GRIN & BEAR IT --- EXAMS NEXT WEEK

Bus Company Sponsors 'Traffic Problem' Contest

By LEONARD PARDUE

Ready or not... here they come! Just a week away are the dreaded, despised equalizers—mid term examinations. On January 21, 22, and 23 of next week Hialeah students will be put through the paces in everything from Homemaking to Trigonometry. No one will escape the sickening feeling that is experienced during exam week. From Seniors on down to Fresh, all will participate in the tests.

However, students may gain some relief from noting that following the three lean days (testing days) come three days of plenty (no school) sandwiched around a week-end to give students five consecutive worry-free 24-hour periods. School will resume on January 29 after being dismissed at 3 o'clock on the 23.

For the upperclassmen Seniors, these will be the last examinations of their high school careers, excluding the six weeks type test. However, if a semester quiz is failed or a low mark is incurred, it could serve to pull down a yearly average, thus causing the infliction of a final exam at the year's end. Students should also note that semester courses will be administering final exams at this time.

Thus the half way mark has been reached. The sought-after "fresh start" is available to each and all. Eighteen more weeks of school remain and ninety more school days. Each one, as a Hialeah English teacher so aptly puts it, is "another glorious day in which to excel."

Record Covers Inauguration

RECORD Editor Wayne Arnold and staff writer Jack Starkey attended the inauguration of Governor LeRoy Collins in Tallahassee last week, and a detailed story account of the event will appear in the next issue of the RECORD.

While in the capitol city the pair will interview Governor Collins and sit in on a session of the state senate.

They traveled to Tallahassee on a special press train, and stayed at the Floridian Hotel.

This is the first time that a high school newspaper has sent reporters to cover the important event, and Arnold hopes it will set a precedent.

"I think that stories on the inauguration and interviews with top state officials will be a swell educational subject for our paper," said Arnold.

TAKING A LOOK at a symbol of Hialeah's own traffic problem is Miss Virginia Ehrman, Public Relations representative for Miami Transit and Miami Beach Railway Companies. The two bus companies are sponsoring a "Traffic Problem Solution" contest. Other scenery in the picture is RECORD staff writers Marcia Newton and Ed Barber.

Herald Essay Contest

... McAlister Again

Though challenged by all public, private, and parochial schools in Dade Co.—over 2,000 students in all—the Hialeah entrants have again won top honors in the 23rd Annual Herald Essay Contest. For the third year, Hialeah has had a grand prize winner. The first year, Joe MacAllister won second prize which included $200.00 and a complete set of encyclopedias; the second year, F. Jerry Coleman won the second grand prize; and this year, Sarah MacAlister is the second grand prize winner.

Subject of the year was, "Is My Newspaper Giving Me What I Need?" All the entrants from Hialeah mutually agreed that the topic was the most difficult so far since it involves such a subjective topic. Nevertheless, over one hundred essays were written from Hialeah, and five were selected to go to the inter-school competition. All entrants from Hialeah wrote that the paper does meet with the qualifications of a newspaper that services the community well.

F. Jerry Coleman has competed in the contest for three years and has won each time that he has entered. He states that he has won $500.00 in his Herald Essay endeavors.

The second prize from the school this year was won by Marleen Bowen, a senior, who entered the contest once before.

However, all those who did not win a check or a pair of tickets to the Orange Bowl game have learned much from writing on the topic.

This year's winners have had their pictures and articles about them and await the luncheon in January which will be attended by advisors from the schools, teachers, and the superintendent of schools.

Quill & Scroll To Initiate 10

At a dinner before the end of this semester, insignia pins will be presented by the Miami Jackson Globe editor to the Hialeah High School Quill and Scroll members at their initiatory dinner.

Quill and Scroll is the international honor society for high school journalists. Charter members to be pinned at the formal initiation are Kay Anderson; Hi-ways business manager, Ed Barber; associate editor of the RECORD, Mike Davis; staff member of both the Hi-Ways and the RECORD, Deanne Fincher; Record staffer, and Leonard Pardue; editor of the Hi-Ways. Other members are Bonnie Clark, Marcia Newton, Jim Richland, David Rayfield, and Wayne Arnold, all of the RECORD.

The Honor Society is for journalists only. All members of the Hialeah Chapter are from either the RECORD or the Hi-Ways staffs both advised by Mrs. Alfreda Miller. The charter has already been acquired and officers will be elected at the initiation.

"Grand" Scholarship Offered As Booty

A two thousand-dollar scholarship to the University of Miami or Florida A. and M. will be the first prize offered in the essay contest sponsored by Miami Transit and the Miami Beach Railway companies.

"Traffic congestions in Miami—crowded shopping areas could be relieved by..." is the theme of this essay. The sentence is to be completed in 1000 words or less.

Rules for the contest are:

1. Open to all senior high students in Dade County (ninth to twelfth grades).  $\frac{1}{2}$   $\frac{1}{2}$   $\frac{1}{2}$   $\frac{1}{2}$
2. Entries must be either typed on blank paper or written in ink on lined paper on one side only, and postmarked no later than 12 p.m., March 31.
3. Only one entry from each student will be accepted.
4. The scholarship will be awarded on originality and aptness of thought, understanding of public traffic problems, and clarity of expression.
5. Decision of the judges is final.

A list of all winners will be published in the daily newspapers and posted on senior high bulletin boards.

The judges will be A. T. Beckwith, President of downtown Business Council; George H. Kunde, traffic engineer of the City of Miami; Adm. Charles D. Leffler, vice-chairman of the Dade County Coordinating Commission; Morris N. Lipp, city engineer of the City of Miami Beach; R. Warner Ring, president of Citizens Safety Council of Dade County.

Entries will be mailed to Scholarship Contest, Miami Transit Co., 310 Roper Building, Miami, Fla.

During the period of the essay contest two awards will be made to the two senior highs that show the greatest percent of students in relation to enrollment, participating in the essay contest.

At the same time two senior high newspaper will be given prizes by the essay sponsors for the best coverage of the contest over all traffic conditions.

Arnold Installed As 'Key' Secretary

Wayne Arnold, secretary of Florida Key Clubs, was installed in the office at Jacksonville on January 5 and 6.

Wayne was elected to the job last November against a strong opponent from Coral Gables High School.

Wayne's victory over the Gables' candidate unclogged one of the strongest political machines in state Key Club history.

Hialeah Teacher Opens Heart To Hungarians

Put yourself in their places.

First, you are an Hungarian teenager. And, like John and Andy, the wards of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Salek, you have seen the terrors of communism in the streets of your cities, and in the faces of your friends.

And, like John and Andy did, you would flee to freedom, traveling hundreds of miles to do so.

Now, you are no longer a Hungarian, but a Hungarian refugee, a stranger in a strange land.

But it doesn't matter that you're a stranger, for this strange land is the land of freedom and promise, and right away you find that two Americans are willing to take you in and care for you, until you are able to take your place in the American society.

Getting information from John and Andy was a bit difficult since the boys speak no more than a few words of English, and the reporter spoke no Hungarian, but, with the help of all present, (and a Hungarian-English dictionary) their story was brought to light. When asked what he planned to do in America, he said, "To work and to study."

John, who was from Debrecan, a city of 400,000 and which is only thirty short miles from the Russian border, traveled from there, by train, to Vienna Austria, and freedom. From there, he flew to Ireland, Iceland, Newfoundland, New Jersey. At Camp Kilmer, he met Andy, who is from Sezged, a city of 500,000, and then went to New York and later to Miami.

Mr. Salek, who is an English teacher and a track coach here at Hialeah, and his wife, contacted the American Red Cross, and told

City Cracks Down Problem Remains

Two weeks ago, a sloppy attempt was made by the City of Hialeah to draw the curtain on the severe parking problem which has suddenly come into headlines at Hialeah High School.

A harsh crackdown on student parking by the city has thrown the car-owner clock of Hialeah's student body into upheavals.

The city plan calls for limiting parking space around the school to teachers, and issuing tickets to all "violators."

THIS PLAN IS NOT WORKING SUCCESSFULLY NOW, AND IT NEVER WILL!

Here is our solution:

Step One: Request the City of Hialeah to pave the parking lanes on 47th and 48th Streets.

Step Two: Number the parking spaces around the school.

Step Three: Assign parking spaces to all school personnel.

Step Four: Rent the remaining spaces (and there will be plenty of them) to students desiring not to have to walk the distance from the municipal parking lot to school at a fee of $5.00 per school term. The fee would assure the permit holder a reserved parking space throughout the school year during school hours.

Monies received from parking fees could be turned over to the city to defray cost of paving the lanes. Students not wishing to pay the $5.00 fee could park in the municipal parking lot on Palm Avenue. AMEN.

WHAT THIS REVISED PLAN WOULD DO:

This plan is being suggested only after careful consideration of all elements, factors, and persons involved. The main point about it is that it would superficially satisfy all persons involved. School personnel would be happy because the plan would give them a reserved parking space. Residents living across from the school would still restrict students from parking in their front yards. The students would not be directly satisfied because of the fee involved, but they would be forced to admit the plan "OK" because of the chance they would be given to obtain a reserved parking space.

You must understand though this is only a suggestion. If you want action, you'll have to work for it. Just write a letter to your City Councilman. Your parents are helping to pay his salary. YOU are his boss.

ADDRESS LETTERS TO:

My City Councilman
City Hall

Now Is the Hour

Book Title—AMERICAN DEMAGOGUES.

Author—Henry Reinhard Luthin

American Demagogues tells the lives of some of the great and astounding politicians and political bosses of American Political History. This fascinating book describes the technique of some of the most elaborate and elegant politicians ever to come across the face of American Civic Life.

American Demagogues describes a demagogue as a political agitator who gains and uses power by appealing to the ignorance or prejudice of the people.

1. EUGENE TALMADGE—"O!" Gene was without a shadow of doubt one of the best and most elegant demagogues at fooling the people in the South. He was born in a little country town in Georgia. He had the ambition of becoming a United States Senator from the time he was a small individual until his death when he had just been elected Governor of Georgia for the third time, but he never reached his goal.

Eugene Talmadge was elected the Agriculture Commissioner of Georgia after waging a campaign which consisted of red suspenders, flashy bow tie, barbecues, fish fries, political promises, and touching oratory. He moved into the state political organization and took over, throwing capable men out and putting in his political henchmen.

2. HUEY P. LONG—"King Fish" Huey Long, the man who dominated Louisiana's political scene for many years with a steel arm, not stopping at anything to reach his own selfish goals. The main goal of the "King Fish" was to become the President of the United States, a goal which was never to be realized. Long became the Governor of Louisiana, and one of the most colorful Senators from the state to represent its people in Washington.

3. JAMES CURLEY—Mayor of the Poor, James Curley has had a startling and fascinating life. One which saw him as a great orator, man of handouts, decisive figure in FDR victory's president, prisoner, and political boss. In fact James Curley the Mayor of Boston and Governor of Mass., is still alive today and enjoying the rest of a Senior Citizen.

The Editor Speaks

By WAYNE ARNOLD

TALLAHASSEE OR BUST

I'll never know what prompted Senator Claude Pepper to suggest a trip to Tallahassee for a story on the inauguration, but I thank him.

This will probably be the first time a high school newspaper has sent a reporter 500 miles to write a story, and I'm proud to be a member of that team. My partner, Jack Starkey, has worked hard in journalism this year, and I think he'll be pretty capable of doing the work I'm supposed to do on the trip.

WHAT MAKES AN EDITOR TICK?

I don't have the slightest idea what makes other editors tick, but as for me it's cooperation on the part of the rest of the staff—and in case you didn't know, there's more to RECORD staff than is listed below. There are the writers behind the scenes, the first year journalism students, and our advisor, Mrs. Alfreda Miller.

HI-Y ENTERS RANKS AS SERVICE CLUB

Our school is proud to add another club to the list of boy's services clubs that have served it so well in the past years. First, it was Key Club, sponsored by the Kiwanis. Then came the Wheel Club, sponsored by The Rotary. Now it's HI-Y. HI-Y is sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. Larry Wood is president of the Hialeah chapter.

... AND A MERRY MERRY NEW YEAR 2 U

And might I close my column with a line from the bottom of my heart. To all of you, I wish a happy New Year and a very Merry Christmas 1957. Thirty.

'It Takes a Heap of Living To Make a House a Home'

What is the difference between a house and a home? Well, there is a lot of difference.

Let's look at it this way: an architect designs a beautiful house, a contractor builds the walls and roof, an interior decorator paints and furnishes the interior, and a landscaper plants a lovely lawn. The house is complete, but what do you have? An elegant building that is cold, lifeless, and empty.

To make a house into a home there must be love and harmony and those within it must be interested in a life rather than a living. They must work together and share all things, grief, love, joy, and pain. They must know the limits of their endurance and those with which they live. They should envy no one and work hard to make things better, not for themselves, but for those they love.

Without this harmony and love, a house, no matter how beautiful, can never be a home, but it can be transformed into a palace of happiness.

Treat Your Substitute Kindly

O boy, a substitute! This may be a familiar phrase to you if you are one of the more unlucky students that have been deprived of your teacher for the day, and your classmates decided to make a real heyday of it.

Yes, I guess we all would like to substitute once in a while but not only so we can cut up. The translation of a substitute isn't no work and all play today. These teachers are hired so that we can carry on with our regular work and we should all be thankful for these teachers. We should treat them with respect because you know that this is just one of the many ways that visitors get impressions of our school and since we have a 3.95 average we want everyone to respect us and not think that we are just a bunch of crazy kids that don't have any manners.

Busser Hesitates Riders Celebrate

By JOHN MARSHALL

This morning was the coldest ever suffered, thought the shivering Opa-locka bus riding students, as they calmly but coldly waited for the usual yellow monster which carried them off to the prison day after day.

Finally, somebody brought up the subject of heat, and it was only natural that a blazing fire should come to one's mind.

Knowing the bright yellow paddy wagon was near due (but not knowing what was in store for them that morning) somebody began hurriedly to rub two sticks together. Deciding that this was the slower method, some wise guy struck a match, and to everyone's amazement it actually worked, and very soon everyone was covered with clouds of heavy, stinky smoke rising from the miscellaneous objects feeding the fire (books, logs, old houses, pine cones). Nevertheless it was warm.

As time rolled on the fire roared higher. Soon tickers would be swinging to the hour of seven o'clock, the dreadful time of departure.

The fire was now at its peak, but a seemingly harsh neighbor resented his grass being burned up, and he didn't appreciate it at all, but there was nothing he could do because he was outnumbered.

At 7:15 there was no sign of the bus, and already plans were being made on how to spend the day. School was the last thing to be thought of.

About 8:45 somebody caught an unwanted glimpse of a lousy school bus rattling down the road, a block from where the regular stop was situated.

It was after them. Immediately everyone scrambled to a near hiding place and took cover. Later it was found that this was the wrong prison car, however the scramble was executed just as perfectly as it was planned, bless the scheming, mischievous minds.

It was now 9:00 by the sun dial, and it was getting warm enough to do without the fire, so out it went. There had been enough books burned already to keep somebody paying for a good while.

Playing it safe, nobody left the stop until 9:30. At 9:31, the only thing evident of a bus stop was a few charred remains of a bon-fire, in a good natured neighbor's yard.

Upon a visitation to Mrs. Casey Pflomm, disgustedly they embarked toward their second period, joking, cutting up, and smelling like a bunch of freshly smoked herring.

How I Do It Safari to Infinity

By Bill Hoy

How many ancestors did you have 600 years ago? Five hundred? A thousand? No. Six hundred years ago you had approximately 1,040,400 ancestors!

How big is a billion? Well, a billion seconds ago all people now thirty-one years old were not yet born. In 1903 only a billion minutes had elapsed since the birth of Christ. And a billion days ago man was just about to put in an appearance on this earth.

Did you realize that a bottle exists which has no inside whatsoever? There also is a strip of paper which has only one side.

I became interested in math quite a while ago; I don't remember exactly when. As I took the various math courses in school, my interest began to increase. This year I have concentrated on improving my understanding of all fields of math. The library has an abundant supply of books which cover almost every different branch of mathematics which you might want to know something about.

Don't say that algebra or geometry or trigonometry has no place in your life. If you play cards you surely would like to know your chances of getting a certain card at a certain time. If you play chess, you could, mathematically, figure every move needed to win EVERY GAME.

In counting votes in an election you might have used one of the oldest methods of counting, the notch method. Most mathematicians agree that this must have been the first method used to count. Now we have advanced far beyond that time and we use a decimal system of counting. BUT, did you know that the electronic brains use the notch system to do their rapid calculations?

You could put your time to good use by picking up a book from the library on some kind of mathematics. Not only will you find it educational but also very enjoyable.

From the Horse's Mouth

By BONNIE CLARK

From out of the old year and into the new comes the fatal cry of the students of gloom. Besides the new year's resolutions to overcome, many students are faced with an even greater crisis. Yes, the 11th grade exams are here again. When the last one is taken there will probably be a mad rush and the red eyed monsters will stampede through the bulging library doors with only a stubby end of the overworked pencil in hand. It takes a while for the school to get back to normal but there will be still a few students trying to overcome their past experiences. Have a heart. If you see any of them suffering so, shoot 'em and say they broke a leg. Watch for the date, January 21-24.

Anchor Club of Hialeah has not only done a tremendous job in promoting the student spirit, but has received an even greater and more beneficial blessing. It happened on Christmas Eve when twenty members strolled up the walk of St. Joseph's Villas Orphanage with presents by the armloads. It was a wonderful sight watching the children's eyes light up as their name was called out from the neatly wrapped presents.

Honoraria's initiation is still the topic with many students. A formal candlelight service, held at the Miami Springs Presbyterian Church, was one no one should have missed. Girls received their membership as they held the white candles, a sign of carrying on the truth and prosperity of their school.

Hialeah High owes a great deal of credit to Anchor, Honoraria, and the boy's Key and Wheel Clubs for the fast increasing popularity it has received.

Strange noises are coming from the girls' side of the gym again every morning before school. It seems many of the G.A.A. girls are brushing up on some of their camp songs. The songs themselves are quite a mouthful but you should see the arm, hand, and head gestures that comes with it.

Ask Pat DeVido, Carol Rollinson, Jean Smith or Francis Rushing to demonstrate it. It's quite an eye-ful. Some of these crazy songs they sing are: PLANT A LITTLE WATERMELON ON MY GRAVE, SWIMMING, SWIMMING IN MY SWIMMING HOLE, WAY UP IN THE SKY THE LITTLE BIRDS FLY, and many others.

I Turned Over That New Leaf

By VIRGINIA COLEMAN

Has your new leaf of last year turned a dull and uninteresting dying color of resolutions not kept? All the things you promised yourself, have they been forgotten?

Let's look back on that new leaf that you turned over 12 months ago and try to read the faded and dried out resolutions of a year gone by.

The first one: I promise not to hit my baby brother. Oh, Oh, you certainly forgot that when he got into your make-up and wiped it all over your bureau.

The second: I will control myself when the teacher is talking and will not talk to my friends during class time. That "C" you got in citizenship tells what happened to that resolution.

The third: When going to the movies I will not put so much emphasis on eating my popcorn in the person's ear who is sitting next to me. I think I have lived up to that promise. But I wonder if I was enjoying my popcorn too much and too loud when that lady got up and glared at me during the intermission. Oh, I'll try harder this year.

BIG WHEELS AT HHS.

Senior Holds Honors

Sue Fickling, a pretty Hialeah Senior, has been before the student body through her many activities and honors for the past five years.

Sue can very proudly say she was the President of Hialeah High School's first Student Council. Also in her sophomore year, she saw action as a member of H.H.S.'s first cheerleading squad.

Another first on Sue's long list of honors was her initiation into Honoraria, one of Hialeah's first Services clubs.

Miss Fickling has been a prominent figure around Hialeah since she first entered school here in the eighth grade.

In more recent times, Sue has become a member of the Modern Dance Club, and a member of the Majorette Squad. This was in her Junior year.

An honor that cannot go unmentioned was bestowed upon her in the Tenth grade when she was selected by the Wheel Club members to be one of their sponsors.

In her last year at Hialeah High, Sue has been active in both Cheerleading and the Future Teachers organization.

After her graduation this spring Sue plans to enter a business school and study for a career in legal secretarial work.

Sue has made a lasting impression on Hialeah High School that will not be soon forgotten.

My Last Thoughts

By PENNY STANLEY

The stuff is clinging to my legs, Holding me immobile in its grip. I recall reading somewhere, that to attempt to escape was foolhardy and of no avail. Help was out of the question. This is a recording of my last thoughts as I sank deeper and deeper into death.

The horror I am experiencing cannot be expressed no matter how hard I try.

This brown, clinging devil is tugging at my knees now, Urging me down, promising rest.

Each inch is an eternity, I'm sinking slowly.

My mind is blank and empty, my only thoughts now are for a quick end, which will never come.

I am gone up to my waist—how odd a sensation!

I cannot move my legs through the slush that enshrouds them. My arms were resting on top a few seconds ago.

They are now completely submerged.

If I were thinking of comfort I would think of what an uncomfortable way to die.

But comfort is not uppermost in my mind.

It's up to my neck now.

Gaining momentum as I sink deeper into its heart.

If I cared to yell, I couldn't. My mouth is now under.

The stagnant earth is beginning to seep in through the corners of my mouth.

What a foul taste. But I won't have to worry about unpleasant after-effects.

My nose is now clogged and breath has ceased.

Pizza, Morn, Noon and Night

"Well, I think we got the best team this year that we have ever had, everyone is trying his ardest and everyone is taking it real serious.

That's what it takes to be a winning team" was the opinion of Wayne Garrick, a first place guard on the Thorobred basketball team.

Wayne known to most as "Winnie" was born in Hartford, Conn. He is 17 years old, five-foot, seven and a proud 1/4 inches tall and weighs 146 pounds.

He has played basketball for Hialeah High three years, and is the noble owner of a letter jacket. Wayne was honored as being one of the basketball players chosen to represent Hialeah at Gainesville during the state finals last year.

It was during this stay in Gainesville that he had an unusual experience. After Hialeah's game, Wayne had gone to get a drink of water. When he turned around the coach was gone and so was the team. So he went and sat down in the stadium stands with his uniform on and watched the next game. A college boy later drove him to the hotel where the team was staying much to the joy of a worried coach.

Wayne says that he likes all the Rhythm and Blues and Rock and Roll records. His favorite is Blueberry Hill by Fats Domino. Another first with Wayne is pizza which he could eat all morning, noon and night.

Wayne would like to try for a basketball scholarship, however, he hasn't made up his mind as to what college he would like to attend.

Wayne holds membership in H-Y and the "H"-club.

'Dim Those Lights' Complains Terry!

"Dim, Dim the Lights!" Terry Jackson, Thorobred halfback, might well express his pet peeve by the title of this past hit tune.

It seems that Terry cannot stand drivers that don't dim their lights.

Terry, or "Stonewall" as he is sometimes called, is Vice-President of the Wheel Club and President of National Honor as well as being athletic minded.

"I'm glad I'm finally graduating," he said jokingly, "but I still have college to look forward to." Terry, a native of North Carolina, plans on attending Duke University in Durham, North Carolina, or Georgia Tech, and majoring in engineering.

A few years back he was awarded a trip to Washington, D.C., with his school safety patrol. However, Terry says he would really like to go to Hawaii.

Terry has a suppressed desire as do most people to "Throw a lemon meringue pie in anybody's face!" He emphasized the "anybody" quite strongly.

On recollecting some past experiences, the five-foot-eight-inch senior, came up with this one, "The first time I ever drove a vehicle I ran it into a ditch!"

Terry doesn't have much time for hobbies, although he finds some time for a little photography, but he still sticks to athletics, football and basketball.

Terry can be found almost any morning at the bookroom helping (?) Mrs. Pflomm. The Navy or Airforce will get this seventeen year-old before long.

I am no wtaking my last look at the earth in the guise of a ghost.

There is nothing above the level of the horizon except for a few inches of forehead and hair. And that is fast sinking from view.

All is submerged.

My grave is surprisingly warm and soft.

A comfortable bed, I think, on such short notice.

Will Elvis Presley Be A Shiny Bald?

"I've always had a suppressed desire to shave Elvis Presley's head a shiny bald," laughs Ronnie Cyril, a popular twelfth grader of Hialeah.

Born in Chicago, Ill., July 29, 1938, Ronnie moved to Miami 12 years ago. He has been out of the United States once when he went to Cuba for a five-day vacation.

Born to unusual experiences, Ronnie chuckles as he remembers his recent one. "I was downtown in front of Walgreen's the other day and a real cute girl walked up to me, slapped my face and shouted, 'That's for going out with Pat! Don't you ever speak to me again!' And she walked away mumbling something under her breath about me. Funny thing is I never saw this girl before and never heard of this Pat. Oh well."

Ronnie was on the Thorobred football varsity squad, in '54 and '55. He is a member of the Variety Club, Glee Club, Dramatics, and shipmate of the Anchor Club.

"My most proud possession is, well this is hammy, but it is the rights I have as an American. I realize this especially when I look in the newspaper and read what the Russians keep pulling over in Europe."

This handsome blonde has turned his eyes toward Florida University for two years and then plans to become a pilot in the Marine Corps.

Meet Paul Smith

My proudest possession is my car, a Volkswagon," says Paul Smith, a 17-year-old senior at Hialeah High this year.

Paul is a member of the Library Club and enjoys playing baseball very much. Before attending Hialeah, Paul just moved from Charlottesville, W. Va.

"My unusual experience is quite unusual," laughed Paul. "It happened up in W. Va.," he began, with his southern drawl, "when my friend and I went rabbit hunting. There was a cold morning and there was ice on the road. That's where it all began. I tried to make a curve too fast and my car rolled over a few times. Funny, no one was hurt but I broke my glasses." Paul has laid aside as his future plans attending a University and the Air Force.

Hialeah High Represented At "Y" Meet

Hialeah High School was represented at the First Annual Greater Miami Hi-Y Council Officers training session last weekend by 23 members of the Hialeah Hi-Y and Y-Teen Clubs.

The convention, held at Lake Placid, Florida, attracted 102 representatives from the Miami Area and was termed a "Tremendous success" by Norfleet M. Hawkins, Miami YMCA Boy's Work Secretary.

Representatives from Hialeah included Jack Starke, Transportation Committee Chairman; Alan Harrison, David Ryan, Ed Barber, Deanne Fincher, Gail Fetterman, Judy Tittle, Bob Jackson, Jim Richland, David Goodwin, Bill Fisher, John Kolodgy, John Bartlett, Sadler Yandell, Andy Lapicola, and Andrea Christopher, treasurer, Ann Harshbarger, secretary; Joyce George, Chaplain; Betsy Stoinoff, Bonnie Burtles, historian.

Theme of the convention was "How To Become A Better Officer." The main discussions were based on ideas leading to better clubs.

Anchor Amuses Orphans And Have Fun Too

December 24, was an exciting day for the orphans at the Saint Josephs Villas. The Anchor Club from Hialeah High gave them a Christmas party, donating gifts of toys and clothes besides serving punch and cookies.

The Anchors that went were truly shown that everyone isn't only aware of the commercial side of Christmas but realized that Christmas is the birth of Christ

Everyone had a wonderful time and both Anchor girls and orphans are looking forward to next Christmas even.

Driving Test Coming Soon

The more advanced driving students took their driving test Friday, January 4, 1957. The less experienced ones will be taking their test in the latter part of January when the Police officer returns.

Some of these students will be taking the test over, if they fail it the first time.

Students taking said tests have already received their restricted license and will soon, they hope, have the restriction lifted providing they pass the driving test.

Hi-Notes From Hialeah

By MARCIA ANN NEWTON
Off with the old and on with the new! as the saying goes. For one thing, the new year is here and it is the time of making new resolutions and forgetting the old. Then, too, the second semester is at its beginning.

At the Miami Springs Youth Center an election of new Teen Council members was held last month. Newly elected council members are: Jerry Chester, president; Floyd Winsett, vice-prexy; Jean Dulin, secretary; Don Onstead, Mike Thrash, Slug Harvey, Wayne Garrick, Lynn Wright, and Marcia Ann Newton.

Janette Wills made a new year's resolution. It's never to make another promise.

Misery Department

It seems to be a fad! Having admittance to the hospital, that is.

For one reason or another some of Hialeah's students have made their way to the sick bed. One of our track stars, Ralph Morris, had his appendix removed, December 14, 1956. Gerry Thrasher, an 11th grader at H.H.S., lost her tonsils on December 19, 1956. Audrey Erickson was sent to Battle Creek for a week's stay because of kidney trouble. Albert Cavalier had the misfortune of breaking both his wrists while practicing on the parallel bars in the Gym.

Elvis Presley At H.H.S.
Bryan Perez, a sophomore at Hialeah High, did a marvelous job of pretending to be Elvis Presley in a half time show. He had all the girls in a whirl, and as a matter of fact he still does.

Many of the teachers cannot see what the students like in the ever popular Elvis. Mr. Sirianni says that Elvis' music, to him, is just like jungle music. A noted syndicated columnist stated that the only distressing thing about his picture was that he died in the end, only 90 minutes too late.

Caution!

Always take caution, at least when you see Maxine Gillard driving. Yes, Maxine knows how to drive, but did you know that she had her first lessons on a tractor, and at the age of four yet? Ask Maxine, that's what she said. By the way, did you see Maxine's new shoes? They're really cute, but too hard to describe.

Completion Near

Yes, the completion of the new auditorium for H.H.S. is in the near future. As a matter of fact it is supposed to be done on or about Feb. 2, 1957. How happy everyone will be to know that Hialeah High at last has its own auditorium.

Worry, Worry, Worry, Is An Editor's Frenzy

By MIKE DAVIS

Oh worry worry! Here it is two days before our second deadline and we're going to miss this one, too. What can I do? It would take nothing less than a triple power Hydrogen bomb to move this annual staff of mine.

For one whole month these people (and I use that term people, loosely) have been sitting on their tail sections reading books or one thing or another.

At this rate Hialeah High will never have an annual to hand down from year to year. The students won't even see the first issue.

Come here. Don't the lines on this dummy copy sheet look as though they have been mauled by a Boa Constrictor? If you took this to a hospital and hung it on a patient's bed, the doctor would probably take one look at it and call for immediate surgery on the poor guy. I don't think my layout committee knows what a ruler is.

Sometimes I wonder why I even picked a copy committee. Some of the expressions they come up with are atrocious. It seems as if as soon as an article is turned in, it is given to me to be rewritten.

I bet my trusty Davey Crockett Little Wonder Ball Point Pen has scribbled out 10,000 words in the last month. And that's not the half of it.

Pardon me for a moment. What! Oh no, not again? Another hoard of souvenir hunters has our newest set of pictures. Everytime a group of them happens to be passing the annual's workroom when there's a stack of pictures on the table. They can't seem to conquer the urge to stop and run their grimy fingers through them. They must think the finger prints they leave on them will show up in our book.

Is An Editor's Frenzy

Well, I'm no one to be talking about wasting time. Here I am shooting the "bull" when I could be correcting my problem children's latest mistakes. Time is so valuable, you know.

Opa Locka DeMolay Holds Car Wash

By JOHN MARSHALL

As the Opa-locka chapter of the DeMolay underwent its first moneymaking project, the City of Opa-locka saw many clean and polished cars.

Under the leadership of "Dad" Samuel Winfield and several other Dads, and Master Counselor, Jim Parks, it came off as a big success.

A grand total of over $350 was piled up from donations of some 50 or 60 cars washed by the hard-working crew of the DeMolay chapter.

The wash was conducted for the sole purpose of purchasing material for robes which the Demolays use in their many different and beautiful ceremonies.

Library Club Is Started Terry Notarianni Prexy

As clubs and other activities are being started the library club is now established. They have held their first meeting and elected their officers. They are: Theresa Notarianni, president; Pat Barker, vice-president; Nancy Kelly, secretary; Betty Sommer, treasurer; Hazel Pomeroy, reporter; and David Claggett, chaplain.

With this state of hard working officers the Library Club will soon be doing things that will distinguish them from the other activities.

Theresa, Nancy, Pat, Betty and

Hazel were representatives from Hialeah to the district meeting of the SIMB at Edison High on December 13, 1956. At this meeting these student library assistants listened to an exciting talk by Zashera Ball whose real name is Kelly Masters.

Mr. Masters followed his talk by asking the students for questions. Mr. Masters felt at home because his son, Kelly Masters, Jr., graduated from Edison two years ago. At this meeting the SIMPS found new methods for doing their jobs which make things easier.

Tony Is Real Mascot

Many a Hialeah High rooter has gone to one of the activities at school and has come out still chuckling at the antics of that illustrious Thoroughbred mascot, "Tony".

For those who have never been lucky enough to gaze with pleasure on "Tony," he requires some explanation. He is indeed a handsome steed with all the tone and color of a muddy river. He has two handlers, one for the thinking end and one for the acting end. Though these handlers vary at times, the most recent and well-known are Bill Dunstill and James "Butch" Harvey.

Tony was delegated to Key Club as a service project last year, and the first costume was rented. The head was bought later and the rest of the outfit was sewn by Mrs. Dunstill, Bill's mother. This, allowing for repairs, has been the Tony of Hialeah ever since.

Though Tony is primarily used for sports and pep rallies, he has also provided laughs and enjoyment on several occasions.

Tony, though not a lazy animal, has the aggravating habit of letting his chest drop at times. Though he has been reprimanded for this natural thing for any Thoroughbred occasionally shows his sorrow at losing games, and this is probably "Tony's" best method.

To appreciate fully this little animal's gaiety he must be seen in action. Accept Tony's personal invitation (he really is a ham) and make a date to visit with him on his next basketball outing.

Council at 'Y' Camp

Counseling at a week-end camp sponsored by the YMCA, were four girls from the Hialeah chapter of Y-teens. There are two camps held a month for girls eight through twelve and counselors are chosen from different chapters throughout the county. The girls from Hialeah were Aundrea Christopher, Betsy Stoinoff, Joyce George, and Deanne Fincher.

Y-teens are planning on getting a Y-teen sweatshirt, similar to the HHS sweatshirts.

HOY SAYS: Christmas Basket A Great Success

"I would like to thank the student body of Hialeah High for their show of generosity and true Christmas spirit, by their contributions to 'Operation Christmas basket,'" stated Bill Hoy, chairman of this Key Club project.

"This spirit was shown by the large collection of food, which amounted to approximately 1,000 cans and other conestibles," he continued.

"These food stuffs were distributed among welfare societies to give to different, needy families."

"Mrs. Skipper's homeroom, 12-4, brought in the largest collection, consisting of groceries enough to form a complete Christmas dinner."

Pistol & Rifle Club

Have you seen boys and girls carrying guns around school lately? Well, they're not mad at their teachers or anything like that. It's the Pistol and Rifle club which was just organized this year.

Each Wednesday, they meet out in front of the gym at 3:00 p.m., then they go to the Overpass Pistol and Rifle Range. Any gun is accepted for shooting at the range except foreign made guns like Luger's also no magums loads will be fired at anytime on the range either.

Some of the members and guns are as follows: Douglas Logan, 38 revolver; Fred Krumm, 22 rifle; Steven Medic, 22 rifle. Also having 22 rifles are as follows: Helen Corbitt, Norma Waters, Gary Pi-ett, Rou Chapman, Gene and Pat Braddock, Jeanette and Buddy Fletcher. Two more members that have pistols are Gail Stage, 22 revolver and Jim Corbitt, 38 revolver.

High School Courses Should Be Carefully Planned for the Future

Recently your homeroom teacher gave you a tentative list of courses offerings for next year along with a little slip of paper on which you were requested to make your first choice of subjects for the coming school year. Many of you stated that you did not know what you wanted to take and that you needed to be more familiar with the requirements and the content of various courses.

Each year, as educational counseling for the following year begins, students are confronted with these same problems and choices. The Hialeah High Record, in a series of articles over the coming weeks, is attempting to explain to students and their parents what assistance the school offers students planning their education, suggestions for additional aid in making wise choices, information about new courses, and further information about existing courses.

Careful planning of your courses in high school is of utmost importance to your future career. Between now and permanent registration about May 1, you should make every effort to inform yourself about the knowledge and skills necessary for success in your chosen career. Talk with your present teachers and those of the departments you may wish to enter.

Write for a college catalog or study those in the library. Talk with your counselor, with your parents, with other adults in your chosen profession. Finally, study the descriptions of courses which will appear in future issues of this paper to determine whether they will assist in preparing you for your career. Your future success depends upon wise planning now.

Setting Our Sights on the Future

By ROBERT MOHR

As your first step in planning your courses for next year, you went to your homeroom teacher, who is your first counsellor and friend with this problem and you were informed that you should put your name on the paper along with any choices that you have made to date.

The purpose of this procedure was to get you thinking about the future, and at the same time for the administration to start formulating plans for next year.

For you to take the course of your choice there must first be provisions for that course to be offered, for example: sufficient enrollment to warrant offering the course, a qualified teacher to teach the course, adequate classroom space, materials, equipment, and supplies on hand for the course to start, etc. You can see that there is much behind-the-scenes activity that must go on before you are able to matriculate for any course of your choice.

From time to time you will be hearing about various courses that were not listed on the tentative list of courses that you were first given, also you will receive notices about changes in the entrance requirements for other courses. This is done to further your interest in certain courses and to ascertain whether these should be listed on the corrected course list for next year.

You will then be called in for an appointment with your counselor and at this time you will correct your four-year-plan card in the light of any changes of plans you may have and to make out your schedule card for next year. At this time you as a student should have several questions in mind and also be prepared to answer certain questions that your counsellor will pose to you.

What college or university do you intend to enter after graduation? What vocational plans do you have for the future? How much preparation do you wish to obtain for either of the above? You should also have a list of the entrance requirements for the school or college of your choice. This list will help you in meeting those requirements and also the requirements for a high school diploma.

When every student has been interviewed a count will be taken of the students desiring each course and this count will be submitted for the preparation of the master schedule.

You may be called in at this time to make some minor revisions in your schedule in the light of class loads or for other administrative reasons. When your schedule is completed you will make a copy of this schedule and take it home for your parent's signature and approval. We will then set up an evening meeting to enable your parents to come in for a conference or discussion of your program.

This will be very close to permanent registration day and after that date there will not be any changes made by your choice. They may be made by the administration of the school or by your parents only in the light of some changing home situation and after they have had a conference with the administrative officer of the school.

Basketball Teams Organized

Basketball has gotten underway with the girls as well as the boys. The girls have organized their teams and are now battling it out with each other to see which team has the better skill.

These teams are engaged in intramural playing but if a girl wants to try for the varsity, intramurals is the way to accomplish it. Through these games held after school the physical education teachers can see how well you play and decide whether you are material for the varsity. However, if you're out for fun, you will also get plenty of that during these games.

The girls on team number one are: Elaine Lucardi, captain; Glenn Ann Sapp, Nancy Smith, Eileen Lahman, Virginia Kessel, Sally Sargent, Pat Serring, Jean Gypp, Janice Voyles, Hinton Norma Waters, and Pat Jetner.

Team is made up of: Jean Smith, captain; Liz Jones, Barbara Ludwig, Anita Bartlett, Loretta Rompot, Frances Maxwell, Bonnie Bainbridge, Evelyn Roden Bush, Pat Hinken, Barbara Edwards, and Pat Sams.

The third team consists of: Sherry Dunn, captain; Margaret Diehl, Carol Todd, Margaret Pantuso, Diane Linguard, Frances Rushing, Leana Lofland, Pat Hazelwood, Dot Hood, and Judy McMillan.

The girls on the fourth team are Nola Cole, captain, Louise Boughner, Nancy Lapidus, Marie Perriz, Janice Moore, Diana Wright, Janelda Bennett, Pat Taylor, Morinian, Carol Curry, Kay Bateman, and Beverly Martin.

The fifth team is made up of: Sonny Hayes, captain; Carol Rollinson, Margaret Finch, Clare Lavin, Annette Pritchard, Carolyn Pritchard Ellin Etter, Betty Stovall, Jean Skinner, Jerry Noon, Levill and Pat DeVito.

The last team but not the least consists of: Sara Parise, captain; Mary Buchanan, Linda Lundbloom, Ruth Lowden, Myrtle Meeker, Charlotte Keyes, Helen Corbitt, Kay Burbach, Elaine Lebow, Yvonne Baskin, Elsie Scott, and Dot Pehler.

Football Offered To Girls in Gym

You say you couldn't believe your eyes when you walked past the athletic field and saw girls playing football. Well, you saw right, those girls were playing Hall Ball (girls football). This sport has never been played at Hialeah High although the girls in Miss Kathryn King's classes took to it like a duck to water.

The game originated at North Carolina University around 1945. It got the name Hall Ball because the girls played it between different halls of the university.

There are eleven girls on a team and the game consists of all forward passes. There is no personal contact involved. The ball is started at center by a "throw off" instead of a kick. The ball is then moved down the field and a pass over the goal is attempted. If the pass is completed, the team scoring the touchdown is given six points. A kick is then tried, if it is completed there is one point given to the team. Then the final score would be 7-0 and the ball is started by the opposing team.

Several girls who are considered excellent material for the 1957 Thorobred football squad are Alice Horn, Carol Curry, Penny Stanley, and Jo Ann Boyd. If the team would like someone who is guaranteed to make every conversion they should see Carol Todd, one of the best converters around (girls that is).

War Orphan Program May Help You Out

The War Orphan's Education Program is a program of financial aid for the education of young men and women whose parent or parents—World War I, World War II, and Korean veterans—died of injuries or disease resulting from their military service.

This program comes from Public Law 643 of the 84th Congress and gives financial aid toward education of orphans of war veterans. The child must be between the age of 18 and 23. If the child should enter military service he will have five years after discharge date to complete his training, however, no benefits of Public Law 634 can be given after his 31st birthday.

A set amount is paid according to length of schooling time; full-time, three-quarter time, or half-time.

Courses not allowed under this benefit are: bartending, dancing, personality development, flight-training, and on-the-form or on-the-job training. It also does not apply to specialized vocational or correspondence courses.

Orphans of deceased servicemen drafted from Florida may be eligible for a 300-dollar per year scholarship, not exceeding four years.

Contact and plan with your counselor if you qualify for tuition under this program.

Hialeah Places Second in Tourney

Hialeah High placed second in the Eighth Annual Archery Tele-graphic Meet. Their score was 1,688 points which is the result of eight girls shooting. Coral Gables placed first with 1,905 points.

There were four senior highs and 12 junior highs participating in this meet.

Hialeah also had two girls receive individual awards. Glen Ann Sapp took third place in shooting at 300 yards while Dianna Wright placed third in 20 yards shooting.

The archers who were entered from Hialeah were Jean Smith, Francis Rushing, Carol Rollinson, Dianna Wright, Carol Curry, Sherry Dunn, and Dot Hood. Congratulations are extended to all these girls.

Students Make Study of Papers

Crackle, crackle, crackle. "Oh well, I'll have to get used to that noise," replied Mrs. Mary Watts, English teacher at H.H.S.

The noise was coming from some 30 students who are in the midst of studying the newspapers. The newspaper project had been going on for two weeks, before the Christmas vacation, and was worked on by all the 8th and 11th grade students.

This project is to show high school students that even without textbooks an education can be had just from reading the newspaper.

The students will be doing things such as analyzing editorials, feature stories, news stories, finding slanted news stories and straight news coverage, noticing the news services, and different reviews published in the paper.

It is hoped that after this project is completed that the students will have increased their vocabulary and realize there are more to newspapers than just the comics.

Caught in Passing

By DEE FINCHER

The class entered the room unusually (?) noisy and the exasperated instructor tried desperately to quiet the group by saying, "All right class, stop that talking!" To this a muffled voice came from the back to the room, "I wasn't talking, I was singing!"

Record Wrecker

The father of a teenage girl had just spent quite a sizeable sum of money to repair his daughter's record player. Upon returning the machine to its place he was heard to remark, "That thing cost as much as another kid in the house!"

In the same household the teenager was intently listening to her latest flame, Elvis Presley, when she put her ear to the record player and exclaimed, "What's that noise?" Quickly her father answered, "Elvis Presley!"

Who Has Ants?

Linda Shipley and Margaret Molinare put their heads together to plan a surprise birthday party for their friend, Loretta Rompot. The site was to be Margaret's house (which she said was very small). The list grew as Linda added names, much to Margaret's despair. When discussing the number of guests one day, Loretta walked up and Linda and Margaret immediately began to talk about the 40 or 50 ants that came and went in Margaret's house.

Questions and Answers

Some students at H.H.S. spend the whole period thinking of an intellectual question to ask their teacher.

One student fired a question at the instructor which required quite a long explanation. One classmate whispered to the questioner, "Are you listening to him?" "No" replied the student truthfully.

Classes Change Sports At New Semester

There will be a different sport offered this semester to every Physical Education class, and with the change comes headaches and bruises.

Some injuries are still showing their mark even though the classes have moved to a new sport.

Miss Pat Roberts' and Mrs. Berry's classes still bare bruises and skinned knees from speed ball, however, with them now working on volleyball and basketball the wounds should have a chance to heal.

Sore muscles will be numerous as Miss Delores Jordan takes her classes through three weeks of Modern Dance. For all the bruises that need taking care of and for all the sore muscles, Miss Kathryn King's classes stand by with their new first aid training waiting to use it on some helpless victim. Miss King will also be taking up basketball before the required weeks go by.

An interesting story goes along with injuries suffered during physical education and after school intramurals. About three weeks ago Miss Berry was showing the girls, out for basketball, how to jump. She had just finished playing speedball with Miss Roberts class and was feeling a little weary. Well, she jumped up in the air and came down on one foot and one ankle. For all those wondering why she is wearing a cast on her foot, that was the result of the jump. To Miss Berry's foot we say "Get well soon."

Inquiring Reporter Asks

WILL THE CURFEW HELP?

Question: Do you think that Miami's curfew will solve their juvenile delinquency problems?

Linda Lundbloom, 11-8: "I believe it will work. It would break up the gangs that hang around at drugstores, shows, etc."

Annette Laurendine, 11-1: "I think it will because it'll keep all the teenagers off the streets after 12. Maybe parents will know where their children are after this goes into effect."

Hazel Rohrl 12: "Yes, I think the curfew will stop Miami's increasing crime rate among teenagers."

Nancy Hitchcock, 11-1: "No. As it states, 17 and under shall be off the streets after midnight, but the majority of teenagers from 14 to 17 date boys over 17. That would enable them still to stay out as long as their parents would allow them. But still, juveniles don't have to wait till night to break the laws. Also, if mothers would have discipline in the home and be a mother instead of a bread winner!"

Sharon Voth, 11-2: "I think the responsibility lies with the parents as to when their children should be at home and where they go. If the parents show a lack of interest, then I don't believe the curfew will be effective."

Sara McAllister, 11-2: "I don't think the violaters are particularly concerned with the time. They can just as easily commit crimes before the curfew deadline as after."

Roberta Singletary, 11-7: "I don't think the curfew will solve the delinquent problem because it prohibits only the people under 17 from being out. What about the ones over 17? They are just as bad."

Marilyn Stone, 11-6: "I don't think it will solve this problem entirely, but it will help."

They Lead With New Uniforms

There seems to be something new about the pep rallies and the basketball games which has caught the eye of almost everyone at Hialeah High. This new appeal is red and has blue pleats, and it certainly moves around a lot. Yes, you know what it is. The new cheer-leading uniforms that are now being worn by the cheerleaders.

These uniforms were made by Mrs. Ermgaard and were designed by Vamm J. McGrahms (this name was composed by all the cheerleaders' first initials because they themselves designed them).

Here are some of the cheerleaders' opinions on the new get-ups.

Charlotte Zeletes says, laughing, "I really like them a lot, they show off my neat figure."

"I hope everyone likes them as much as I do," was Virginia Bopp's reply.

Judy King states, "They make us look neater."

Helen Cavalier hopes that the new uniforms will pep up the cheering section.

"Come out and see them, then you will know whether you like them," was the spunky reply of the four "M's" of the cheerleading squad.

The girls are planning to cheer at every basketball game and will cheer at some baseball games.

In March, there will be a cheer-leading conference which the girls are looking forward to.

By Jim Richland, Sports Editor
The Hialeah "Hoopers" have been standing up tall against their stiff competition, although the scores of the game do not show it. Hialeah had a lot of bad breaks against them in the South Dade game. As the half-time buzzer rang South Dade's Putman made a half-court shot which the referee declared good. With about two minutes left in the game, Larry Woods got into a scramble with a Rebel player and was sent out of the game for intentional tripping. I never could understand this because Larry was the one on the bottom.

Tennis Team Formed
Hialeah High will soon have a varsity tennis team being coached by Mr. Jack Kaspar.

This is Mr. Kaspar's first at coaching tennis but Mr. Kaspar is going at it with his usual enthusiasm and should develop a star team.

The big thing against Hialeah having a prize team is the fact that Hialeah has no courts suitable for tennis and no provisions have been made to get these courts.

New Gymnastic Event
A new event has been added to Gymnastic meets, the side horse. Hialeah's squad will be featuring Ed Metzler, Andy Sullivan, and Fred Granross on the horse in their meet against Coral Gables January 19.

Barbell Plans for Letters
The Barbell Club has been trying hard to arrange enough meets to make barbells a letter sport. Training under Mr. Kaspar, has been a great attribute to football players in training, and the club should receive some thanks.
Hialeah Ready for Second Try Against Raiders

When Hialeah meets Edison again February 1st, the "Red Raiders" will have their star center Joel Hancock in the game again. Let's hope that the team meeting them again on their own courts already wised up to Edison's whirlwind playing.

Let's Get Acquainted With T-bred Cagers

Hialeah's basketball squad has been doing a great job against the competition that they have been standing up against. The boys on the varsity squad have been striving hard at practice every afternoon.

We thought this issue would be a great chance to meet the varsity players and learn a little about them and what they think of our school and staff.

Larry Wood, was born in Hialeah, Florida, and is 17 years old. Larry has attended Hialeah for 12 years and says, "I think Hialeah is the best and I wouldn't change schools for anything. Hialeah means everything to me because I was born here and have gone to school here all my life."

Larry goes on to say that basketball means an awful lot to me and if it didn't, I wouldn't play it. "Basketball has taught me how to better myself in working with others and all co-operating together. Basketball is a great sport and if I wasn't able to play, I would be the most loyal fan in school."

Bruce Walton was born in East Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania, and has attended Melrose and Miami Springs Elementary and Hialeah Junior High. Bruce intends to study medicine at Stetson University.

Robert Ellis was born in Miami, Florida, has attended Pinewood Park Elementary and Hialeah High. Robert's favorite subject is metal shop; his favorite teacher is Mr. Fountain. Bob says, "Hialeah is the only high school I have attended. I like all the teachers and most of the subjects. Hialeah has a good sports program which I am proud of."

Wayne Garrick, known better as

'Big Four' Highlights Hialeah Cage Season

Seven of Hialeah's basketball games have already been played. Miami Jackson and Edison have highlighted the season thus far but the Thorobreds still have six games to play with the members of Miami's Big Four, two with Coral Gables, two encounters with Miami High and one game with both Edison and Jackson.

West Palm Beach, a member of Florida's famed Big Ten Conference has a rough and ready squad. Hialeah meets them twice.

Other teams to be challenged this season are Miami Beach (which Hialeah opened against this season), South Dade, Curley, Riverside Military Academy, and arch rivals North Miami.

Although the Thorobred hoopers have little height this year, they make it up by their fine ball-handling. Wayne Garrick and Jerry Askowitz prove to be top-notch guards and Lyle Charles has been high point man thus far this season. Center Larry Wood provides the only height on the starting five.

"Weenie", born in Hartford, Connecticut. "Weenie's" favorites are Mr. Brawner and basketball. About basketball he says, "Basketball means more than anything to me. If it wasn't for basketball, I would have quit school last year. It made me think different. It has changed my character and my disposition. I try harder in my school work. I think it has almost made me a man!"

Jim Dixon intends to attend the Air Force Academy, and plans to be an aviator. About his team, Jim says, "Basketball is a sport which requires a great deal of coordination and skill. I feel privileged in belonging to a varsity sport such as this."

Keith Willoughby was born in San Francisco, California. He intends to attend either the University of Miami or the University of Florida, but plans to make the Navy his career. Keith thinks that Hialeah as a first year school with seniors, have advanced wonderfully. "I wouldn't go to another school!"

Lyle Charles, born in Jacksonville, Florida, favorite subject is chemistry and Mr. Lucas. He intends to attend the University of Miami. He thinks Hialeah is a great school and one of the best in the state.

Hialeah Grid Squad Ends Season With Awards Banquet

The second annual football banquet marked the end of the season for the Hialeah grid squad.

Coach Tom Nugent, head football coach of the University of Florida, highlighted the evening of events with his talk. He stated that the secret of sports success lies in the players' self-confidence.

"Players must convince one person above all that they have what it takes, that is themselves," he said. "Ninety percent of anything in athletics depends on that magic of believing in yourself."

The coach ended by saying that in three years Lannom would have a championship, undefeated team.

Captain Andy Lapicola received the Kiwanis "outstanding football player" award, a replica of the 60-inch silver trophy held in the school showcase with his name engraved on the large one.

Charlie Maples received the school's award as the "best blocking lineman" and George Cox received "Outstanding Junior Varsity Player" trophy.

Wallace Connor received these awards.

Coach Charles Coffey presented awards to Bruce Ickes, Benjie Lebow, Charles Maples, Bill Salyer, Alan Stone and Bill Willingham.

Charles Chastan was given his ward by Coach Roy Brewer.

Manager Harry Walton recognized with awards Bobby Grimes, head trainer, Nick Capelletti, head manager, and James Whitten, assistant manager.

Typhoons Whirl Thorobreds, 68-51

Miami Beach High's Typhoons went berserk in the fourth quarter and scored 25 points to down the Red and Blue cagers 68 to 51 in the Thorobreds' opening game.

Lyle Charles was high point man with 21 points, 11 on foul shots. Richie Berger, Beach's star last season returned to be high point man for the Typhoons with 18 points.

Hialeah kept pace until the final quarter of the game. The two teams were deadlocked, 10-10, at the end of the quarter. Beach led 29-26 at halftime and the T-Breds came back to trail by only one point 43-42 at the end of the third frame.

Beach's "B" squad also proved to have too much endurance for the baby Thorobreds as they took home a 48-43 victory.

Gym Meet With Gables Planned

"The Hialeah gym team is off to a good start this year and is looking forward to a good season," says Mr. Bob Delaney, coach. They plan their first meet of the year against Coral Gables January 19. Right now the Gables is the only other squad in Dade County, but Miami High is working hard on developing a squad.

There was a state meet last month but the boys did not feel they were prepared for competition such as this. However a couple of meets should up their morale so that they will welcome any competition. Coach Regiva will be back from the Air Force sometime this month and Mr. Delaney is expecting a lot of help in preparing for a possible state meet. The boys are working out hard and regular but their morale is low.

Hialeah Bows To "Red Raiders", 60-40

Hialeah Romps Over Curley For First Win

Hialeah came back from an underdog at the end of the half to romp over Archbishop Curley High by scoring 17 points in the third period.

Curley opened the game at a fast pace which was closely followed by the Thorobred hoopers. The Knights had a 4 point lead before Askowitz dropped one through the hoop to place Hialeah in the race.

Curley's Signore sent one through the hoop as the buzzer drew the first period to a close, bringing the lead up to 7 points, 12-5.

As the second period opened "Arch Signore" took the lead again scoring, to bring the "Knights" ahead by 9 points. Curley scored again followed by Hialeah's Garrick.

The game at this point was hot and fast with both teams fouling in turn. Hialeah picked up 4 points in foul shots to Curley's 3 before Signore broke it up with a basket, making the score 23-16. Charles stirred the dust around Hialeah's scoreboard by dropping one thru the hoop, 23-18. Signore dropped one thru for Curley, and Garrick sent Hialeah tromping behind the Knights 2 points closer with foul shots.

In the scramble that resulted after Ellis shot a foul Krtausch bounced the ball into the hoop for 2 points, 27-22.

Garrick shot from the side court holding the Knights back to a 3 point lead. Curley played frantically for a basket as the half-time buzzer rang but could not get around Hialeah's defense.

The "brimstone" could be smelled in the air as the game reopened with Charles trying several hookshots, all unsuccessfully. Charles was fouled but was successful in making one shot bring the trailing Thorobreds 2 points behind the Knights. Krtausch settled the score for Hialeah though with a magnificent sweep under the basket, 27-27.

Charles got his second chance for a foul shot in the same minute and this time brought Hialeah ahead for the first time.

It was "tit for tat" after this with the T-breds doing most of the scoring, and as the buzzer rang marking the end of the third period, Hialeah's Walton sank one for the first time giving the Thorobred's a 10 points lead, 31-41.

The last period was fast with the Thorobreds doing most of the shooting. Curley scored only eight points in the last quarter and these were lucky ones shot from desperation. As the buzzer rang marking the end of the game Hialeah stood ahead by 18 points, 56-39.

Dick Krtausch was high point man for Hialeah making five field goals and one foul shot. Signore stood out for Curley scoring 27 of their 39 points.

AN UNIDENTIFIED HIALEAH PLAYER goes in for a lay up shot in the Edison game. RECORD photographer Jack Starkey perched himself on the ceiling to shoot this one.

Hialeah was defeated by a quick scoring Edison High last Wednesday in the Raiders own gym. Although the game was played exceptionally fast, it seemed comparatively slow to the final 30 seconds of the game when Edison brought the score from 52-40 to 60-40 by dropping the ball through the hoop 4 times for a total of 8 points in 30 seconds.

Woods received the ball on the opening jump, but Edison quickly snatched it away to score.

The playing continued and Edison's foul shooting stood the score at 5-4 until during a scramble with Edison players, Charles knocked one over the hoop to bring Hialeah ahead, 6-5. Edison again took the leading role and held the score 10-8 until in the final seconds of the first period Dick Krtausch evened the score 10-10.

Jackson 'Generals' Outrank Hialeah; Steeds Fall; 61-53

Dec. 21, 1956—A valiant Hialeah Thorobred finished a close second tonight to the fastest basketball game he has seen all season. Seven hundred lucky fans were snugly protected from the 45 degree weather by the fast-moving contest. That's how hot it was.

Jackson, playing their second game in three days, was an easy favorite over the twice-beaten Thorobreds, but the victory itself was hard earned.

Despite a timbering Jackson height average of 6' 4", the Hialeah charges made an undaunted attempt to capture the victory. Entering the second period in a ten-ten tie, Hialeah rallied quickly for a short-lived 18 to 14 lead. After a General counter attack though, the halftime score was evened at 25 to 25.

Both teams fought hard for the lead in the third period, and the game got hotter with every dribble. Only Chuck Tinsley's half-court "ditch" shot gave the Jacksons their 35 to 33 lead at the end of the third.

Hialeah recovered the jump ball to start the clock on the final quarter, but soon lost it on a bad pass. Then Jackson made a fast break and scored.

Hialeah brought the ball down slowly this time, but missed the rebound on a bad shot and took the defense again. Jackson moved the ball around the outside until Tinsley broke in and sank a hook shot.

In the closing minute twenty seconds of the game, Hialeah center Larry Wood was sent out of the game on "excessive fouls". He took with him six feet-four inches and Hialeah's only "last chance" to rally. Tinsley was high scorer with 24 points.

The "Red Raiders" followed this with a quick burst of speed to pick up 8 points in the last 30 seconds of the game, winding it up to a final score of 60-40.

Sport Facts and Tacts

By JACK STARKEY

"Night football" versus "day football" brings up the question, When was the first night football game played? Well, finding the answer wasn't easy, but here 'tis: The first football game played outdoors at night was between the University of Arizona and St. Vincent's College. You've probably never heard of St. Vincents, but that's only because the name was changed to Loyola University about forty years ago.

That game was played in Los Angeles on the night of November 25th, 1905, and St. Vincent won by the score of 55 to 0.

Night football has had a wide growth since that eventful evening in California and has received its greatest impulse from the South.

"Pigskin" Just Hogwash

Much to the surprise of many newcomers to the art of football, the football itself is made of cowhide, not a pig's skin. The term "pig's skin" is an old one that dates back to the days when an inflated pig bladder was used for a ball.

All the pig bladders I've ever seen though, were round. This fives with the fact that prior to 1896 the shape of a football had never been specified. In 1896, the rules were changed to ascertain the shape of the football as a "prolate spheroid", but with no fixed measurements.

In 1912 fixed measurements as well as a limitation in weight of between 14 and 15 ounces when inflated were established for the ball.
