Honor Society Helps New Comers

Hialeah's National Honor Society is constantly begging to improve its organization and in consequence, the feeling and condition in the school bettered.

Recently, under the direction of the Honor Society president Terry Jackson, the Society has decided to form a plan by which all new students can be guided to their various classes. Each Honor Society member is designated with a certain club or activity to represent, for example: Student Council was represented by Dennis Barker; the Key Club by James Harvey; the Orchestra by Danny Thomas; the newspaper staff by F. Jerry Coleman.

At the last club period, all the new students at Hialeah High met in the Library where they were lectured to by the Honor Society. School regulations policies and reading procedures were explained, and many alert questions were asked.

The National Honor Society has pledged itself to help each new pupil in finding his way through the newness of the school environment.

Junior Class Committees Chosen for Upcoming Prom

Virginia Bopp, the Junior class President has assigned five committees to work on preparations for Hialeah High Schools' first Junior Prom.

The prom, which is being put on by the juniors for the seniors, will probably be held in the ball room of the Hialeah Race Course. The date has been set for the night of May 18, but as yet the place has not been definitely decided.

Leona Higdon, Ralph Morris, Bill Dustall, and Gary Chamberlain have been given the job of finding a suitable orchestra to play for the affair.

After the final arrangements have been made as to the place, Betsy Stoinoff, Francis Fraleigh, Sharon Miller, Jimmy Roberts, Virginia Beasley, Marilyn Jones, Carolyn Collins will be in charge of preparing decorations.

Lions International Plans Annual H. H. S. Bar-B-Que

In a recent letter to the Editor of the RECORD, the Lions Club International of Hialeah Chapter, expressed a desire to aid the Varsity Athletic program of Hialeah High School by organizing an annual Kick-off Bar-B-Que dinner, carnival and dance to help raise funds to support the program during the year.

It is the Lions' plans to hold the proposed dinner on the Saturday evening immediately following the Thoroughbred's first game. Should such a program be created, the date of the first of the annual affairs would be September 21.

TENTATIVE PLANS FOLLOW

At 6:00 the Bar-B-Que dinner would be served with all food and drink donated by meat packers, bakeries, restaurants, etc.

All people, including participants, would donate the sum of $1.00 for the dinner and for admission to the Kick-Off affair.

PROGRAM

1. Introduction of H.H.S. Principal Varsity Athletic coaching staff.
2. Introduction of 1957 Thoroughbred football squad.
3. Introduction of the President and committee chairman of all participating organizations.
4. Music by the H.H.S. band.

5. High School cheers led by the H.H.S. Cheerleaders.

6. Dancing for all after dinner.

7. Carnival and side shows prepared and directed by the various clubs in Hialeah High School and any civic club so desiring.

The above are only proposed plans for the dinner has yet to materialize.

The Lion's Club wishes to hear from any and all organizations interested in promoting such a Kick-Off dinner. It is their goal to organize in one big committee where everyone can have a part in this service project.

The Lions are ready to talk to all groups who wish to hear more about their plans. Contact Mr. Paul A. Rindom, Chairman Activities Committee North Hialeah Lions Club P.O. Box 2, Hialeah, Fla.

Boys' and Girls' State Candidates Qualifications Up

"The first qualifications for Boys' and Girls' state candidate are that the applicant be a Junior and either a boy or a girl," jokingly stated Mr. Thomas Heaps, activities director.

Boys' and Girls' State was created to give a chance to active, intelligent students, interested in the workings of the government, to see exactly how the government, they have to live under, operates. They will also have the chance to put to use their knowledge of this operation, by taking the place of top officials for a week.

During this time they will vote on the people they want for governor, and all the other State officials, and they will either pass or defeat certain bills that come before their legislature.

Nominations for both Boys' and Girls' state are made by the faculty of this school. The first screening takes place in the Social Studies Department, since this is the place where they obtain most (Please turn to page 6)

Dr. Hartz to Speak

Hialeah PTA is sponsoring a Family Life Institute for students and parents next April. Principal speaker and consultant will be Dr. Edwin R. Hartz, Associate Professor of FSU. Dr. Hartz will speak and advise on topics that students will be given an opportunity to choose in the near future. Suggestions for consideration are such topics as "What It Means to Grow Up," "Growing Up Emotionally," "Getting Along with Others," "Getting Along with Your Family," "Successful Dating," "The Difference Between Love and Infatuation," "Looking Toward a Successful Marriage," "What Makes a Family Happy" and "How to Live with Parents."

Dr. Hartz will talk to classes each morning for a week, conduct two assemblies, and give a public lecture two nights during his stay at Hialeah High.

Refreshments will be provided by Judy Tittle, Joyce Adams, Deanne Fincher, Pat Kidd, Carol Hamilton, and Dannieto Cagle.

Along with the orchestra, there will be extra entertainment. So far the only person working on that side of the picture is Carl Barton.

Proper publicity will be provided from five members of the RECORD staff. It will be up to Bonnie Clark, David Rayfield, Virginia Coleman, Jack Starkey, and Marcia Newton to see that the entire student body knows well ahead of time when and where the prom will be, so all will be in attendance.

Already with $150.00 in the treasury, the junior class is looking forward to raising more money with their paper drive which started last week as well as junior dues, and junior pins.

"I'll have no idea how much the prom will cost until we find out how much the race track will cost to rent as well as finding out how much the individual committees will need," was Virginia's reply when asked about the expenses.

Tickets for the prom will be on sale at $1.00 per couple for anyone outside of the junior or senior class. All juniors and seniors will be admitted free.

HHS Interns Means Teachers Tomorrow

Hialeah High is again aiding in the education of future teachers by allowing interns from colleges to come in to work under directing teachers.

These interns will attend school one day a week until March. After that they will attend every day.

In terms and their directing teachers are: Mr. Richard Thomas, who is intern for Mrs. McShane (Please turn to page 7)

How, Why of Curfews

Originally, curfew was a French word, cuevre fu, which was a regulation directing that fires be covered or extinguished at a fixed hour in the evening when a bell was rung. This was in force in Europe in the Middle Ages.

The curfew has rung in many parts of England every night since the time of William the Conqueror. In many places in the United States it was introduced as a signal—say at 9 o'clock—when children unaccompanied by adults were required to leave the streets and go home. At Oxford University 101 strokes are run on "Great Tom" in Christ Church College at 9 o'clock every evening to warn students to return to their colleges.

The curfew still survives in the United States as a means of announcing the lateness of the hour, as a warning to minors to go indoors, or as a police measure against further nocturnal continuances of such public activities as drinking at bars and congregating at places of entertainment. During World War II, a variety of nocturnal curfews was put into effect, both in America and Europe, as a means of conserving coal, oil, and other materials necessary to the war, and as a protection against air raids; in enemy-held territory, the curfew was used to clear the streets as a protection against sabotage and underground activities.

February Purifies

"The February sunshine steeps your boughs, and tints the buds and swells the leaves within".

This is a line from one of William Cullen Bryant's famous poems expressing a feeling of February. February is a Latin word meaning "to purify", for it was the month the Romans were purified for the religious festivals of the following months.

Although the second month of the year, it must not be included as a month when Romulus made the first calendar year. Numa later added February as the Romans called it.

February had 30 days until the time of Julius Caesar who took one day off to add to the month of July, which was named after him. The emperor Augustus took another day off to add to August.

It is the shortest month of the year with 28 days and an extra day every leap year. The special days in February are Valentine's Day on the 14th and the birthdays of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

Common Man

Let us once and for all explode the mythological creature called the common man. He is more fog-woven than Hercules; more vague and smoke-like than the spiritory panther and Ione. And yet, according to writers and psychologists, politicians, and preagogues, the common man is well-nigh as big as the moon.

To have a common man we must of necessity also have an uncommon man. But who is he? The banker, the lawyer, the judge, or is it the poet, the piano virtuoso, the sculptor, or is it the other extreme where the bank-robber, safe-cracker, and gun-mall are?

In this world there is only man, he is neither common nor uncommon. He is today all that he was yesterday and all that he will be tomorrow. But by being all the same, man is therefore individual.

Words Resound

Words have the power of an atomic bomb. In the past, words have changed whole nations, doctrines, and even started wars. Today, words are maintaining peace by the peace by the conferences in the United Nations. Throughout time, words have ameliorated the conditions between the king and parliament, and earlier, words gave the cry of the common people fulfillment in the Magna Carta. And again, in our country, words gave our entire country freedom.

But far the side of giving peace and fueling wars, words can be strung like pearls on a spider's web in poetry and prose. Words are truly the great comforters of mankind. They can give condolences to a widow or they can sing joy to a newly wed.

Actually, however, words alone have barely the power of a penny fire-cracker. It is the idea that makes words explode.

Get Salk Vaccine Shots Now

It seems that high school students don't want something for nothing, not even if it could possibly mean whether or not they could live a normal life.

This may seem like a funny thing to say, but it is the truth. High school students, as well as their parents and their younger brothers and sisters, now have the opportunity to immunize themselves against what used to be the most feared disease known to man—Polio.

Dr. Jonas Salk discovered a vaccine that will save the lives and the normal health of thousands of people each year. Health departments throughout the entire United States have made it possible for every man, woman and child to save themselves from this dreaded disease, but will they do it? No, they won't. They are offered possibly the greatest thing they could ever have, a normal life. What do they do? They try to find something wrong with Dr. Salk's discovery.

They are offered something for nothing, and they won't take it. The Dade County Health Department has an over-supply of vaccine on hand at the present time, and will administer the shots to anyone who will go to any Dade County Clinic between 1:30 and 4:00 P. M. on Friday afternoon.

Everyone Has Will to Win

Coupled with this ability to use his mind is the ever-present will to win . . . to face obstacles and to defeat them, using his brains and his bravery to his advantage.

Men and women like Franklin, Lincoln, Madam Currie, and countless others . . . all were faced with obstacles . . . all knew defeat . . . and all fought back and won their struggles, defeated obstacles, and broke from darkness into the light. Through their will to win, and their bravery, they added their part in making this world a nicer place to reside in.

All of us have known obstacles, things that have stood in the way of our welfare and happiness, or that of others of our kind. But whether or not we can defeat the obstacle and break into the light depends on our will to win, our ability to face defeats and to fight back . . . and win.

We must learn to use OUR will to win to its fullest extent, and as it should be used . . . we must know how to make decisions, great or small, when and as they should be made. Here is the realization of one of life's greatest lessons, the knowledge that problems, if faced directly, can be pushed into nothingness, then man will take the giant step toward a real and lasting undertaking of himself, others about him, and this great ability he possesses . . . the will to win.

Dead Latin Lives Forever

With a good background and understanding of the Latin language the study of English, French, Spanish, and Portuguese will come easy. In the English language for example, about 75 percent of the vocabulary is derived from Latin. The other 25 per cent is of Greek and the old Anglo-Saxon.

Latin got its name from Rome which was situated in the Italian district of Latium.

In the average high school study of Latin you will learn; not only the language, but also the life of the Romans, and the way he went through life.

If you are fortunate enough to have studied latin before a course in a science, such as biology, you will have more thorough understanding of the spelling and meaning of the terms of that course. Latin is used every day by doctors, scientists, and lawyers in their occupations.

B. L. Ullman and N. E. Henry, authors of LATIN FOR AMERICANS have this to say about the study of Latin: "Latin is not an easy subject, but if you study your lesson every day and are not afraid to ask your teacher to explain what you do not understand, you will discover that it is both delightful and useful."

Many words in English are at once recognizable if one has studied Latin. In fact if one has only had one year's study of the Latin language his knowledge of English would greatly improve. For example; when reading a passage in any difficult subject, words continually arise that one can drive from simple Latin origins. In the word "beneficial" one can see at once that "bene" is the Latin word for "good" and "ficial" comes from the Latin verb "facio" meaning to do or to make. By putting both Latin words together one gets the meaning of beneficial—to do or make good.

Similarly, a word like circumlocution may appear to be difficult at the first appearance, can be made to be very simple if one remembers that "circum" means circular or round, and that "locus" means to talk. Thus the word means to talk around something or in modern day phraseology to beat around the bush.

Many words are made without one change from the Latin origin. Such words as apparatus, status, greatis, are pure Latin words without any change made. However, many words are given Latin prefixes and suffixes to make new English words. For example, precede is given the common Latin suffix of "prae" which means before. Similarly other words such as sub, inter are given two words to form words such as substitute, intercourse. However, many Latin words have the ailment of being to abstract. Words such as fidelity, are often difficult to define because of their lack of concrete meaning. Latin words therefore should be used discriminately for fear of language becoming too abstract and vague in meaning.

Latin, you see, is vital to your understanding of your native tongue which will thereby enable you to understand the languages of all romantic countries.

Man was endowed by his Creator with the wondrous ability to think . . . the ability to use his mind to guide him in his many ventures on earth . . . the ability to create, to build, to use his hands and his senses for a purpose, a purpose that can help him in his struggle to find happiness and a full, rich life.

AUDITORIUM NEARS COMPLETION

Up until only a week or so ago, no one, not even Mr. Pease our principal, knew just when the construction on the auditorium would be completed.

Now, at last, the secret is out. Final work will be finished on or before March 8 and the official dedication will be scheduled for sometime around March 22.

The completion of the structure marks another milestone in the short history of Hialeah High School. Materially, that is.

Actually, H.H.S. has a very long history. In fact it dates back when a group of enterprising people said "Hialeah needs a high school."

At the time no one could hear their plea. But finally in 1954 the people of Hialeah got what they asked for.

Still however, the institution was not a full fledged high school for it only included the tenth grade. The following year the eleventh grade was added, and the year 1956 saw the first senior class as well as the elimination of the junior high grades.

Now, also in Hialeah's first senior year, the school has the auditorium that has been so long awaited. Adjoining the west end of the building, the auditorium marks the final construction on the blueprints for H.H.S.

MANY THINGS ON AGENDA

Many things are on the agenda for the coming year in the way of class activity. The traditional junior senior prom which is so prominent in other schools has been in the making for Hialeah for many weeks now.

The seniors are looking forward to the day when they will walk down the aisles of the auditorium for the last time wearing the white graduation robes they just shelled out $4.30 for.

The Anchor Club has their annual Nautical Ball before them and the big four service clubs are preparing for the huge ball they will put on sometime in the Spring.

Save your Confederate money boys! All these things are going to cost you.

Why Congestion?

Traffic congestion is caused by too many people arriving in too many cars at the same place and at the same time.

In many cases this cannot be changed much. At the so-called "rush hour", everyone is either coming home from work or going to work. It is at this time that accidents are most frequent. People are in too big a hurry to think about the other person, or even care.

Courtesy. That is the "code of the road". Also, this is what a frustrated driver lacks. A driver who has a burden on his shoulders or a heavy thought on his mind can be neither courteous nor thoughtful.

He, in turn, will make other driver's angry. This begins a chain reaction of perpetual motion. Perhaps one will not think to let the other person have the right-of-way at an intersection. This makes the other angry, and he does not stop at the next red light. Right away there are accidents and a whole town full of irate people.

It would be just about as easy to start a chain reaction of good will. If someone lets another make a lefthand turn in heavy traffic, he goes away happy. First chance he gets, he does the same for someone else. With everyone helping in this way, how could it fail to help relieve traffic congestion?

From the Horse's Mouth

By BONNIE CLARK

Recently I had the pleasure of riding home in Jimmy Richland's bomb (car). As usual, I was dumped in the back seat among the many oddities a young, healthy, normal American boy might carry in his car. Among this junk, believe it or not, were books. What kind of books they were is what was interesting. Here and there under a pile of aviation, bowling, girls', and sports' magazines, were two text books. Reaching for one of the books I accidentally pulled up an under shirt. Jimmy, with his face beaming, looked through the rear view mirror, stumbled for words, and finally came up with, "I used to carry my pajamas there, but my girl friend blotted her lipstick on them and I had to throw them away."

How to catch an elephant in one easy lesson, told by Luther Keyes First, you go over to Africa and take with you spy glasses, tweezers, and a fruit jar. Climb up on a limb and wait for the elephant to pass under. When you see one passing through, turn the eye-glasses upside down to make the elephant look smaller. Then all you have to do is reach down with the tweezers, pick it up and put it in the fruit jar.

"What do you have when a birdie flies into your lawn mower? . . . Shredded tweet," chirps the lively Mr. Joe White. There's a method to this madness, however, for its his way of asking for bird seed. What a strict diet he must be on!

In a recent play given in the fourth period dramatics class, Rosie Vall, Judy Tittle and Bonnie Clark gave the skit "Three Old Maids and a Bottle. The "Three Old Maids" is very clear but there was some doubt as to what the "Bottle" meant. That's right, it was only a Clorox bottle.

Rosie played the part of a drunk woman trying to obtain a driver's license to get her false teeth out of a bar down the street where she had left them. She needed the driver's license to identify herself to get her teeth back. Judy Tittle played the desk examiner and Bonnie played the exam examiner. Confused? Then we shall continue.

After crashing into a building, side swiping a car, turning right in a one-way road running in the opposite direction, and coming to the conclusion Rosie was drunk, I decided I eeded a drik, too. It didn't take much until both of us were pickled pink. After a lot of arguments, Rosie began to brag she worked for the state. There was some doubt as to why the state would hire a person like this, but she cleared the issue by hiccuping. "I work for the State of Confusion."

By the time the play ended, Judy was joining us at the bottle and Rosie finally got her teeth back. "Playing drung was the easiest way I ever got an "A". It just seemed to come naturally," laughs Rosie coming off the stage.

Brief Case Gives Teacher Rough Time

By John Marshall

"If you promise not to laugh, I'll look for them in my brief case," remarked Mr. Jerry Salek, eleventh grade English teacher, as he began a short troublesome search for several red marking pencils supposedly hidden somewhere in his enormously over-loaded briefcase.

The whole class broke into giggles and laughter as he went struggling through his bulging sachel making all sorts of strenuous faces and odd remarks.

"Somebody's reaching up through the bottom and pulling the other way," he said as he hoisted out of his briefcase something that looked like a miniature library and a junk yard combined. As he looked at the array of objects he blurted out, "Now I know how Balboa felt when he saw the Pacific for the first time."

Somebody in here must be a red pencil thief, but you all have such guilty faces," commented Mr. Salek jokingly. "All I can find is one pencil."

The class again burst into a roar of laughter at his humorous gestures, and Mr. Salek, finally giving up the "Battle of the Bulge" sent a student to borrow the pencils from a nearby room.

Hungarian Girl Refugee Learns To Live in U. S.

Did you know that there is a student from a far-off country walking our halls? The name is Ericka Meszaros, who is staying in our country to escape Russian oppression.

Ericka was born in Szombathej, Hungary, in 1941. Ericka's family lived in the city of Budapest spending their vacations at their country home. Ericka attended an all-girls' high school where she took such studies as chemistry, physics, geography, language, history and phys. ed. to name a few.

Their journey from war-torn Hungary was quite difficult. Ericka's father left Hungary first and traveled to Innsbruck. She and her mother left Hungary and walked from Budapest to the Austrian border, a distance of approximately 130 miles. She and her mother went to a convent in Vienna where Ericka had previously attended school.

It was in Vienna that the family got back together and flew to Ireland. From Ireland they flew to Camp Kilmer, N.J. They stayed in Camp Kilmer two weeks and then traveled by train to Miami.

Ericka likes Hialeah High very much. Everyone is very pleasant to her and she thinks the surroundings are very beautiful. She is very pleased that everyone has been so kind to her.

Ericka likes American music, cars, food, and especially T.V.

Her hobby is fencing and she was unbeaten in competition in all of Budapest. If anyone has any information concerning a fencing club, please contact Ericka, who is in Mr. Earnest's homeroom.

and hope to get them set up. Different states throughout the nation has this TAGO Club and William decided, along with others, that one should be organized here in Miami throughout the State.

The twenty members of the club are teenagers with the most hours at the Filter Center. They were selected from a list of 159 teenagers. These members are from all parts of the county; North Miami, Hialeah, Opa Locka, Miami, and Coral Gables.

No dues are accepted, for the club is sponsored by the County Commission, the Dade County Civil Defense Council, and the Miami Shores Woman's Club, in which they pay all club expenses.

After the constitution was written and the officers elected we decided to accept applications for membership. We hope, in the near future, to have over a hundred members."

William is also a member of the Air Explorers, B.S.A., where he received the Silver Award.

Sports seems to always fit in his schedule for he was equipment manager for the basketball, track and baseball teams during his tenth grade and received his letter award for his services.

William appeared on the VI Stakeberry program on Wednesday, Feb. 20, over radio station WCKR. He was a member of a five man panel representing the Filter Center.

Hi-Y, Y-Teens Sweetheart Chosen

THOSE PRESENT at the Hi-Y's Sweetheart dance saw the following girls crowned as princesses of the ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades in succession: Kathy Platt, Carol Watson, Pat Doll, and Helen Cavalier. The proud queen was Jean Smith.

An Edison boy astonished a number of people by exclaiming, "This is the best dance I've been to in years!" during the annual Valentine Dance sponsored by the Y-Teens and Hi-Y clubs.

Music was provided by an eleven piece orchestra entitled the "Teen Agers". A "Bunny Hop" got things off to a lively pace which did not let down the whole evening.

An excellent floor show contributed to the gaiety of the evening. Mr. William Inglis added his talents by playing the piano for a number of the acts.

Performing were Lou Ann Polie, Gene Vaught and Vivian Holt, all of whom sang. Bobbie Calvert danced to "Honkey Tonk." Loretta Rompot performed a toe dance. Linda Shipley pantomimed "Diamonds are a Girl's Best Friend." Fran Epstein pantomimed, "I Can't Say No."

The "No-Names" composed of Fred Steele, Joe McAlister, Ronnie Carey, and Vince Spaggiara made quite a hit with the crowd by singing such lively songs as "Shake, Rattle and Roll" and "Aunt Fanny". Accompanying the group were Anthony Darby on the bass fiddle and Mr. Inglis on piano.

The climax of the evening came when Mr. Harvy Melton, Hi-Y sponsor, announced the winners of the Valentine Queen contest. Larry Woods, Hi-Y president and Master of Ceremonies, crowned the girls as they came to the stage. Freshman princess was Kathy Platt; Sophomore princess, Carol Watson; Reigning over the gala event was her majesty, Queen Jean Smith.

Refreshments were served. Two cakes decorated with red hearts formed of red icing roses were cut. Soft drinks were sold. Free cokes were given to the entertainers and orchestra.

All teachers were the guests of the Y-Teens and Hi-Y chapters. The PTA offered their services as chaperones for the event.

Hi-Notes From Hialeah

By Marcia Ann Newton
WILL IT EVER GET DONE?

The question at hand is will the new auditorium ever be completed? All the anxiously awaiting students of H.H.S. are all waited out, and can hardly stand it any longer for the job to be done. Due to the delay, the play, Jane Eyre, presented by Thespians of Hialeah and headed by Mr. Joe White is delayed also, which was to be one of the first attractions held there. The delay has been set for a few weeks after the opening of the auditorium.

NEW RECRUITS TAKEN IN

Would you like to join? The Miami Springs, Hialeah, Flag Twirlers, that is. If you would like to try and make a go of it, just talk to Virginia Beasley or one of the other members. Jean Tyler is president.

CONGRATULATIONS!

May I say congratulations to all those lucky people who have won the contests at Hialeah High lately. Wayne Garrick and Gall Schauennessy, as you well know, are King and Queen of Basketball. The Valentine Sweetheart of this year is.....

Notice to all juniors: are you taking part in the activities of the junior class to sponsor a Junior-Senior prom? Why not support your junior class officers and make this prom the nicest one ever given. You can do your part by cooperating with them in everything they do in the way of presenting ideas and paying your dues. Also, buy all the tags that they put out. This will help a lot in the fact that money is needed to make this dance a real wing-ding, for all the seniors to remember.

Keys Sponsor Flying School

For the second year in a row, John Bartlett and John Kologdy, long members of Key Club, headed the first of the weekly meetings in Hialeah High's yearly Aeronautical School.

This year's members of the "school of the air" met last Saturday in front of Hialeah High's school gymnasium, at 8. M. where they boarded a bus furnished by the Dade County Police Benevolent Association and traveled to International Airport.

There, they were met by an Eastern Airline's official, and were taken on a guided tour of the control tower, where they saw the actual progress of controlling huge airliners, and the CAA building.

Aeronautical School was founded to instruct air-minded students of Hialeah High on the complete workings of Miami's busy air traffic. For the past two years, it has been run jointly by Key Club and the Hialeah-Miami Springs Kiwanis Club.

This year, the number of members have been restricted to forty, and seniors have top priority, in joining, but there may still be openings for membership for those interested.

The next trip, the students will see a demonstration of fire fighting techniques.

The third Saturday, the United States Air Force will put on a demonstration for them.

Then, the last meeting of school will perhaps be the most thrilling. For, as the final chapter of the study, there will be a free airplane ride over the greater Miami area. After that, an essay contest will take place, with the first prize being five dollars.

"We hope that this year's school will be as successful and satisfying as last year's," said John Bartlett. "But we will all miss the guiding hand of Sergeant Bill Welsch, who died last month."

Exhibition Comes To H.H.S. Library

Thanks to the generosity of Mrs. Jean Latham, all senior high schools in Dade County are being loaned her exhibition display on the ten steps that she uses for writing her fictional biographies. Hialeah High will have the display from February 25 to March 1.

In writing her books Mrs. Latham chooses people that have something in their life that interests her. For instance in Carry On, Mr. Bowditch, Mr. Bowditch only went thru the fourth grade and before he was thirty he had written a book on navigation that is still used at Annapolis today.

The story of Eli Whitney was written because Eli Whitney was one of the top three lawyers in his time before he changed to an inventor.

Medal For Morse interested her because Morse lived to be 82 and was 41 before he did any inventing.

Her book, Carry On, Mr. Bowditch, has won the Newberry Award.

F.F.A. Announces Winners Of Fair

Herbert Squires, one of the Hialeah High Future Farmers of America, has been named best vegetable grower in the State of Florida. He was given this award at the Florida State Youth Fair.

Don Corpus won awards in the Jersey cow show and in egg plants. Ken Roberts also won recognition for his egg plants, as well as a junior calf raiser.

Charles Posey won second place for his parakeets, second and third places in poultry, and third place in egg plants.

Ray Franklin achieved third place in peppers, and Jim Wood won third place with a nursery display.

Barry Bailine also won first place in competition when he grew the best flower of a certain type.

Anchor Busy With Duties

By Hazel Pomeroy

Anchors away, yes the Anchor club certainly doesn't have any Anchors around their neck with all the activities and services.

Anchor and Key Clubs spent the evening of February 14, watching movies.

As service projects Anchors have sold tags for cancer on February 25, and collected for Multiple Sclerosis.

As the spring comes on Anchors are busy planning their Nautical Ball which promises to be a wonderful dance as it is formal for couples only. This dance will be March 8, from 8:00 P.M. to 12:00 P.M., the tickets are 75 cents. At this time a new Admiral and Shipmates will be chosen.

Another big dance will be the Big Four, which is being held by Anchor, Key, Honoria, and Wheel to be held the last of March.

They will serve the school by ushering April 8-12 in the cafeteria for the Career Day.

The high point of the year for all Anchor is the convention. It has been decided that this year's convention will be in Ft. Lauderdale, April 25-27.

Library Club Looks Forward To Convention

In the last meeting of the library club, many plans were started.

It seems that the library club members are looking forward to their convention that comes sometime this spring. This convention is held for three days in Leesburg, Florida. Not only are you excused from classes part of the time but also there is a great deal of fun from your recreation, your buzz groups, your election and finally the concluding banquet.

Hialeah High has never sent a delegate but many students have talked with those from other schools that have gone and all think they would enjoy it.

Since to be eligible to belong to your school club, one must belong to the state SIMPS (Student Instructional Materials Personnel). Dues are to be paid, and the library club has decided to sell things to make it.

The order has been sent for the stickerettes which can be put on books, cars, etc. The library club will also sell school emblemated Autograph books.

Y-Teens Hold Sale

All over Miami for the past two weeks Y-Teens have been holding their annual potato chip sale.

The potato chips cost twenty-five cents a bag and the profits will be divided among the club treasury, city-wide Inter-Club Council, and the Gordon's Potato Chip Company. Each girl is required sell at least one box of 24 bags.

Prizes this year are better than ever; the tree girls who sell the highest number of bags in the entire sale, which covers several states will receive wrist watches. Last year the winner sold over 1,300 bags.

The club in Miami which has the highest average sale will receive a plaque for its school trophy case.

Debate Society Organizes National Forensic League; Arnold Elected President

"In the present crisis through which mankind is passing, there is unusual need for the work of the National Forensic League", stated FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

Hialeah High School has organized a National Forensic League. Members elected Wayne Arnold president. Arnold last year was the president of the Debate society which Mr. Joe White organized, thus leading up to this year's process of organizing a National Forensic League. Wayne Arnold was the first semester Editor of the Hialeah High School RECORD, and at present time serving as the Secretary of Fla. Key Clubs while holding his present capacity as the President of National Forensic League. "The primary purpose of the National Forensic League is to train youth for leadership", remarked Arnold.

Also throughout history the coincidence of great leadership with the ability to attract and command a following through the power of effective speech has been too frequent to be set down as a matter of chance. A despondent and almost defeated Britain was aroused to heroic efforts for defense and ultimate victory through the masterful oratory of Winston Churchill.

His ability to communicate effectively with the great masses of people and to inspire their confidence in his leadership four times elected Franklin D. Roosevelt president of the United States.

So that there will be leaders tomorrow for the American way of life, students in high schools today must be encouraged to undertake the rigorous training and practice necessary to acquire the power of effective speech. To provide that incentive is the work of the National Forensic League.

Mike Powell was elected the vice-president of the newly formed organization. The other officers are Secretary Doris Robertson; Treasurer, Diane Parker, and chaplain and sponsor, Mr. Floyd B. Boice.

Mr. Boice, the sponsor of this Debate Society and sponsor of Key Club, stated that National Forensic League is not only a debating society but a nationally chartered organization for the purpose of encouraging all phases of the speech arts. Mr. Boice also has stated that it is a Varsity activity where students will receive pins as awards for their accumulation of points. Mr Boice also remarked that the primary purpose of the National Forensic League is to interest high school students in good speech and to hold their interest in it until they acquire a high degree of effectiveness.

Pease Receives Letters

In the past, Mr. Everett G. Pease, principal, has received a number of requests from many of the band member graduates asking why some plans couldn't be worked out in order for them to continue their music activity after graduation. As quoted from the band members, "My instrument is stored away in the closet gathering dust."

F. L. Scheffsky, supervisor of the Evening Adult Program of the Lindsey Hopkins Vocational School feels that announcements should be made at the band functions for the interested people.

Also, the West Miami Jr. High School principal, Mr. G. Leslie Poe, is allowing the adults to use their bandroom and facilities. The instructor will be Mr. Wallace McMurray, Director of the West Miami Jr. High School band.

Registration will be at West Miami Jr. High Tuesday, February 12, from 7:00 to 9:00 P.M. and will meet every Tuesday night thereafter. There will be $1.00 registration fee per semester of 16 weeks.

All members will have to do is furnish his own instrument. Other basic instruments will be furnished.

Religious Faiths Give Awards

The National Conference of Christians and Jews has selected two students from our school who were chosen for their outstanding contribution to the cause of Brotherhood in the Community and for outstanding leadership.

The students selected were, Benjamin Lebow, and Dennis Baker. They received their awards at the Fontainebleau Hotel, Monday, Feb. 18, and Tuesday night at the University of Miami.

The program at the Fontainebleau, had such outstanding speakers as: Dr. Arthur Holly Compton, Nobel Prize physicist, and American Co-chairman of World Brotherhood; also James B. Reston, chief Washington Correspondent of the New York Times.

The Dinner at the Fontainebleau initiated the official opening of Brotherhood Week.

SOME LUCKY STUDENT will win this Model-A Ford, which is being given away by the University Men's Shop, 2828 Ponce DeLeon Blvd., Coral Gables, in connection with the opening of their new Prep Shop.

Courses Added to Arts Program

Industrial Arts at Hialeah High School is keeping pace with our changing times by offering a wide variety of courses for the coming year. In addition to the present courses, an electric and communications shop will be added and will replace the present general shop.

The areas from which to choose are listed below with a brief course description.

- Woods 1—Basic knowledge of woodworking, hand tools and machines.
 - Woods 2—An advanced course in which more complicated woodworking is performed, mostly on machines.
 - Electricity 1—Knowledge of basic electricity, practical experiments and building of small electrical equipment.
 - Electrical 2—More advanced electricity, communications, radio and hi-fi work.
 - Metals 1—Basic knowledge of metalwork, hand tools, machines and transportation.
 - Metals 2—An advanced metalworking course with emphasis on machines and transportation.
 - Graphics 1—Use of drawing instruments, basic mechanical drafting, architecture, letter press printing and blue printing are also included.
 - Graphics 2—Will offer advanced work in engineering drawing with a chance for more specialization on the part of the student.
 - Crafts 1—An introduction to the basic types of craftwork, such as leather, wood, jewelry, art metal, ceramics.
 - Crafts 2—A greater variety of experiences are offered with emphasis on larger and more complicated projects.
- Girls are allowed to take Crafts 1 and 2 and can enroll in Graphics with special permission.

Industrial Arts Film Projects

The Industrial Arts areas took on the appearance of a movie studio last week as cameras ground away, lights blazed, and assistants scurried everywhere. The movie-makers were men from the State Department of Education who, in cooperation with the General Extension Division of the University of Florida, are producing a film on Industrial Arts in the state.

To be used for instructions and publicity purposes, the picture will be available for showing to community and P.T.A. groups, educational institutions, and prospective students.

Dr. Edwin Kurth, Supervisor of Industrial Arts for Florida, is producing the film and expects it to be completed within 3 months. "Our office receives many requests for materials, so I'm sure the Industrial Arts film will be shown all over the country," Dr. Kurth said. "Hialeah High", he added, "was selected because of its modern, well equipped shops."

Officer Here To Give Tests

The Highway Patrol officer was here to give the written drivers exam to those students who take drivers' education under the training of Mr. Louis Swezy. The tests were given on February 14, from first to sixth periods of the day.

Those students who pass this test will go on to learn to drive in the school car. When they are confident enough to drive, they will take the driving part of their test. If they pass this part of the test, they will get a 15% insurance deduction with any insurance company.

G.A.A. Continues Circus Plans

Come one! come all! This will soon be the cry as the G.A.A. (Girls Athletic Association) prepares to put their circus before the student body.

Since the middle of January the circus has been steadily moving along the path of maturity. Ten clubs have arranged to have booths set up and there will probably be dart games and other such games of skill offered. A fun house will be in one of the locker rooms providing laughs and scares for everyone. Cookies and cake will be sold to all who feel the need to eat and the water fountains will be working to help wash them down.

Clowns will be another attraction of the show that should add plenty of laughs since the clowns are directly from the G.A.A.

"Everybody should plan to attend this circus if they're looking for a night of good hardy laughing and good fun" were the words of Jean Smith, an active G.A.A. member.

How To Skip School Efficiently

By Bill Fisher

The first thing to do to accomplish this is to go to class and sit down. The second move is to ask the teacher if you can go get your car keys which you absent-mindedly left in the car. (Even if you don't have a car this usually works).

To give it the professional touch, you forget your books which are in your buddy's car and, of course, he has the key. Get your buddy out of class so that he can get your books out of a car that doesn't even exist!

Now as for "lambing" out of phys. ed., that's comparatively simple. You act like any normal, everyday, phys. ed., hating student. You go in and dress then go out for roll call.

When the command "Fall out!" is given, you fall out but not into a ball game. Make a hasty retreat into the locker room and dress. If you are lucky enough you can just keep right on going out the front door. But if it's closed, you have to go the back way, and take a chance on being caught.

All you have to do in this case is act like a student from another class.

From the field the best way is towards the cafeteria. It's true you need a tray to get out but that doesn't mean you have to buy anything. Grab a tray, and you're off with an object that guarantees freedom. By this time you're so worn out from trying to get out of class that you're ready to go back to it, where you can sleep.

Library Work Underestimated

"How come this book isn't on the shelf; do they have to manufacture the paper it's written on?" This is a question asked by many bookworms of Hialeah High library when their favorite book doesn't appear on the shelf.

To do 1000 books it would take one person working eight hours a day, fifteen days to select and order; eight days to unpack and check in invoice; thirty days to catalog; twenty days to paste, stamp, pocket, etc.; and two days to fix the catalog cards. All of these days added up come to 75 days of straight work on the books with no stopping for students. That's why.

Trees Of Hialeah High School Beware Of Young Artists

By Dee Fincher

It's a good thing a tree isn't self-conscious (or is it?). For everyday, it seems, Alice Horn and her colleague, Janice Trite can be found giving some tree a good going over.

These budding artists take pencil in hand, drawing board on lap, and squint into the sun, trying to capture on paper a reasonable resemblance of a tree.

Each tree on the school ground is in danger of having the pair set up their little chairs and plop down before it to work.

The girls even dragged their equipment across the street and sat in the driveway of one Hialeah resident in an attempt to sketch some shrubbery.

Alice and Janice patiently continue their work amid a continuous string of wisecracks from fellow students who just don't seem to realize the importance, of being able to draw a tree.

City-Wide G.A.A. Meets At Gables

Miami Senior High School played host to the monthly city-wide meeting held February 12.

Hialeah put its talents to work when they got together and worked out a pantomime of two brats (Carol Rollinson and Pat DeVito) entering a movie theater and what happens when they rearrange the entire row to suit their own benefits. To find out what happens ask one of the brats. They started it all.

Discussed at the meeting was the idea of having a playnight at their next meeting. This will consist of relays between the different schools and possibly a volleyball game.

Hialeah was represented by Leanna Lofland, Beverly Martin, Margaret Pantuso, Carol Rollinson, Pat DeVito, Glenn Ann Sapp, Carolyn Pritchard and Dottie Piehler. Mary Buchanan and Frances Rushing, officers of the city-wide, were present but did not represent Hialeah.

Hialeah 'B' Team Captures Tourney; 'A' Places Second

Hialeah's "B" team took over the annual basketball tournament held at Coral Gables, February 8.

Hialeah's first game with South Dade proved to be the most exciting, the final score ending in a tie 9 to 9. The play-off between the two teams resulted in Hialeah winning 3 to 0. Carol Rollinson scored the first point with a foul shot and Ruth Lowden slipped the ball into the basket for the additional two points.

Hialeah mastered Coral Gables with score of 11 to 3. Hialeah proved to be in excellent condition, for Gables only broke through the Hialeah zone one time throughout the whole game.

Miami Beach was bowled over by Hialeah's "B" team 24 to 3.

The "B" team also defeated Southwest High, a newly organized team, 22 to 2. This game proved to be no contest for the skilled Thoroughbreds.

The girls making up the winning "B" team were Carol Rollinson, Dot Hood, Carol Curry, Mary Buchanan, Frances Rushing, Brenda Wooten, Beverly Martin, Pat Jettner, Evelyn Rodenbush, Nola Cole, Carolyn Pritchard, Frances Maxwell, Sonny Hayes, Myrtle Meeker, Barbara Ludwig, Margaret Diehl, Ruth Lowden and Anita Bartlett.

Mary Buchanan, captain of the "B" team, was the leading scorer in the B division with 17 points.

"A" TEAM MAKES SHOWING
 Hialeah's "A" team took South Dade by a score of 26 to 10.

Southwest Highs "A" team was defeated by Hialeah with a score of 36 to 2.

The closest game turned out to be Hialeah and Miami Beach with Hialeah taking the game 25 to 16.

Coral Gables was the only team that could defeat Hialeah's experienced "A" team and did so by a score of 30 to 14. The Hialeah "A" team finished the tournament in second place with Coral Gables taking first.

The "A" team consisted of Jean Smith, captain; Carol Todd, Janet Paasch, Nancy Smith, Elaine Lebow, Diana Wright, Glenn Ann Sapp, Dot Piehler, Annette Pritchard, Virginia Van Kessell, Sherry Dunn, Louise Boughner, Diane Lingard, Pat DeVito, Liz Jones, and Ellen Etter. Ellen was unable to attend the tournament because of an injury to her foot which happened within minutes of leaving for this tourney.

At the end of the tournament Carol Todd was selected high scorer of the day.

In the district free throw contest, Nancy Smith placed first and Carol Todd took third place.

This was the first tournament that Hialeah won 7 out of 8 games played.

of their knowledge of the workings of the government. Then the faculty votes on five of the applicants for the purpose of ranking them.

The first qualification is to be a junior so the individual may come back to school the next year and tell of his or her experiences, so that he may help those interested in trying in their junior year.

The nominees are chosen for their courage of convictions, participation in organizations, scholarship, and physical fitness.

After they are tabulated, the top ten names are forwarded to the district chairman of the Legion Auxiliary and American Legion Posts.

They then compile a master copy of all candidates and release them to all American Legion Posts. There, they vote on the boys by knowledge of their work, perhaps, or if the boy lives in their area, by geographic location. Usually, about twice as many boys go than girls, for many of the boys get backing from a community service club.

The girl nominees are also voted on by the girl members of the Junior Class for final ranking. Then, the Ladies Auxiliary takes their names by rank and geographic location.

A letter is prepared stating the qualifications and experience of the applicants. This, issued when the Legion and Ladies Auxiliary personally interview each nominee. Each visit the home of the hopeful to acquaint parents with the programs, background, and to be assured of parental permission.

Orientation will be given to these people by last year's representatives. Finally, the final decision is made on who is going.

Boys' state will last one week, starting on June 16 and ending the 22. The boys will receive Boys' State T-Shirts, "Dinkies" and pins.

The girls will arrive June 22, and leave June 29. They will re-

Softball Organizes

Softball is in full swing although it was only started a week ago. The reason for the limited skills is because the softball tournament is almost upon Hialeah and the team must be selected and must have time to practice together.

Intra-mural teams are being organized with girls trying to decide what team is the most skilled. Of course, the only way to find out who's tops is to see which team wins the most games.

If any of you girls are interested in going out for the varsity you should plan to go out immediately and join intra-murals. It's not too late but you had better hurry if you are counting on softball intramurals and a position on the varsity teams.

Band Getting Lighter

Pat Sullivan, bandmaster, announces that $300 was raised by the band members during Hialeah Band Tag Day on Saturday, January 18. With the earnings from the city of North Miami for music for their celebration, Coach Lannon's party and the Band Dance, this makes $445 toward lighting up the band. The tag day was suggested by Mayor Milander and organized by Mrs. Ashworth.

ceive Girls State pins. The names of the top-ten applicants for Boys' State, in alphabetical order, are: Charles Adams, Wayne Arnold, Ed Baxter, Gary Chamberlain, Larry Deets, Bill Dunstall, Ray Martinez, Ralph Morris, Louis Pease, and Richard Thigpen.

The names of this year's top-ten applicants for Girls' State, also in alphabetical order are Joyce Adams, Anita Bartlett, Janice Beauchage, Virginia Bopp, Leona Higdon, Linda Lott, Sharon Miller, Betsy Stolnoff, Sharon Voth, and Adele Wallston.

"Girls' and Boys' State representation is an honor which transcends all others offered high school students, since it involves scholarship, activities, and the desirable attributes of character found in all worthwhile awards, plus the fact that the selection is made by instructors, classmates, and those groups represented," stated Mr. Heaps.

"It is illustrative of the genuineness in government the American Legion has as its goal in this and its many other activities."

T-Breds Trot to Belle Glade For Class A Cage Tournament

By JACK STARKEY

Hialeah's wing-clipped (by the Big Four buzzards) Thorobreds will fly into Belle Glade this Thursday night to pit their 8-12 record against South Florida's top Class A team in an effort to capture their second consecutive District Tournament crown. Class B. District 8 champions in 1956, the Thorobreds will meet the winner of tomorrow's Pompano-South Dade game at 8:15 Thursday in the Belle Glade High School gym.

Hialeah luckily drew a bye in the first round of the four-bracket tournament, but will have to face some of the Suncoast Conference's best teams in order to capture the District title. Fiercest is Lake Worth High School.

Lake Worth and Seacrest of Delray Beach are top two teams in Suncoast, but are both in the top bracket while Hialeah is in the bottom. This assures that Hialeah will have to play one of the two if they make the finals.

Seacrest is 11-1 for the season in Class A Competition, their only defeat being to Lake Worth by four points. Seacrest was not on the Thorobred schedule this year, but played Hialeah a 1-1 split in 1956. Hialeah's upset victory over Seacrest last year ended that school's record of 25 consecutive victories, 63-56.

Coach Norman Price of Seacrest, interviewed while scouting a recent Hialeah game, was quoted as tagging Hialeah "The team to beat". Price said he was afraid of Hialeah because he knew they'd win anyway. "I'm not afraid of Hialeah 'cause I am sure they'll win. They beat us last year, and they're a lot better this year."

Other teams in the tournament are Belle Glade, Key West, Curley, Stranahan, and Stuart. Hialeah stomped Curley twice during regular-season play.

Stuart lost to the Thorobreds in the final game of the 1956 ICass B tournament and was also moved into Class A this year.

Pairings for Wednesday are Curley-Seacrest, Belle Glade-Stuart, and Pompano-South Dade.

Hialeah will play their first contest at 8:00 P.M. Thursday. Reserved seat tickets will be on sale at the door.

Thorobreds Repeat Against Riverside

By Mike Rankin

The Hialeah Thorobreds and the Riverside Military Academy "Blue Militia" played a hot game last Tuesday night in spite of the cold weather. Hialeah finally out-ranked the "Soldiers" 76-64 with a sudden surge late in the game.

Larry "Splinter" Wood, and Bob Ellis rebounded the game into Hialeah's stable while Lyle Charles and Weenie Garrick worked the fast break. Hialeah's defense was on the ball all the way.

At the end of the first quarter RMA led 14 to 12. By half time Hialeah captured the lead and had RMA 41-36. After a rest the "Blue Militia" came back to chop the lead to 57-55. Throughout the last quarter Hialeah maintained the lead and the game ended, 76-64.

The colts (JV) also took their game from Riverside 48-36. High scorer was Brown of RMA with 16 points. Otis Pewett and Tony Cocco were the top Colt scorers with 14 each.

RMA's Sam Greenwood was high point man in the game with 22 points, four of them foul shots. Lyle Charles led the Thorobreds with 20 points. Wayne Garrick was top man in the foul shot department with 12.

Barbellers Lift Jackson To Draw

Hialeah's tiger-muscle barbell team held the Miami Jackson brawnheads to a 3-3 tie last Friday as they "lifted" their first meet of the season at the Thorobred pasture.

Jim Hooten led the Thorobreds with a 160-press and 195-jerk. A rematch will probably be played in the near future.

Coach Jack Kaspar has tentatively set a meet with Curley for this Friday. It will be played at Hialeah.

Lannom Sets Ten-Game Slate

Head football Coach Harold Lannom announced recently completion of a ten-game grid slate for the 1957 football season. The schedule includes encounters against Coral Gables, South Broward, and young Southwest. Other notables which the Thorobreds will meet for the first time are Edison under Orange Bowl spotlights, Gainesville at Gainesville, and Miami Jackson in the second Hialeah Kiwanis tiff.

Although there are only four home games on the schedule, Lannom stated that by playing the big schools on their own fields, the Thorobreds would receive about as much revenue anyhow.

The highlight of the season for the players should be the Gainesville trip. Coach Lannom said that the out-of-town jaunt had been promised previously to the team but that this was the first year that scheduling had permitted the journey.

Other games include tilts with North Miami on Thanksgiving Day, Curley, Central Catholic, and, tentatively, St. Theresa.

Tennis Team Plays Today

Hialeah's newly formed tennis team, headed by Coach Jack Kaspar, will get off to a flying start this afternoon when they meet South Dade at Miami Springs Recreation Center.

The complete schedule for February is:

Feb. 27—S. Dade High—M. Springs
Feb. 28—Curley HI—M. Springs.

The schedule for March:
March 6—Stranahan High—Miami Springs

March 7—S. Broward HI—There

March 15—Edison HI—There

March 21—Jackson HI—Moore Pk

March 22—S. Dade HI—There

March 27—N. Miami HI—Miami Springs (boys)

Transit Contest Helps Gymnast Team

By JOHN BUKLAGE

The Miami Transit Essay Contest, open to all senior high students in Dade County, is now underway. A University of Miami Scholarship is still top prize—our gymnastics team can still win that expensive trampoline. If you will spare a few hours of your time, and pound out, in 1,000 words or less, an essay titled "Traffic Congestion in Greater Miami's Crowded Shopping Areas Could be Relieved by....."

This is how the trampoline business works — in addition to the scholarship prize, the school newspaper which best covers the contest from the most varied angles and the student council from the school which has the most entries turned in can each win a $300 prize.

In an agreement between the Phys. Ed. folks the RECORD and the Student Council, should either win its prize, $150 will be donated to the folks down-at-the end of the school—and should BOTH win, well, there's $300 for the kitty. That's enough for a down payment on a good-size trampoline. And with a trampoline would come a new course in Physical Education which would be more fun than all others combin-

It Ain't Hay

By Jim Richland

Sports enthusiasts who can't afford the terrific expense of basketball games have found an easy way to see Hialeah games. They just climb up on the roof and crawl across to the top windows of the gym for bird's eye (pigeon-witted) view of the whole game.

The Thorobred Cage team will be trotting off to Belle Glade tomorrow for their second year of competition in the Class B District Tournament. Since most of the games will take place during school hours, the students and loyal basketball supporters can only be there in spirit.

Competition may be offered to Hialeah's baseball squad by the little leaguers of Mr. Tom Heaps. Mr. Heaps' boys have appeared at the Basketball games outfitted in baseball uniforms marked "HIALEAH HEAPS".

It seems to me than an awful lot of things are postponed around this school. Every two minutes someone hops on the P.A. system and interrupts the whole school by announcing the postponement of some game.

Although the last Barbell meet was postponed, the boys are still working hard getting ready to drop the weights on Jackson's Generals in the near future.

The tennis team is preparing for four meets this month. They are with Miami Jackson and Curley High Schools. They have scheduled eleven meets for this tennis season.

Hialeah's golf team was defeated by Riverside Military Academy last week, with Harry Gieslager scoring 3 points for the losers. The team has meets scheduled with Pompano and Miami High later this

SAFARI TO BELLE GLADE

It Might Be a great boost to Hialeah's morale if about 75 or 100 Thoroughbred fans would be enthusiastic enough to follow the team to Belle Glade. It's only a scant 95 miles away and the Thoroughbreds could probably use the support. Luckily of course, a highway was recently paved through the Everglades and one can make the trip to Belle Glade without a swamp buggy, but don't forget your snake-bite kit.

CLOCKER JACK PICKS THE HORSES

I'm not making book, but I pick the "Horses"—to win the Tournament, that is. I sound biased since Hialeah had a very losing season, but here are the facts. Hialeah lost six of their games to three of the top five in the state. A loss is always a sad affair, but I'm willing to bet that the experience did Hialeah some good—maybe enough to win the district tournament for them.

FACTS AND FANTASIE

In case NCAA, AAU, NOSEY, or XYZ wants to know where star-athlete Jerry Askowitz got his 1956 Ford—Santa Claus gave it to him . . . If you're wondering why Tony the Thoroughbred hasn't been appearing at basketball games it's probably because the rent expired on his uniform. (Either that or he's working over at the track) . . . Also—if Tony plans to run in this year's Preakness he'd better hurry. Nominations close Friday. But if that's too early, Tony can wait till Monday and register for the $75,000 Hialeah Turf Handicap . . . Never again will I kid football manager Bobby Griner about becoming a jockey. It's no laughing matter. As a matter of fact, there's good money in it. Eddie Arcaro has won $18,957,333 in purses, and he's still riding 'em . . . Richard "Van-the-Man" Van Luit, former Hialeah High basketball star, is still in the game. He is heading the Hialeah Recreation Department Men's League with an average of 15.1 in ten games. "Van" was ineligible for prep ball this year because of FHSAA age restrictions . . . Former Hialeah football player Ed Gray is playing basketball now at Castle Heights Military Academy in Tennessee, where he is finishing high school. He also played Tailback on CHMA'S single-wing football squad.

Thoroughbreds Defeat R.M.A. in First Track Meet at Home

By JIM COPPINGER

The Hialeah Thoroughbreds got off to a winning start two weeks ago, winning their first track meet of the year. The victory was over Riverside Military academy at Moore Park. Hialeah's Thoroughbreds whipped the "Militia" 77½ to 45½. John Knight was high man for Hialeah with 9½ points.

Ray Morris, who was selected for All-City last year, came in first in the mile run. Andy Lopicola, a senior, won the 440 in 55.5. Gary Birdsall won the broad jump at 19 feet, 8¼ inches. John Knight won the 220-yard dash. In the high hurdles Jim Whitten and Gary Birdsall won top honors. Gary Chamberlain and Whitten won the low hurdles for Hialeah.

Some expected standouts this season include: Don Bender, Andy Lopicola, Gary Chamberlain, Ralph and Ray Morris, Larry Worley, Jim Whitten, Hubert Daniels, Sadler Yandell, Art Lancoir, David Dunn, George Rogers, and John Knight. Moore Park will be the site of most of Hialeah's meets. Here is how the Thoroughbreds did in their first meet of the year.

High Hurdles: 1st Whitten, Hialeah, 2nd Birdsall, Hialeah, Mile Run: 1st Ray Morris, Hialeah, 2nd Worley, Hialeah 880 Relay: Won by Hialeah — Lancoir, Daniels, Crawford, Knight. 440 Run: 1st Lopicola, Hialeah. Low Hurdles: 1st Chamberlain, Hialeah, 2nd Whitten, Hialeah, 880 Run: 1st Bender, Hialeah, 2nd Ralph Morris, Hialeah 220 Run: 1st Knight of Hialeah. Broad Jump: 1st Birdsall, Hialeah. 19 foot 8¼ inches. High Jump: 1st Pewitt, Hialeah, 2nd Rogers, Hialeah.

Next meeting is with Miami High and Miami Beach, a triangular meet at Moore Park 3:30 P.M. February 28th.

Gymnasts Host Exhibition; Win Honors at Coral Gables

The Hialeah High gymnastics team played host to Coral Gables and Riverside last Monday in exhibition meet at the Hialeah gym.

Charles Curry led the Thoroughbreds with first places in the Rope Climb and Still Rings. Jimmy Devlin placed close second in the Rings with 169 to Curry's 171.

INDIVIDUAL MEET

Hialeah's first meet was an individual competition match held at Coral Gables High School two weeks ago. Hialeah unofficially scored more total points than any other team, but medals were awarded solely on individual competition.

Coral Gables' Mike Benedetto was star attraction in the match with three first-place performances in seven events. Besides winning in the "Horizontal", Flying Rings, and Parallel Bars, Benedetto placed third in the still rings.

Charles Curry won Hialeah's only two first-place ribbons in the Rope Climb and the Still Rings. Curry also placed second in the Flying Rings.

Jim Devlin of Hialeah, scored a second, a third, and a fourth in the Stills, Flying Rings, and Horizontal Bar.

Thoroughbreds Set Practice Record

The Hialeah Thoroughbreds set a record in pre-game practice before the Edison game two weeks ago when they made 65 lay-up shots in 70 attempts.

Here's how they did it: They made nine straight, missed one, made ten, missed one, made six, missed one, made sixteen, missed one, made eight, missed one, and made sixteen.

CENSORED CENSORED also made a record by missing three out of the six missed shots.

Cavaliers Clip Hialeah 64-50

Hialeah's high-flying Thoroughbreds had their wings clipped last Tuesday night as the Coral Gables Cavaliers tramped past them 64 to 50 in their next to last home game of the season.

The loss was Hialeah's eleventh, against six wins. The Thoroughbreds have already passed their old record of five victories in a single season.

Hialeah jumped off to a three-point lead, with a one-sided first quarter, but the Cavaliers came back with a big 21-point scoring spree in the second to lead at halftime, 29-23.

The Thoroughbreds opened the third period with three quick baskets against one by the Cavaliers to come within two points of grabbing the lead, but Gables held their ground and led 47-34 going into the final period.

Ruffy Ashworth paced the Cavaliers with 26 points. Sil Sheffsky followed with 14 and Dennis Kline hit for 10 to give Gables their winning 64 points.

Owl Charles scored 14 for the Horses and Wayne Garrick added 12. Larry "Splinter" Wood tallied nine before falling out in the third period.

When asked what he thought of the game, Coach Roy Brawner re-

Two Tumblers Flip For Trampoline

By Mike Rankin

Roger Whittaker and Ernie Gilbert of Hialeah school are working on the trampoline. Since Hialeah doesn't have the apparatus they are using one at different youth centers.

A trampoline is an apparatus used in gymnastic meets and in training deep-sea divers. After a diver has learned to use the trampoline, he can do flips off the board into the air, back on the board, and into the water.

Roger is working out at the Miami Springs youth center under the direction of Mr. Dick Guttings, a South West High physical education and gymnastic teacher. Roger started working about the middle of summer.

Gilbert has been working out at the North West Boys Club on his own.

Hialeah has been trying to get a trampoline for three years.

Roger can both do these tricks: double back flip; front flip with a half twist; back twist with a full twist; a front flip with a one and a half twist.

pled, "No comment."

The "Little Thoroughbreds" lost by a whopping 38-point margin in the preliminary, 67-29.
