they all, somehow, connect up in a direct or indirect way.

Taking a variety of subjects, in high school helps you to decide on what your occupation is going to be. If you have already decided about your occupation, it helps you, also, since teen-agers change their minds about jobs and careers as they progress in school and learn more about different job offerings, opportunities, and requirements. It also gives you knowledge on a wide scope of things and their facts broaden you for the many future problems you must face in life.

G. A. A. Plans to Have New Award

At a board meeting of the Girls' Athletic Association Tuesday, February 14, a new award was proposed. The award to be given "out of the five highest points of girls of the G.A.A., two girls will be picked out to attend a camp at Florida State University this summer."

Girls who will be chosen will attend the camp for two weeks, all expenses paid.

This award will be given at the Annual Award Banquet of the G.A.A., in the latter part of the year.

In the near future, the G.A.A. hopes to have a picnic at Crandon Park.

A city-wide G.A.A. meeting will be held Tuesday, March 13.

I Must Do My Homework

By VIRGINIA COLEMAN

The three o'clock bell rings and you prepare to go home. You walk to your locker and are about to put your books away when it hits you. . . . BIOLOGY HOMEWORK.

You're home now and not thinking about homework but the top song hits, yummy peanut butter sandwiches and that coke.

First you get yourself all lined up to study. A nice comfortable chair, a pillow and that soft drink, and, of course, the biology book.

Let's see now, "The starfish, brittle star and sea urchin are common examples of the phylum Echinodermata. "What-t-t. I can't even pronounce this word. Where did they dig that up? A sip of coke, a shift of position and you're ready to go back to your toil.

Now you decide to play the radio. Between earthworms and "The Great Pretender" you gaze at the page of the book.

The next day when the questioning on the chapter is being held, you can't seem to remember the answers. The only thing you know are the words to the latest song hits and never mind the biology.

Of course, you are swelling with pride, nevertheless, you did your homework!

Plays to Be Seen

"Noah," a Broadway production, will be presented by the Ring Theater, at the University of Miami, from March 4-20. Mr. Joe White is now making plans to take a group of students to see this play the 4th of March.

Also trips are being planned to see the "Curious Savage" at Miami Edison, February 29, and "My Sister Eileen" at North Miami High.

Aynone interested in going to see these plays can contact Mr. White in Room 804 for details of the trip.

Letter Club Is Organized

A newly organized club is the Letter Club. The only way you can become a member of this club is by being a member of the GAA and having earned a letter in athletics.

They are selling sweat shirts to raise money for the club's future activities.

Officers are: Mary Buchanan, president; Beverly Martin, vice-president; Diana Wright, secretary; Frances Rushing, treasurer; and Annette Pritchard, chaplain.

It's the Best

By HAZEL POMEROY

Hey, kids, what's the matter? Now you may say "What's the matter?" with that "Well, I'll tell you."

Upstairs above the offices is a large room full of books. Yes, you guessed it, I am talking about the library. We have one of the best libraries there is and the librarians are tops. They help in every way they can. Also there are student helpers that do the odd jobs. The librarians and their helpers are trying to build the library and make possible all the books that the students want and need.

One headache about the library is: when students take a book out and don't take care of it and it is damaged and has to be mended. When students damage a book they must pay a small fee. The pet peeve around the library, is not the talking; it is the students who say "But I didn't do that. It was done when I checked it out." If you will remember when the library was first opened this year and for many years before you were told that when you check a book out you are supposed to check to see if there is any damage and from the time you take the book through the door you are responsible. When the book comes in, the librarians check to see if there is any damage, you are responsible. Let's all remember to take care of library books. If something should happen, let's face our responsibilities and take care of them.

This Girl Likes Lively People

Are you a killjoy? If so, stand clear of Annette Pritchard, for her pet peeve is gloomy, unhappy people and killjoys.

Annette, a popular junior, was born in Miami, Florida, on June 23, 1939. She is five feet, one inch tall and has light brown hair and brown eyes.

She has always been athletic. In the tenth grade she was on the Girls Volleyball, Basketball, Softball and Badminton teams.

This school year she has made the Volleyball and Basketball teams. Annette is very active in five of Hialeah's clubs and also holds an office in several of them. She is president of Honoria, president of Girls' Athletic Association, Chaplain of Girls Letter Club, she belongs to the Official Club and has just become a member of National Honor Society.

Her most exciting experience is living.

Annette would like to attend Duke University or Florida State to study nursing.

Girls Reveal Their Ideal Boy

HEY, GUYS!—Sit up and take notice! The gals of Hialeah High were asked what they look for in an ideal boy. Here are their replies:

Pat Mehaffey: "Respect for a girl, taller than I, cute, and he must be a lot of fun."

Pat Roberts: "He must have a good build, dance well, and be considerate."

Lillian O'Dell: "Height and a flat top."

Anna Lipko: "Taller than me, lots of fun, good looking, and very considerate."

Linda Ogden: "Bleach blond, curly hair."

Wilda Brooks: "A lot of fun, neat looking and dark hair!!"

TRACK MEET WON BY QUARANTA TEAM

Boys from three physical education classes took part in a triangular track meet two weeks ago. Mr. Tony Quaranta's class was tops with 56 points. Mr. Jack Kaspar's boys were close behind with 53; Mr. Reynolds Sampson got together 28 points.

The climax came on the last day of the meet when Mr. Kaspar's team held a 46-44 lead with only two events to go. On the first day Joe Burns, Willard Ley, and a 880 relay team put Quaranta out in front. In the second day's events, James Levit placed first in the 75- and 100-yard dashes and Ronnie Carey took the 220-yard dash for Kaspar. Herb Klinghoffer gave Mr. Q five big points in the 440-yard run. He was paced by classmate, Charles Castellucci.

On the final day Joe Burns won the 440-yard run. This gave Quaranta's boys a one-point lead and placed the whole meet on the shoulders of the 880-yard relay team. The team of Eddie Metzler, John Cavalier, Willard Ley, and Jack Reynolds won to give Quaranta the meet.

Hialeah Cagers End Successful Season

Thorobred Cagers Find Revenge at South Dade 60-52

The Hialeah quintet paced by Skip Van Luit avenged their earlier defeat by smashing South Dade 60-52.

The Thorobreds broke from the start with the score 19-8 in the first quarter and also led 35-28 at the half. The second half was close but Hialeah stayed ahead 49-40 in the thirdquarter, then ended with the score given previously.

"Skip" who almost always gives a good showing of himself, hit for 21 points with his fellow teammates Don Goodman and Larry Wood following up with 13 points each. Wayne Garrick, dazzled the South Dade team with his great dribbling and faking, assisted by his teammate Jerry Askowitz.

South Dade tried vainly to stop Hialeah's attack but to no avail, for the Thorobreds were out to get them, and they did.

The Thorobreds had been defeated 42-41 in the first meeting of the two teams at home. South Dade started the season with a bang but has been dropping ever since.

Hialeah won the Jaycee game with a fine showing 48-41 over the rebels from South Dade.

Hialeah Routs Peter & Paul

Hialeah defeated Sts. Peter and Paul in what turned out to be an exhibition, not a basketball game, 75 to 32 at home two weeks ago.

Everyone that dressed for the Hialeah team played in every quarter. Thorobreds never had to worry about Peter and Paul catching up because the second string was also scoring easily.

In the first half, Don Goodman was literally left alone and he racked up 12 points making five field goals and dunking four out of seven foul shots he failed to score in the second half because he wasn't needed. Larry Wood wound up high scorer for the Thorobreds with 14 points. Skippy Yoham tallied ten points for Peter and Paul.

In the last quarter the fans got a kick out of Bob Guarino who was shooting from everywhere, making some of his shots. He wound up with 10 points while the second-string playmaker Bruce Walton got hot for eight points.

The Jaycee game was also a romp as the Thorobreds won 55-24. Everyone got in the game and every player scored at least two points. Three players wound up with nine points. They were Keith Willoughby, Dick Krtausch, and Billy Spruce.

Mayo Deserves Praise

That speedy, tall blond forward you see on Hialeah's basketball team is none other than Mayo Holmes. He is 6 feet, one inch tall and weighs 135 pounds.

Mayo was born April 3, 1939, in Miami, Florida, and is now a popular junior.

Although he likes most sports, basketball and track head his list. Naturally being full of school spirit, Mayo's favorite colors are red and blue. Like a lot of other students, his pet peeve is too much home work.

In Mayo's opinion Hialeah is the "greatest," but he thinks the loss of the seventh and eighth grades and the addition of the senior class will help it a lot. Mayo being an outstanding student is a member of the National Honor Society. He would like to go to the University of Miami and major in some branch of science.

He has played basketball for two years and thinks that the team is learning and gaining much needed experience each game.

Hialeah Drops Decisive Game

With a 9-9 record, a winning or losing season at stake, Hialeah traveled to Jackson gym to meet Tech High in the final game of the season.

Without the help of center Don Goodman, Hialeah lost to Tech 65 to 46 as Tech avenged an early season defeat.

Tech controlled the backboards all evening and their star guard, Charles Finney, was high scorer for the Blue Devils with 20 points. The boys who controlled the backboards were Zane Bundy, Morgan Percy, and Bill Hagan.

Skip Van Luit was high man for the Thorobreds with 17 points; Jerry Askowitz scored 13, while Larry Wood tallied 10.

Hialeah's Jayvee team concluded a successful season by beating the Tech "B" team 43 to 22. Here is the Varsity box score:
